Poland Offers Parley; Roosevelt Again Asks Nazis to Accept

READY TO DEAL WITH BERLIN IN HOPE OF PEACE

Suggests President as a Conciliator.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (AP).—Government spokesmen said early today the answer to the second peace message of President Roosevelt would come from Adolf Hitler himself or his chancellery staff because of the delicacy of the present situation.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt tonight dispatched another personal appeal for peace to Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, informing him that President Ignace Mosiciki of Poland had agreed to a peaceable settlement of his country's difficulties with Germany by direct negotiations or by conciliation.

The reply of the president of Poland to Mr. Roosevelt's peace proposal, received earlier tonight, was incorporated in his latest appeal to Hitler.

"Your Excellency has repeatedly and publicly stated that the ends and objectives sought by the German reich were just and reasonable," the President told Hitler.

Save Countless Lives.

"Countless human lives can yet be saved and hope may still be restored that the nations of the modern world may even now construct a foundation for a peaceful and happier relationship if you and the government of the German reich will agree to the pacific means of settlement accepted by the government of Poland.

"All the world prays that Germany, too, will accept."

It was Mr. Roosevelt's fifth personal appeal to Hitler. The first two peace pleas were sent in September, 1938, during the Czecho-Slovakian crisis. Mr. Roosevelt proposed a conference of the powers affected, and the Munich affair, partitioning Czecho-Slovakia, followed.

The President's third appeal to Hitler was sent last April, after Germany had absorbed Czecho-Slovakia. Hitler did not answer it, except in a long speech intimating that Mr. Roosevelt should mind his own business.

No Answer from Hitler.

The fourth message to Hitler, sent yesterday, appealed for a settlement of the present crisis by direct negotiation, arbitration, or conciliation. The President had received no answer to this message when he dispatched his fifth appeal to Hitler tonight.

The Polish president's reply to President Roosevelt's appeal for a peaceful settlement of the dispute with Germany follows:

"I highly appreciate the most important and noble message which your excellency was good enough to address to me.

"I would like to emphasize that the Polish government always considered direct negotiations between governments as the most appropriate method of solving difficulties which may arise between states. We consider this method all the more fitting when adopted between neighboring countries. It was with this principle in view that Poland concluded pacts of nonaggression with Germany and the Union of Soviet Republics.

Would Accept Roosevelt.

"We consider likewise the method of conciliation through a third party as disinterested and impartial as your excellency to be a just and equitable method in the solution of controversies arising between nations.

"While naturally wishing to avoid even the semblance of availing myself of this occasion to raise the points at issue I nevertheless consider it my duty to point out that in this crisis it is not Poland who is proffering any claims or demanding concessions from any other nation.

"It is therefore only natural that Poland agrees to refrain from any positive act of hostility provided the other party also agrees to refrain from any such act direct or indirect.

"In conclusion may I express my ardent wish that your excellency's ap-

Irish Bombers Kill 5 Britons; Scores Hurt

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Britain's new and drastic emergency powers bill may be used to curb Irish Republican Army activities, which broke out again today. Five persons were killed and scores injured in a terrific explosion at Coventry, a manufacturing city of about 130,000 population in central England.

Arrow points to scene of bombing.

Broadgate, the business center, was converted into a shambles. Three big shops and hundreds of windows were shattered. Buses and street cars were wrecked. Thousands of dollars' damage was done.

Phone Lines Cleared.

An emergency call summoned all ambulances in the city. Trafic was brought to a standstill and all telephones in the general postoffice were disconnected to free the lines for urgent first aid and police calls.

At the time of the explosion, Broadgate was packed with shoppers and trafic. Just before the blast a big bomber flew over the city and many persons became panic stricken, fearing a surprise air attack.

It was reported tonight from Birmingham that three suspects, including a woman, had been arrested.

Blast in Second Town.

A blast damaged the town hall at Blackpool, west coast resort town, a few hours after the explosion at Coventry. No one was injured.

Special guards were placed over government buildings in London after Scotland Yard received reports of an I. R. A. plot for an attack on government buildings here.

MORGAN GIVES UP GROUSE LODGE AS WAR HOSPITAL

GANNOCHY, Scotland, Aug. 25 (AP).—J. Pierpont Morgan has handed over Gannochy lodge, his grouse-shooting estate here, to the British government for use as a wartime hospital. Preparations were under way today to remove furniture to make room for hospital equipment.

PEACE PACT CHATEAU IS CLOSED BY FRANCE; AIR RAIDERS FEARED

VERSAILLES, France, Aug. 25 (AP).—The great château and park of Versailles, where the treaty that ended the world war was signed, were closed today in order that steps might be taken to protect it from air raids. It was understood that the treasures of the reign of Louis XIV. would be removed to a place of safekeeping. The château is located only a short distance from one of France's large airfields.

MARSEILLES, France, Aug. 25 (AP).—The staff of the German Lufthansa company closed its office tonight here and flew back to Berlin aboard one of its own planes.

PRAGUE, Aug. 26 [Saturday] (AP).—All nurses—men and women—of greater Prague who are not members of the Czech Red Cross have received orders from the commander of the medical department of the German air defense to report immediately to their respective district commanders. Opening of schools, originally set for Sept. 1, has been postponed to Sept. 18.

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 25.—This city began today to evacuate its hospitals as the first step in a plan to move the entire civilian population to the rear should the necessity arise.

GENEVA, Aug. 25 (AP).—League of nations officials conferred today on moving the league staff and equipment to Vichy, France, in the event of war. Pay checks were issued today, instead of at the end of the month, to the 500 members of the secretariat.

ISTANBUL, Aug. 25.—The American consulate tonight advised all American citizens in Turkey to leave the country while normal transportation routes are still open.

JAP PLANE TAKES OFF ON GOOD WILL TOUR OF WORLD

TOKIO, Aug. 26 [Saturday] (AP).—The twin motored monoplane Nippon took off at 10:27 a. m. today [9:27 p. m. Friday, Chicago time] for Nome, Alaska, on the first leg of a 35,000 mile good will flight around the world. The itinerary includes Berlin.

It carried a crew of six and Takeo Ohara, chief of the aviation department of the newspaper Nichi Nichi, which is sponsoring the flight.

Ships Halted; Strand 70,000 in Crisis Zone

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25 [Special].—The state department announced tonight it was completing arrangements to bring nearly 70,000 Americans home from Europe as soon as ships are available. The announcement followed the sudden disruption of international passenger service under the threat of war.

The need of government aid was made strikingly evident by the serious lack of ships available to carry the thousands of American residents and tourists anxious to return home before hostilities begin.

British Ships Called Back.

Shipping was plunged into chaos by a series of rapid international developments. Germany ordered all its vessels to return to Nazi ports, an act regarded as gravely significant. Italy canceled all sailings between America and Europe.

Some British ships were ordered to return to England for possible use as troop transports. Vessels of other nations were headed for European ports, where it was expected they would be held pending the outcome of the crisis.

In one instance, Americans already on their way home from the danger zone found themselves being returned to Germany on a ship the Nazi government had ordered to turn about in mid-ocean. Approximately 1,700 Americans were on the liner Bremen, which was two days out of Cherbourg headed for New York when the drastic turn-about orders came. General offices of the Bremen's owners in Berlin said the ship would continue its voyage to the United States despite the general order.

Vessel Alters Schedule.

In another case, 200 Americans who had hastily booked passage homeward on the German liner Hansa were turned back tonight when the ship failed to reach Cherbourg. Passengers had put out to sea in tenders and waited an hour before company officials received a message the ship had been called back to Hamburg.

The United States liner President Roosevelt reached Le Havre this morning and then canceled its trip to Hamburg. She will leave for New York tomorrow at midnight, five days ahead of schedule, carrying as many American citizens as possible.

The United States Lines said its

FRANCE BOOSTS CHANCE OF WAR TO 5 TO 1 ODDS

Fears Hitler Closes Door to Peace.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 25.—Five chances for war to one for peace. This was the diagnosis of the situation prevailing in semi-official circles here tonight following a report to the foreign office from the French ambassador to Berlin, Robert Coulondre, on his interview with Adolf Hitler this afternoon.

The report came almost simultaneously with a speech by Premier Edouard Daladier in which he told France and its empire, by radio, that the destiny of the other peoples of Europe was at stake in the German-Polish dispute. Daladier said France wanted peace, but that "we cannot accept submission to violence. I know you are resolved to preserve the safety of the fatherland."

Ambassador Coulondre was summoned by Fuehrer Adolf Hitler along with the British, Italian, and Japanese envoys to Berlin. The news first gave rise to rumors of some last minute peace offer in response to President Roosevelt's appeal for peace last night. Instead, it appears that the Fuehrer simply closed one more door to an amicable settlement.

Says Patience at End.

According to one version given by reliable French quarters close to the foreign office, Hitler delivered one of his violent monologs to the French ambassador, declaring his patience was at an end and that if there were one more border incident with Poland the German army would march against Poland "in defense of German honor."

Regardless of the incidents, according to this version, Hitler declared that he was determined to have satisfaction of all his demands on Poland—presumably the Polish corridor and Silesia, as well as Danzig—and that he would accept no compromise nor any mediation which was not based on this premise.

Hopes for Another Munich.

It was believed here that Hitler is trying to repeat his Munich triumph and that the message delivered to the British and French ambassadors in Berlin was intended to scare Paris and London into putting pressure on the Poles to yield to the Fuehrer's demands.

This time, the French declare, they will not fall into the trap and even the most skeptical observers here so far have been unable to detect any wavering in their attitude.

Premier Daladier, who also is war minister and, under special decree powers, virtual dictator of France, was in a grim mood as he made his ten minute radio address.

Life of Poland at Stake.

"You know me well enough to know that to ward off war I shall do all that is humanly possible," Daladier said. "But why does the question of Danzig risk unleashing a European war?

"It is because, presented under the threat of force accompanied already by vaster claims, it raises the question of the liberty and life of Poland.

"There is not one of you who does not understand that if through lack of clear sightedness or through cowardice we let all those people succumb, one after the other, then, after having gone back on our word, betrayed our ideals and misunderstood our vital interests, we should be with-

ROME, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (AP).—Rome's two morning papers said the intense diplomatic activity being pursued in Europe had increased hopes that war could be averted. The articles appeared to reflect official opinion and one of the papers, Il Messaggero, hinted Premier Mussolini might take a hand in trying to settle the crisis.

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 25 (AP).—French tonight cut pontoon bridges across the Rhine between France and Germany north of this Swiss border city. The pontoons on the German side of all eight bridges from Basel, north to Strasbourg, were reported to have been pulled out by French engineers. The bridge at Hueningue, which is the largest between Basel and Strasbourg, was cut early this evening. The permanent railroad bridges, which are the only other means of communication across the Rhine, have been mined and are ready to be blown up at a moment's notice.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 25 (AP).—The Netherlands, which earlier issued a proclamation of strict neutrality both as to land and air, tonight forbade its waters to foreign warships. A royal decree also prohibits exports of cotton and linen products, metal, and war materials.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 25.—The cabinet met this afternoon after Foreign Minister Csaky had conferred with the French minister. The police decided to prohibit sympathetic demonstrations before the German and Italian legations Sunday. The press expressed the hope that Hungary would be able to remain neutral.

Poland Waits for Zero Hour; Digs Trenches

WARSAW, Aug. 25 (AP).—Volunteer workmen dug air raid trenches in Warsaw's parks and public squares tonight as the feeling grew in resolute Poland that the question of peace or war hung by the slimmest of threads.

"Poland is ready," formed the major theme of newspaper editorial comment.

Even with reservists going off to join their regiments, there was a fairly normal atmosphere. All Warsaw Catholic churches will hold special masses tomorrow for "peace and country."

Sale of Drinks Banned.

Emergency measures included a ban on the sale of alcoholic drinks. In Poznan, largest city in western Poland, it was announced the city would be blacked out continuously from now on as an air raid precaution.

Signing of the British-Polish military alliance in London, Polish circles said, was an answer to the soviet-German nonaggression pact. Observers here, attempting to analyze the effect of the new pact on the rapidly changing political history of Europe, believed it would be a decisive element in answering the question of whether or not Europe was plunged into war.

For the first time no German newspaper correspondents were at the foreign office press conference when announcement of the British-Polish alliance was made. All were understood to have returned to Germany.

Charge Terror Continues.

High Polish circles, however, reported that a terror continued in Danzig and in Polish territory along the border between Danzig and Polish Silesia, despite sharp protests made by the Polish embassy in Berlin to the German foreign office.

The Poles claim that a German band crossed the Silesian frontier near Szczyglow, fired thirty shots and threw four hand grenades at the Polish frontier guards; that two groups of Germans numbering between 50 and 100 attacked the Polish guard-house at Chwalacicein in the same manner, and that one of these groups was armed with six machine guns and fired more than 300 shots.

[Another news service yesterday reported that at Dzwonow thirty Nazis machine gunned frontier guards.]

Announcement was made of a new

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (AP).—Reports in foreign office circles today were that Sir Nevile Henderson was taking a "plan for a constructive solution" of the Polish-German issue from Hitler to British Prime Minister Chamberlain. They said Sir Nevile was expected back in Berlin before the day is over. He left here by special airplane at 8:20 a. m. today (2:20 a. m. Chicago time) and was expected in London some time after noon. High officials in the propaganda ministry would neither affirm nor deny the report of a peace plan.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 26 [Saturday].—Fuehrer Hitler last night and early today was closeted with Joachim von Ribbentrop, his foreign minister, and Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi minister of aviation, preparing an important proclamation which is expected to be delivered soon. Some observers expected that the proclamation would precipitate war with Poland.

While the Fuehrer was drafting his proclamation, reports circulated through Europe that frantic last minute efforts by statesmen had opened up a tiny chance of averting a general war.

Envoy to Fly to London.

The slight peace hope was based upon the conference Hitler had yesterday with Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin. Henderson was closeted with the Fuehrer for more than an hour. After the conference it was announced that he would fly to London tomorrow, where he will present the results of the meeting to the British government.

[A London dispatch said Sir Nevile Henderson is flying from Berlin to London today with an offer of Hitler to accept one of President Roosevelt's conciliation proposals, provided Britain promises to support Germany's minimum demands against Poland. These demands are believed to include the surrender of Danzig and permission to build an extraterritorial road across the Polish corridor.]

While great secrecy was maintained concerning the Henderson-Hitler meeting, unofficial sources indicated that some loophole had been found to avert war—at the expense of Poland.

Compel Poland to Accept.

Just what the Poles would be expected to surrender under the compromise was not stated, but it was considered certain that it would include at least Danzig and the Polish corridor. Hitler was said to have reduced his demands somewhat. The British, in coöperation with Italy and Russia, would be expected to compel acceptance of the terms by Poland.

[A dispatch from Basel, Switzerland, last night said one reason why Hitler may be backing away from war at the last minute is a threat by Italy to refuse to fight. According to Swiss diplomats, a secret clause in the Italo-German pact provides that Germany shall not make war for three years. Italy, it was stated, was standing pat on this clause.]

Admittedly, however, this ray of hope was slight. The great activity at Hitler's palace, coupled with knowledge that he was preparing to address the nation, was considered a very grave omen. For the first time in the current crisis German officials were beginning to believe that war really was imminent.

Cancel Tannenberg Fête.

Twenty-four hours ago many Nazi officials were offering high bets that England would find a way out of the dilemma. Today none of these bets were being offered and those who were loudest in their assertions that England would back down have become silent. The Germans were highly impressed, it was stated, by news that England had signed a mutual assistance treaty with Poland in London yesterday.

Hitler proclamation is intended to take the place of the speech he was to have delivered at Tannenberg on Sunday in commemoration of the war victory over Russia. This celebration was canceled last night. It also was reported that the Nazi party caucus at Nuremberg, scheduled to open on Sept. 2, has been canceled, or at least postponed for two or three weeks.

Ships Ordered to Return.

Along with the cancelation of the Tannenberg celebration, it was announced that all German commercial vessels had been ordered to remain in German harbors or, if abroad, to return to Germany at once. All German commercial aviation was ordered suspended.

For seven and one-half hours last night and early today the Nazi authorities cut Germany off from most of the world by closing down nearly all telephone, telegraph, and cable communication. The reason was not clear. One explanation was that all lines were needed for military and state calls.

Throughout the day the Nazi press whipped the population into a frenzy of anger against the Poles. Newspapers issued extras telling of an attack by Polish anti-aircraft guns upon the plane of Wilhelm Stuckart, secretary of state in the interior ministry. The attack was said to have occurred as the plane was flying over the Baltic on the way to Berlin from Danzig.

Conscripts were being called up by telegram. Stations were filled with young men in civilian clothes rushing to their posts, but women are not allowed to say good-by to them at the stations.

Report Poles on Move.

Newspapers played up the arrival of large numbers of Polish reënforcements one mile from the border of Danzig. No doubt was left in German minds by these stories that Danzig is endangered by the Poles and it is time for the reich to act.

Full details of the alleged shooting of seven Germans and one Czech by Polish insurrectionists in South Poland were also printed.

Hitler's own bodyguard—picked storm troopers—left Berlin early this morning in special field uniforms. They were a grim-faced body of men as they filed aboard a train. Presumably they were headed for the Polish front.

Inhabitants of the suburb of Lichterfelde claim that at 3:30 o'clock this morning Hitler visited the barracks of his bodyguard. They assert he arrived in uniform, wearing a steel helmet, and bade farewell to his own troops, telling them he would meet them again on the battlefield. They are the pride of his heart—every man over 6 feet 1 inch tall and picked for his splendid physique.

Crowds at Chancellery.

Yesterday was a memorable day for Berlin. Down at the Wilhelmplats, the square opposite the window where the Fuehrer on occasion shows himself to the people, a vast crowd swayed back and forth, watching the arrivals and departures of notables.

The bodyguards with their black uniforms trimmed with white leather presented arms as the French ambassador, a very worried man, walked up the steps into the new reception hall. In the background you could see officers of all branches of service flitting by on the rich red carpet on the stairs and terrace behind the tall light yellow columns.

The English and Japanese ambassadors had passed through earlier, and the Italian ambassador was to appear later. Suddenly the crowd darted away from the chancellery toward the propaganda ministry. A powerful, shiny, black automobile had driven up the ramp leading to the main entrance.

Goebbels Salutes Throng.

A tall Gestapo man jumped out and a few minutes later the propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, emerged from the building. For a few seconds he stood erect, waving his right hand in acknowledgment of the shouts of "Heil" from the crowd and the greetings extended to him with outstretched arms from the throng.

After the car whisked Goebbels away the crowd turned back to the chancellery, staring at it as if mesmerized. Just around the corner, on the side of the building that extends along the Folkestrasse, a huge truck of the air force was drawn up.

Air force youths in blue-gray uniforms were unloading straw mattresses and carrying them into the building—presumably up to the bomb-proof roof. There were two stalwart storm troopers at the door. They stood as guards, rifles on shoulders, unmoving. A little further down were two army men on sentry duty and still further down two Schultzstaffel men guarded other entrances.

All English and French newspaper correspondents had left Berlin last night. Those remaining are Americans, Scandinavians, Swiss, Dutch, a few Irish, and one East Indian.

Danzig Hails Nazi Warship.

DANZIG, Aug. 25 (AP).—Thousands of cheering Danzigers welcomed a German cruiser into the harbor today while military preparations were increased almost to a warlike scale.

The formal visit of the 13,000 ton cruiser, the Schleswig-Holstein, had been planned for several weeks.

The occasion provided the first salute for Albert Forster as head of the Free City government. His elevation to chief of state by the senate yesterday brought a protest from Poland today.

The official Nazi newspaper, Danziger Vorposten, reported that Polish guns were trained on the German border. Many observers saw in the press campaign the foundation for an appeal to Hitler for help.

Poland Protests Arrests.

Poland also protested against what it described as an attack on Polish management of the Free City railroads through the arrest of a number of railroad men.

Semi-official Nazi sources said two Polish soldiers were shot and killed near the Polish-Danzig border. The German version was that they crossed the frontier and were shot by Danzig guards.

The Danzig military machine made such heavy demands on gasoline supplies it was almost impossible for private drivers to fill their tanks.

MUSSOLINI CALLS HALF A MILLION MORE TO COLORS

Hoards Italy's Gas; Press Assails Roosevelt.

BULLETIN.

ROME, Aug. 26 [Saturday] (AP).—A double exchange of telephonic communication between Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini was disclosed officially today. German Ambassador Von Mackensen delivered the first message, which Hitler had telephoned, at 3 p. m. yesterday. Mussolini replied immediately, the reply being delivered to Hitler at 6 o'clock last night. At 9 o'clock last night a second message from Hitler was delivered to Mussolini. Nothing was divulged as to the nature of the messages, but foreign circles believed Hitler advised Mussolini of his latest intentions and that Il Duce replied with his decision.

ROME, Aug. 25 (AP).—Premier Mussolini called up approximately half a million more men today to put his fighting forces on a war footing.

The government also issued a decree designed to conserve gasoline for war uses. The price was increased about 40 per cent to about 95 cents a gallon. A new tax was put on coffee and coffee substitutes. This raised the price of coffee from about 85 cents a pound to more than $1, and is expected to conserve the supply for the army.

Il Duce's call for troops was estimated unofficially to give Italy a fighting force of about 1,700,000: navy, 60,000; air force, 40,000; militia, 35,000, and six classes of army troops numbering 1,500,000 to 1,600,000.

However, if the two classes of 1901 and 1912 which were to have been demobilized this month should be kept under arms, the service total would be almost 2,000,000. Large numbers of these classes were understood to have been kept in service pending replacement by the classes of 1902 and 1910, which were called Aug. 21.

The navy and air force have been at full strength for five days.

Militia Proven by Test.

Participation of militiamen in the recent summer maneuvers in northern Italy near the French frontier indicated that Mussolini wants them to fight if war breaks out. He has used them in Africa and Spain and apparently considers them reliable.

Now under call to the colors are the six classes born in 1902, 1903, 1910, 1913, 1917, and 1918. The classes of 1903 and 1913 were summoned today to report by Sept. 3.

This was seen as an indication that Mussolini did not expect war to break out this week-end.

Mussolini today granted his usual audiences. He received the German finance minister, Schwerin von Krosigh, who has been visiting Rome.

Il Duce withheld any formal sign of his reaction to President Roosevelt's suggestion for a peace proposal, which King Victor Emmanuel referred to the premier from his fishing camp near the French frontier.

Press Assails Roosevelt.

Newspapers unanimously praised the peace plea of Pope Pius, but rejected that of President Roosevelt. Virginio Gayda, editor of the authoritative Il Giornale d'Italia, said Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Chamberlain were trying to throw the blame for Europe's plight on Germany. The press took particular exception to Roosevelt for speaking in the name of the American people and to Chamberlain's attempt "to interpret the desire of all humanity."

Both Italian and French circles professed to know nothing of a reported trip to Rome by Pierre Laval, former French premier, who negotiated the 1935 settlement of French-Italian problems which was scrapped by Mussolini last fall.

The French in Rome indicated they were scarcely in a mood to make a deal with Italy. They said, however, that the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, may have suggested to French Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet that Paris persuade Poland to accede to Germany's demands. But if he did, they insisted, the ambassador rejected the idea.

MINUTE MEN GET FIRST CALL FOR SWISS SERVICE

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 25.—A number of units of the Swiss arme de couverture, the force of minute men charged with defending the frontier, were called today for service. Others were cautioned to hold themselves in readiness.

The federal council met today, considered defense measures that will be adopted if war breaks out, and issued an appeal to the nation calmly to face the threat of war.

Fear that hostilities may start tomorrow and cause a banking moratorium led the league of nations to pay its officials today instead of at the month-end.

CANADA CANCELS LEAVES OF ALL MILITARY UNITS

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 25 (AP).—Defense Minister Ian Mackenzie announced today that leaves to all members of the Canadian permanent forces have been canceled. The headquarters staff is working at high speed to be in readiness should Canada be involved in war.

Action in Europe's War Crisis

Maneuvers and incidents on the German-Polish border, and the cutting of bridges on the German-French border were major events in the war crisis news yesterday. Arrows mark points of possible German attack on Poland. Negotiation over a Rumanian-Hungarian treaty engaged attention in the Balkans.

GERMAN VESSEL SEIZED IN CANADA ON THEFT CHARGE

QUEBEC, Aug. 25 [Special].—Royal Canadian mounted police officers halted the German freighter Koenigsberg tonight as she steamed past this port on her way down the St. Lawrence, boarded her, and confronted the captain with a warant of seizure on a charge of theft. The vessel then was brought into Quebec and the captain ordered to post a $12,000 bond before the ship would be permitted to resume its voyage.

The vessel sailed from Sorel, 100 miles up the river, this afternoon, the captain refusing to obey orders of a revenue department official to remain in port. The captain cut the ship's mooring lines and steamed out of the harbor without warning.

The warant was issued after the ship, owned by the North German Lloyd, received instructions from the home office yesterday to return to Germany. She has 400 tons of cargo aboard, mostly zinc oxide, consigned to Montreal. The request for arrest was made on behalf of the consignees.

The Koenigsberg had received clearance papers from Sorel but these were revoked later.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY WARNS GERMANS WAR IS NEAR; ASKS PEACE

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP).—The British Labor party tonight sent a message "to the German people," saying:

"War is very near. You must clearly understand that if war comes Britain and France both stand firmly by their pledges to Poland.

"Your government does not tell you the truth. British labor, which is the friend of the German people, will tell you the truth.

"There need be no war. Provided that the threat of force is renounced, there can be just and peaceful settlement of all international disputes."

DUTCH CONFIDENT IN DEFENSE; MINE ROADS, BRIDGES

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 25.—The Netherlands today viewed the threatening international situation with calm determination, confident that their defense positions are adequate. Frontier defenses have been at full strength for months.

All roads and bridges are mined, and by exploding dykes large areas can be flooded in a few hours. The population is convinced these precautionary measures are sufficient to hold a possible invader at bay pending mobilization.

'Family Illness' Summons Germans from Switzerland

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, Aug. 25.—Some mysterious malady seems to have stricken most of the fathers, mothers, grandparents, aunts, and uncles in Germany, to judge from the number of letters urging the immediate return home received in the last forty-eight hours by German residents of Switzerland. Large numbers of French nationals have been called home for military service or because of the gravity of the situation, but almost in every case the Germans have been called because of family illness.

AMERICAN UNIT FORMED TO FIGHT IN FRENCH ARMY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 25.—Formation of an American volunteer brigade to fight in the French army if war comes was announced here tonight by Col. Charles Sweeney and Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, who commanded the 83d infantry brigade of the A. E. F. during the world war.

Col. Sweeney will command the new brigade. He was one of the organizers of the American volunteer units in the French army in 1914. After America entered the war he switched to the A. E. F. and finished the war as chief of operations of an American army corps. In 1925 he organized and commanded an American air squadron in the Riff war.

The new American brigade will include an air brigade to be called the Norman Prince brigade after the founder of the famous Lafayette escadrille. According to Col. Sweeney and Brig. Gen. Reilly, several veterans of the Lafayette escadrille have agreed to serve in the new formation.

BRITAIN, FRANCE BREAK ALLIANCE TALKS WITH REDS

Military Missions Leave Moscow for Home.

Commissar Voroshilov.

The missions will travel homeward via Finland to avoid German territory.

Call on Defense Chief.

Soviet Russia rushed preparations, meanwhile, to give formal ratification to its surprise pact with Germany.

An extraordinary session of the supreme council or parliament of 1,143 members was called for Monday to ratify the ten year peace pact with the reich and to hear Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotov explain, in the presence of Dictator Stalin, Russia's new policy, which is as startling to most Russians as it is to foreigners.

Peace Effort Reported.

Rumors in foreign quarters that Molotov might fly to Berlin for an exchange of ratified treaties were discounted in sources close to the government.

A Berlin report that the soviet ambassador in Warsaw was making an effort to bring Germany and Poland to peaceful solution of the Danzig question impressed diplomatic circles, however. Soviet government circles, while refusing to confirm or deny the report, said: "Any effort for peace at this time is a good thing."

Arrival of an unspecified number of soviet warships at Vladivostok to bolster the Pacific fleet was reported by the newspaper Pravda. The warships made a 15,000 mile voyage from Kronstadt, in the Gulf of Finland, via the Panama canal.

(Eleven soviet Russian ships, four mine layers, three freighters, three tugs and a dredge, passed through the Panama canal on July 17.)

CHILE CRUSHES ARMY REVOLT; VOLUNTEERS AID

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 25 (AP).—Chile's Popular Front government, backed by thousands of volunteer workers, today quickly put down an insurrection in the army.

With quiet restored and the leaders of the revolution arrested or dispersed, President Pedro Aguirre Cerda decreed a nation-wide state of siege—the equivalent of martial law—for one month.

It probably was the quietest revolution in Chile's history. It was impossible to find any one who heard any shots fired, although there was said to have been shooting this morning on Santiago's outskirts. No casualties were reported. The movement was said to have originated in the Tacna artillery regiment and to have spread to two others. It failed, however, when most soldiers in the three revolting regiments refused to join.

JAPAN'S CABINET DECIDES TO SEVER TIES WITH BERLIN

'Splendid Isolation' Policy Will Be Adopted.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—A drastic change in Japanese foreign policy as a result of the signing of the Russian-German nonaggression pact was decided upon today at a meeting of the cabinet.

Japan decided to cast itself free from the ties which bound it to the Rome-Berlin lineup and embark on a course described as "splendid isolation."

First approved by the cabinet's five leaders—Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma, the premier, and the ministers of foreign affairs, finance, war, and navy—the decision to start all over with a clean slate was approved later by the entire cabinet.

Internal Shakeup Forecast.

It was predicted that the government probably next week will realign its internal structure, but there was no inkling of probable developments.

It was also said that the government had abandoned consideration of measures to strengthen the anti-comintern pact, which had allied Japan with Rome, Berlin, and Hungary, and that the cabinet had decided to protest to Berlin against the Russian-German nonaggression pact.

The nation's newspapers were virtually agreed that the anti-comintern pact is dead as a result of the Russo-German pact. They called the government's change in attitude inevitable.

Border War a Factor.

Russia long has been considered Japan's enemy. Relations have been strained since 1931, when Japan began her conquest of Manchukuo. Warfare along the border of Manchukuo and Outer Mongolia, which is under the soviets' protection, has been reported intermittently, with serious outbreaks occurring in the last two months. This situation is reported to have been a factor in Japan's decision.

It was said by a high official that the government should pursue an independent foreign policy based on "morality irrespective of the international situation."

Japan is unlikely to undertake new foreign commitments, say observers, until its new program has been worked out. They believe today's decision did not mean that Japan is to isolate itself permanently and that it is too early to forecast the effect on relations with America.

ENGLAND SIGNS WAR ALLIANCE WITH POLAND

Treaty Pledges 2 Nations to Mutual Aid.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Armed with virtually unlimited dictatorial powers voted by parliament, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government today continued to oil up the British war machine. The first significant act of the new regime was to sign a treaty giving formal effect to British pledges of aid to Poland. The treaty will run five years.

The treaty of mutual assistance, arising from promises Chamberlain made last spring, was signed late this afternoon at the foreign office by Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, for Great Britain, and Count Edward Raczynski, Polish ambassador to London. Polish circles in London tonight were jubilant.

Consists of Eight Articles.

The treaty, signed with somewhat of a list minute rush and presumably for further effect on Adolf Hitler, consists of eight articles laying down the circumstances in which the two parties are to come to each other's assistance.

Shortly after the Anglo-Polish agreement was signed Joseph P. Kennedy, the American ambassador, called at the foreign office and had a talk with Viscount Halifax. At 11 p. m. Kennedy called at 10 Downing street for a talk with Chamberlain. This visit was regarded as significant because of the late hour.

If Kennedy's calls concerned President Roosevelt's frantic intervention in Europe's warlike medley, he would say nothing about it for publication. British hopes that somehow or other a peaceful issue may be found were raised by Mr. Roosevelt's message, and some diplomats here believe his move was aimed to help extricate Chamberlain from difficult commitments toward the Poles.

On the other hand, there was another diplomatic belief tonight that the French and British are itching to go to war in the belief that the chances of success against Hitler are better now than they will be later on and that hostilities will start as soon as they have been able to put a good moral façade on their intentions.

Roosevelt's Move Welcomed.

British political circles said that President Roosevelt's repeated moves were "cordially welcomed" and they insisted here that they did not know about them beforehand.

There is reason to believe tonight that Washington, at the same time, is advising extreme caution not only to Hitler and the Poles but also to the British about going to war and about its consequences, and that the American state department is revising its opinions about Hitler's astuteness following the signing of the German-soviet Russian mutual assistance pact.

Washington at the same time is believed to be willing to lend aid to Chamberlain, who is caught between his public opinion, which insists upon his keeping the pledge to Poland, and the German wall, which now is harder to breach after the new European political lineup.

Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, will fly to London tomorrow to report to Lord Halifax on his talk today with Hitler. Some sources believed Henderson would bring proposals from Hitler for a peaceful settlement.

British Currency Cracks.

As American tourists continued to rush home today another gauge of the situation was given by the sudden crack of the pound sterling. From the figure of $4.68 to the pound, which has been the stabilization point for the last year, the pound slipped down to $4.38 this afternoon and in later trading it hit $4.30. It is expected that the drop may go as low as $3.50 next week.

British say the support of the stabilization fund has been removed, the step being taken to conserve the nation's gold resources. Drastic foreign exchange regulations are likely to follow under Chamberlain's new emergency powers.

Americans climbed up gang planks for home today, curiously with bad grace and not much scared.

"This is all ridiculous, ordering us home," said an American at a travel agency.

Kennedy Prepares for War.

Ambassador Kennedy himself was presumably taking no chances. He was reported to have arranged for emergency American embassy quarters in a large country house near Epsom.

The German embassy disclosed that all Germans living in Great Britain had been advised to leave the country at once. Embassy officials said all German journalists in London had been recalled.

The British canceled more sailings and cruises today and all advertised departures for tours on the continent were cancelled until further notice. British residents in Paris and other continental centers swarmed home.

Chamberlain this morning conferred with Viscount Halifax and Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent head of the foreign office. Later Chamberlain summoned a meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the cabinet which met for more than an hour.

This afternoon the imperial defense committee met in the cabinet offices and later Chamberlain went to Buckingham palace for a 45 minute interview with King George VI., who afterward held a meeting of the privy council.

Charles Corbin, French ambassador to London, also was in contact with Viscount Halifax at the foreign office today.

Text of British-Polish Pact Bares Extent of War Pledge

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Here is the text of the treaty signed by Great Britain and Poland today:

"ARTICLE 1. Should one of the contracting parties become engaged in hostilities with a European power in consequence of aggression by the latter against that contracting party, the other contracting party will at once give the contracting party engaged in hostilities all the support and assistance in its power.

"ARTICLE 2. [1] The provision of Article 1 will also apply in the event of any action by a European power which clearly threatened directly or indirectly the independence of one of the contracting parties and was of such a nature that the party in question considered it vital to resist it with its armed forces.

"[2] Should one of the contracting parties become engaged in hostilities with a European power in consequence of action by that power which threatened the independence or neutrality of another European state in such a way as to constitute a clear menace to the security of that contracting party, the provisions of Article 1 will apply, without prejudice, however, to the rights of the other European state concerned.

Bars Economic Penetration.

"ARTICLE 3. Should a European power attempt to undermine the independence of one of the contracting parties by processes of economic penetration, or in any other way, the contracting parties will support each other in resistance to such attempts. Should the European power concerned thereupon embark on hostilities against either of the contracting parties, the provisions of Article 1 will apply.

"ARTICLE 4. The methods of applying the undertakings of mutual assistance provided for by the present agreement are established between the competent naval, military, and air authorities of the contracting parties.

"ARTICLE 5. Without prejudice to the foregoing undertakings of the contracting parties to give each other mutual support and assistance immediately on the outbreak of hostilities, they will exchange complete and speedy information concerning any development which might threaten their independence and, in particular, concerning any development which might threaten to call the said undertakings into operation.

"ARTICLE 6. [1] The contracting parties will communicate to each other the terms of any undertakings of assistance against aggression which they have already given or may in future give to other states.

Peace Pact Must Be Mutual.

"[2] Should either of the contracting parties intend to give such an undertaking after the coming into force of the present agreement, the other contracting party shall, in order to ensure the proper functioning of the agreement, be informed thereof.

"[3] Any new undertaking which the contracting parties may enter into in future shall neither limit their obligations under the present agreement nor indirectly create new obligations between the contracting party nor participating in these undertakings and the third state concerned.

"ARTICLE 7. Should the contracting parties be engaged in hostilities in consequences of the application of the present agreement, they will not conclude an armistice or treaty of peace except by mutual agreement.

"ARTICLE 8. [1] The agreement shall remain in force for a period of five years.

"2] Unless denounced six months before the expiration of this period it shall continue in force, each contracting party having thereafter the right to denounce it at any time by giving six months' notice to that effect.

"[3] The agreement shall come into force on signature."

Beauty Winner

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MISS ETHEL LOBDELL.

Miss Ethel Lobdell, 21 years old, a blue eyed blonde model, last night was chosen winner of the Miss Greater Chicago contest. She will compete with contestants from other states for the title of Miss America at the Atlantic City beauty pageant next month.

The contest was held in the Hotel Sherman under the sponsorship of the hotel and the Chicago Park district. Forty survivors of preliminary contests were in the finals.

Miss Lobdell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lobdell of 5546 School street. Her measurements are: Hegihts, 5 feet 6 inches; weight, 124 pounds; bust, 34 inches; waist, 26 inches, and hips, 36 inches. Second place went to Miss Dorothe Lester, 21, of 2828 Pine Grove avenue, a brunette. Miss Olive Swasey, 19, of 4518 Clarendon avenue, a hazel eyed blonde, won third honors.

SPAIN, AT PEACE, PURSUES JOB OF CONSOLIDATION

Abolishes Wartime Army Headquarters.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Aug. 25.—While the rest of Eurpe was hastily calling men to arms, Spain today quietly continued the consolidation of its own forces.

It was announced that the wartime army headquarters was dissolved and that its functions would be be taken over by the newly formed army ministry under Gen. José Varela, wartime chief of the Castillian army corps.

Instead of the "generalissimo's headquarters," which formerly directed the work of various staff organizations, all now will depend directly on the army ministry and through it on the national defense committee headed by Gen. Francisco Franco.

Think Hitler to Win.

The Spanish do not subscribe to the view that war is inevitable. They insist that the British and French will back down and Adolf Hitler of Germany once more will get exactly what he has demanded and perhaps more.

The Spanish still favor neutrality as they did last September. It probably would take an actual attack to make them jump into a world war on either side.

The recent defense reorganization strengthened Mediterranean defenses and the whole southern section. The Spaniards, therefore, feel that nobody can invade their territory.

Ready on the Defensive.

The strengthening of defenses along the southern coast and the coast of Spanish Morocco means that the Spanish are in a good position to defend themselves if that becomes necessary.

Newspapers have been calling attention to Poland's alleged provocations in Danzig and giving much attention to Albert Forster's proclamation of a Nazified Danzig, but they do not applaud as vigorously as in the recent past.

LONDON ERECTS BOMB SHELTERS IN PALACE YARD

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP).—Dull gray, bell-shaped air raid shelters squatted in the courtyard of Buckingham palace today as London prepared for war from the skies and its attendant terrors.

The shelters, massive steel structures, which look like shells for some gargantuan cannon, will be used, if necessary, by the palace staff. There are also other more elaborate shelters on the palace grounds for use of the royal family.

The shelters, like thousands of others sprouting over the map of England, are about ten feet high, made of steel from two to three inches thick, and set solidly on cement blocks.

BRITAIN ORDERS ITALIAN CITIZENS FROM GIBRALTAR

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 25.—British authorities today ordered all Italians except the consul and the consulate personnel to quit Gibraltar. The regular call of the liner Conte di Savoia from Naples en route to New York was canceled.

A large concentration of Spanish troops, completely equipped, is reported to be in the vicinity of San Roque, near Algeciras, where a number of Spanish generals, including José Davila, commanding the Andalucian district, already has arrived.

11 AMERICANS SEIZED IN WAR FREED BY SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 25.—Eleven Americans captured by Spanish Nationalists in Spain's civil war were freed today and sent to France in custody of Woodruff Wallner of the American embassy in Paris. Clothed and fed, the eleven former soldiers will be taken at once to Le Havre to board a ship for home.

Harold Dahl, a Champaign, Ill., flyer, remains a prisoner in Salamanca, one of thirty-four Americans still held by Spain, but his release soon is expected.

The men freed today had been in Ondarretta prison in San Sebastian. They gave names and addresses as follows: William Stone, Chicago; Robert Steck, Rock Island, Ill.; Samuel Toobe, Muncie, Ind.; Bernardo Alvarez Gonzales, Tampa, Fla.; Jack Steinburg, Philadelphia; Alwyn Stevenson, Bridgeport, Conn.; Leon Tonor, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Morris Tobman; Davis Wallach, New York; Joseph Young, Bellefonte, Pa., and Albert Ziegler, New York.

CROATS ASSURED OF JUGO-SLAV CABINET POSTS

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Aug. 25 (AP).—Croatia's twenty year fight for a voice in the national government of Jugo-Slavia was crowned with triumph tonight as Premier Dragisha Cvetkovich began reorganizing his cabinet to include Croat ministers.

The premier hurried to Belgrade after his settlement with Croat Leader Vladko Macek was approved by the regency council and informed governmental circles of the new composition of his administration. He returned to Bled later to consult again with Regent Prince Paul.

Before Croatian home rule aims are realized, many far-reaching changes must be put into effect, but it was expected they would be worked out in a new spirit of harmony.

Germans Living Abroad Open Convention at Graz

GRAZ, Germany, Aug. 25.—The seventh annual meeting of Germans living abroad was opened here tonight. More than 3,000 Germans from over the world, some from the United States, were present. Rudolf Hess, Nazi deputy leader, in a speech before the convention attempted to put blame for the war crisis on England.

FRANCE BOOSTS CHANCE OF WAR TO 5 TO 1 LEVEL

Hitler Lecture to Envoy Cuts Hope of Peace.

out honor, without support, without friends, when this undertaking of domination of Europe would turn brusquely against our fatherland."

While undercover diplomatic activity continued today more feverishly than ever, there was no sign that France and England were trying to persuade Premier Mussolini of Italy to accept the rôle of mediator in the Polish crisis as they did last year in the Czech crisis.

Work on Spanish and Japs.

Rather, they seemed to be trying to exploit the resentment of the Spaniards and Japanese and the uneasiness of the Italians over the soviet-German entente so as to eliminate the menace in the orient and on the Pyrenees and Alpine frontiers.

So far as Italy is concerned considerable hopes of Italian neutrality are entertained here, but it is felt that the best way to break the Rome-Berlin axis is simply to leave the Italians pretty much alone and wait for them to decide where their own long term interest lies.

An apparently well grounded report that President Roosevelt's appeal to the king of Italy to use his influence in favor of peace was launched only after prior consultations with the government at Rome provided political circles here with a slim but welcome hope that behind the scenes negotiations may yet save Europe from disaster.

Tell of King's Consent.

King Victor Emmanuel, according to the story current here, indicated that he was willing to use all his influence to bring about a peaceful settlement. It was after the king gave this assurance that Mr. Roosevelt addressed him publicly, it was said.

One of the most striking aspects of the present crisis is the way in which the Italian controled press has been carefully grooming Rome for the mediatory rôle which it fulfilled during the Munich crisis.

French observers have little faith in another report current here that Hitler is having Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, go back to London to lay a plan for a five power conference before Prime Minister Chamberlain. The French attitude toward this is that Hitler would be interested in such a conference only to get all that he wants.

MURPHY ORDERS HOOVER TO HUNT FOR ALIEN SPIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25 [Special].—Attorney General Frank Murphy announced today that the justice department has established counter-espionage offices in the Panama canal zone, Porto Rico, and Alaska, and probably will open a fourth bureau soon in the Philippine Islands.

"These are necessary precautions," Murphy said as he made the announcement when leaving a cabinet meeting at the White House. He said that J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, had been placed in charge of the new counter-espionage activities.

In reply to questions, the attorney general declined to link establishment of the new activity to the present international crisis.

OIL WELL BLAZE DEFIES EFFORTS OF FIRE EXPERTS

Vandalia, Ill., Aug. 25 [Special].—An oil well fire on the George Tucker farm, eight miles north of St. Elmo, continued to rage uncontroled today. A plane is bringing a crew of expert oil well fire fighters here from Houston, Tex.

Two experts from Tulsa, Okla., Glenn Dunnan and Frank Hengst, who arrived by plane yesterday, were overcome by heat from the fire last night and the fight was delayed until the arrival of the Texas crew.

The flames, shooting 100 feet in the air, were visible for miles. The well belongs to the Rudco Oil company.

2 ROBBERS SLUG GUARD AND FLEE WITH $30,000 GEMS

Paul De Vries, head of a New York jewelry concern, was robbed of between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of unset diamonds yesterday by two thugs in St. Louis avenue near Polk street. The robbers slugged and disarmed John Parker, 1226 Gunnison street, a private detective accompanying De Vries, and fled in a car driven by a third man. De Vries told police that the bandits approached from the rear while he and Parker were walking to an elevated station from a store where De Vries had displayed his stock.

JEERING THRONG BREAKS UP REDS' RALLY IN TEXAS

Hurl Rocks Into Hall; Police Rout Crowd.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 25 (AP).—A yelling, jeering crowd of thousands broke up a meeting of communists tonight, then was dispersed by a storm of tear gas and water from fire hoses manned by police and firemen.

The more than 100 persons who crowded a small room in the Municipal auditorium, under the pledged protection of Mayor Maury Maverick, former congressman, fled through rear doors before volleys of rocks and the roars of the throng which repeatedly charged police.

Several persons were injured, including spectators, policemen, and firemen. George Bartholomew, a newspaper photographer, was taken to a hospital. Others were carried into the auditorium for first aid treatment.

Crowd Gathers Outside.

As the small group gathered the crowd outside grew until police estimated it at 5,000.

Some one struck up the state's unofficial anthem, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," others joined and cheers and yells followed the singing. The "Star Spangled Banner" was the next song; then came "America" and "Dixie."

Shouts of "let's go in" and "pull them out" came from the demonstrators. There was a surge toward the doors, guarded by a dozen policemen. Police discharged tear gas and the crowd gave way.

Inside the meeting room the crowd was tense as Miss Elizabeth Benson, chairman, began to speak. Outside the booing and yelling increased.

Acting on a suggestion the audience stood up and tried to sing what Miss Benson said later was the "Star Spangled Banner."

Hurl Rocks Into Windows.

The roar of a pumper fire engine in the basement added to the noise. As powerful streams of water hit the crowd outside rocks began crashing through glass windows in the meeting room. The gathering, which included many women, jumped up and began dodging the rocks, crowding into corners and against walls.

"Get out you red dogs!" the crowd outside shouted, hurling stones and starting to climb into the windows.

The crowd then began to chant: "We want Maverick! We want Maverick!"

The demonstrators finally were dispersed by police and firemen.

While denouncing communism, Maverick, who did not attend the meeting, had declared he would use all powers at his command to guarantee freedom of speech and public assembly to any group of citizens. He had placed more than 200 police in the vicinity of the auditorium.

Brazil Orders Close Watch of Its Foreign Population

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 25 (AP).—Brazil took steps to safeguard the nation from foreign influences today. President Getulio Vargas authorized the council of immigration and colonization to exercise a close watch on zones having large numbers of foreigners, and to make secret inspections if necessary. Foreigners are to be prevented from directing any except parochial schools.

series of arrests of Polish officials, allegedly made by German inspired Danzig police, and the replacement of Polish employés in the port of Danzig offices. The reported aggravations in Danzig included:

1. The head of the Danzig pilot office was arrested and released and permitted to resume his duties only after delivery of a strong protest by the Polish commissioner.

2. Polish members of the Danzig port police [half of the total] were disarmed and discharged.

3. Polish girl telephone operators [half of the total employed by the Danzig port authorities] were discharged and replaced by German girls.

Rail Station Seized.

4. The railway station of Troyl and Kaiserhafen in the Danzig port area, under League of Nations administration, was seized by Danzig police.

5. Danzig police occupied the railway station of Hohenstein in Danzig territory but under Polish administration.

German airplanes were reported to be flying over Gdynia several times each day. Yesterday and today the Polish coastal artillery batteries were reported to have shot down two German airplanes. Both fell in the sea.

Polish merchant ships today were ordered to remain in western European ports and make no attempt to enter Gdynia through the North sea.

Print Paper Money.

Because of the hoarding of silver coins, it was announced, the government will print paper money in denominations of 2, 5, and 10 zlotys. [The zloty is worth about 19 cents.]

German reports that soviet Russia, through Nicholas Sharanoff, her ambassador here, was attempting to persuade Poland to yield in her attitude were sharply denied in official circles.

Several Warsaw newspapers published reports indicating Poland had sent a note to Nazi authorities of Danzig listing four basic Polish rights which this country will not permit to be violated.

Declares Against Union.

Obviously inspired newspaper articles declared Poland would not permit:

1. Any attempt at union between Germany and Danzig.

2. Placing of Danzig outside the Polish customs frontier.

3. Submission of Polish rights in Danzig to the control of a third power.

4. Any move to deprive Poland of the right to national development.

HEAR TESTIMONY OF 2 CONVICTS IN BRIDGES' DEFENSE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 25 [Special.]—Closing its seventh week the Harry Bridges hearing moved up the bay from Angel Island to San Quentin penitentiary today, where two of the prison's 3,000 convicts testified in defense of the Australian born west coast C. I. O. director whom the government seeks to deport as a communist and undesirable alien.

The convicts—Ernest Ramsey and Earl King, serving five year to life sentences for second degree murder in the slaying of a ship engineer—were called to support the defense contention that Stanley M. [Larry] Doyle, former Oregon special agent, had offered "improper inducements" for statements that Bridges was a member of the communist party.

Ramsey corroborated testimony given yesterday by his wife that Doyle offered to get him out of prison if he would sign an affidavit swearing he had seen Bridges at communist party meetings. King told a similar story. His brother, a Vancouver, B. C., attorney, testified previously that he had been asked to urge the San Quentin prisoner to make an affidavit.

WILL POLES GO BACK TO FIGHT? THEY DISAGREE

Some Leaders Say No, We're Americans.

Leaders of Polish-American organizations in Chicago yesterday expressed varying opinions when asked if many Chicagoans of Polish descent would return to fight for Poland in a war against Germany.

Casimir Frenzel, head of the Polish Army Veterans' association, believes that thousands of Poles would fight for their homeland if given permission by the American government.

Others Hold Opposite View.

Joseph Liszka, president of the Polish-American Business Men's association, and Teofil Sawicki, president of the second district of the Polish-Falcons alliance, hold opposite beliefs. Liszka said he thought that no more than one of every thousand Poles would return to fight. Sawicki said he thought members of his organization regarded themselves as Americans first of all and would remain here.

Frenzel said there were 5,000 veterans of the Polish army living in the Chicago area and that many of them would fight for Poland.

"Many of them are American citizens," he said, "but they love democracy and will fight to aid it. I think Poland should and will fight to bring peace forever.

Make List of Recruits.

"I have heard lots of men talking. Lots have asked me where they can enlist and how they can get across. There is a self made committee of former Polish officers here making lists of possible recruits in case permission is granted. And I suppose a number will go whether they are allowed to do so or not. I think they would go to Ontario, Can., for training as they did during the world war."

Liszka had an opposite viewpoint. "I'm an American citizen," he said, "and I'm going to stay one. I'd stay here if they gave me Europe for nothing. I was born in Germany and I don't like German rule. There was lots of oppression then and there's lots now. I would speak for Poland as much as possible, but after all I'm here.

"One Out of a Thousand."

"I think there will be no one go back to fight except some crazy enough to look for glory. I don't think you'll find out out of a thousand. The Polish people as a whole are very good American citizens and very few would take the chance of going over. Most are second and third generation Poles.

"My children were born here and attend American schools. If, just for fun, I said something against America in my home my wife and children would all jump on me. I don't know whether Poland will fight, but I think they should."

Sawicki, who heads 7,000 Falcons in Chicago and 9,700 in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Missouri, said:

"I believe all Falcons consider themselves American citizens. It's natural they still have some feeling for Poland, but they have adopted the United States and things are not now as they were twenty-five years ago when Poland did not even exist.

Advice Is: Stay Out.

"She is now an independent country and we are not advising Poles here to mingle very much in her affairs. I don't think Poland will call for any men here. There are plenty there with the spirit to fight. The only help she needs is moral and financial. Some Poles would go, of course, but our advice to Falcons is to stay here.

"Poland absolutely will not give in. She might possibly agree to German control of Danzig, but only if Poland could still use the Vistula river without interference. She certainly would not give up Silesia and the Polish Corridor. Before she would do that she'll fight to the last drop of blood."

RUMANIA OFFERS NONAGGRESSION PACT TO HUNGARY

Step Called Safeguard for Southeastern Europe.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 25 (AP).—Rumania today offered a nonaggression pact to Hungary. Diplomats described the move as a major step toward preserving the neutrality of southeastern Europe in event of war.

Tentative terms, drafted by conferees in Bucharest, were being studied by the Hungarian government. A decisive answer was expected soon.

It was learned that the proposed treaty would guarantee the rights and privileges of 1,500,000 Hungarians living in Transylvania, which was awarded to Rumania after the world war.

Would End 20 Year Quarrel.

Conclusion of the pact would end a bitter quarrel of two decades. It would remove the Transylvanian frontier as a potential explosion point in time of crisis.

Reliable quarters here said the negotiations had been viewed favorably by Germany, dependent upon a stable and productive southeastern Europe for supplies.

Neutralization of Germany's "living space," it was pointed out, would make most difficult military operations there by the western powers. In addition, it would assure the reich of a land route to Russia which would not pass over Polish territory.

Hungary Objects to Troops.

Hungary, it was said, objected some days ago to the presence of 100,000 troops on the Rumanian side of the frontier.

King Carol's government replied that the soldiers were on duty to assure Rumanian neutrality and that they were a considerable distance from Hungarian soil.

Drafting of the treaty was reported to have progressed rapidly after this exchange of notes. Not even the fatal shooting of two Rumanian soldiers by Hungarian frontier guards Aug. 17 was permitted by the two governments to disturb their relations.

THOUSANDS IN VIENNA ARE CALLED TO ARMS; WOMEN IN FACTORIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Aug. 26 [Saturday].—Vienna awoke this morning believing in the possibility of war. During the night thousands of reservists received notices to report for military duty. Today, more thousands were called away from factories. Many women received orders to fill the vacant benches. Several hundred Vienna police received orders to proceed to towns located on the Polish border for special duty.

British subjects received letters from the British consul general this morning advising them to take up residence outside of Germany. All French residents left several days ago.

BELGIUM PREPARES FOR A WAR; TROOPS MOVED TO FRONTIERS

BRUSSELS, Aug. 25 (AP).—This city rapidly became a warlike capital tonight. Troops left all the city garrisons for stations nearer the border. All cafés were closed temporarily and civil servants were mobilized for rearguard work.

The nation, which today reaffirmed its strict neutrality, was in what officials described as a state of active defense. The number of men under arms could not be estimated. Export of gas masks and firefighting equipment was put under license. The ministry of economics announced wheat stocks to last seven months were stored away from air raid danger.

Norway's Policy Neutral, Asserts Foreign Minister

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 25 (AP).—H. Koht, Norway's foreign minister, today declared his nation's firm desire to remain neutral in case of war. He also reaffirmed the intent of the Oslo states to remain in contact with one another in the event of war and to secure their common interests.

Australia to Aid Britain, Says Premier in Broadcast

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 25 (AP).—Australia's determination to stand by Great Britain in the event of a European war was emphasized today in a radiocast by R. G. Menzies, the commonwealth prime minister.

NORMAN THOMAS ASSAILS TIEUP OF REDS, FASCISTS

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader, denounced the communist-Fascist combine today before 350 persons who stood in the rain to hear him. He said Stalin and Hitler had brought the world "a crowning sorrow and shame."

"By their support of Stalin the communists of America have made themselves partners in his guilt," he said. "Stop those communistic practices in certain labor unions which in their pursuit of power are similar to Stalin's deal with Hitler.

"If American communists want to disprove their guilt, I challenge them to denounce the nonaggression pact in plain language."

South Africa Puts Guards Over All Strategic Points

CAPETOWN, Aug. 25 (AP).—The government of South Africa placed guards at all strategic points today and the cruiser Neptune sailed from Simontown for an unannounced destination. Shore leaves from the German liner Windhuk were canceled and the vessel is expected to sail tomorrow.

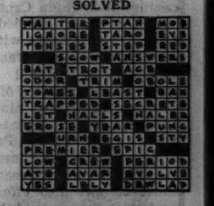
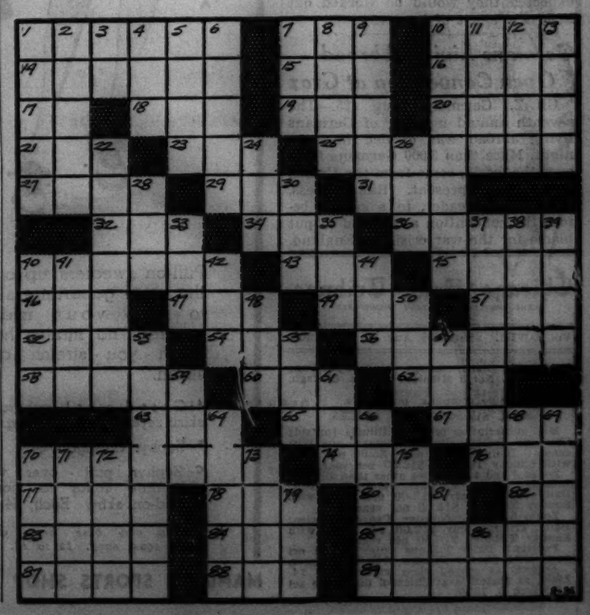
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





SHIPS HALTED; STRAND 70,000 IN CRISIS ZONE

State Department Acts to Return Americans.

liner Manhattan, due at Cobh, Ireland, Tuesday, probably would be ordered to take Americans aboard and return to New York immediately, omitting stops in England, France, and Germany.

Great Britain called into government service the Queen of Bermuda, a popular liner connecting New York with Bermuda, now in New York harbor. She was directed to await orders which probaly would command her to return to England next week for possible use as a troop transport ship.

The British Anchor line canceled sailings of the Caledonia and California from Glasgow to New York. Marine officials said they also would be used for troop transports in the event of war.

Cancel in Mediterranean.

The Italian line announced that all sailings from Mediterranean ports had been canceled indefinitly. The vessels of other nations were engaged in West Indies cruises or for other reasons were not available to Americans seeking to return home.

The French line said it would do all possible, but pointed out that the Normandie is in mid-ocean bound for New York, the Ile de France and the Champlain are bound for Havre, and the De Grasse is now in New York harbor.

Holland-American line ships were unable to help evacuate Americans as they are on cruise service or at sea between New York and Europe.

Not a single large German passenger liner was in a Nazi port. Ships of the Hamburg-American-North German Lloyd line now away from home port, besides the Bremen and Hansa, include:

The Europa, in mid-ocean en route to Germany; the Hamburg, two days out of New York bound for Germany; the Deutschland, which arrived at Southampton yesterday; the Columbus, cruising the West Indies; and the New York and the St. Louis, which arrived today in New York harbor.

Warships May Be Used.

Americans were warned by the state department not to depend on United States warships for evacuation. It was hinted, however, that if hostilities start, warships may be used for that purpose. The United States navy has only one cruiser and two destroyers in European waters at the present time.

The state department's plans for bringing Americans out of Europe include the establishment of a special division in the department to coordinate these activities.

It is planned to use regular American shipping facilities, with navy vessels serving only to carry citizens from isolated places to points at which they may be transferred to merchant vessels.

Arrangements also were made to set up special units of American diplomatic establishments in foreign capitals and important commercial centers abroad. They are designed to "deal with evacuation and related problems, such as the protection of the interests of foreign governments after a rupture of diplomatic relations."

Money to Be Advanced.

By this provision the state department indicated it was preparing for the contingency that some belligerent governments might ask the United States to handle their interests in the enemy states.

The plans also include arrangements whereby limited amounts of money will be advanced by diplomatic representatives to stranded Americans in exchange for their promissory notes.

That the huge evacuation task might take weeks and possibly months despite the plans of the state departments was indicated in the official announcement.

"It will, of course, not be possible for all of the Americans in Europe to return as rapidly as some of them may wish," the statement said. "It has always been envisaged in the plans formulated by this government for such a situation that Americans in Europe should be advised, in case of emergency, to leave metropolitan centers for as safe places as may be found and await transports.

Nazi Ocean Liners Ordered to Return to Germany

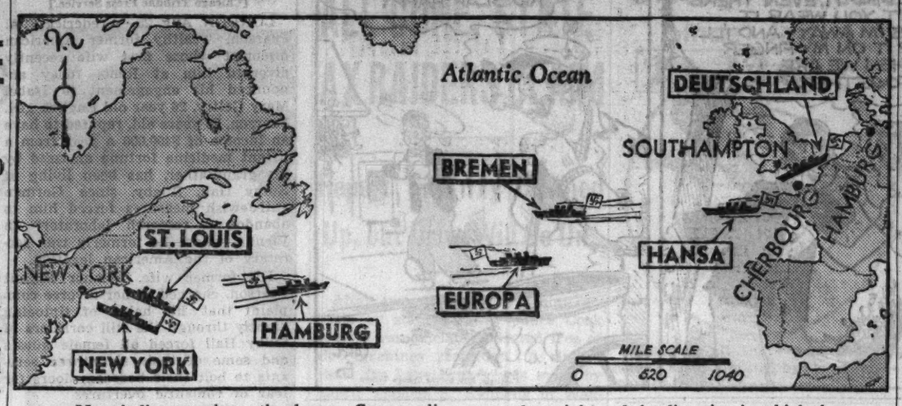
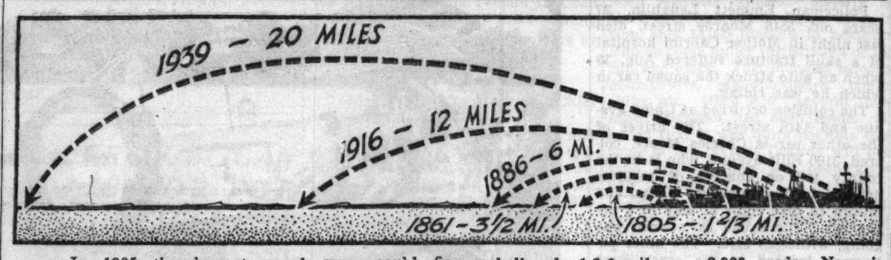


Map indicates where the larger German liners were last night and the direction in which they were headed when they received orders to return home at once.

How Far Naval Guns Can Fire Shells



In 1805 the largest naval guns could fire a shell only 1 2-3 miles, or 2,900 yards. Now, in 1939, twenty miles is the limit of effective gunfire. There has been a steady progression in gun range over the years between the two dates.

SHIPPING MAN FREED FROM GERMAN PRISON COMING TO AMERICA

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—Released from a prison in Germany after serving more than two years on a charge of violating the Nazi currency control laws, Arnold Bernstein, German shipping merchant, has left the country and is planning to return to New York soon, it was announced here today.

Bernstein formerly controled the Red Star and Bernstein Lines, which were in the passenger and cargo service between New York and channel ports. Besides being imprisoned in 1937 he was fined $400,000 and his lines were placed in the hands of a trustee.

Recently the Red Star Line was sold to the Holland-America Line and the Bernstein Line fleet was disposed of to various private interests. Shipping circles here reported that Bernstein planned to reënter the merchant marine field on a large scale.

CITIZENS OBJECT TO PROPOSAL FOR GARBAGE STATION

About 500 north and northwest side residents gathered yesterday to protest the city's proposed garbage transfer station to railroad cars on the northwest corner of Balmoral and Wolcott avenues. The meeting was held at the Uptown Lions club, across the street from the proposed station. Several speakers, including Ald. James R. Quinn [50th] assailed the project as a menace to health and realty values.

A contract for removal of garbage between Augusta boulevard and Division street by way of the Belt Line railroad was approved yesterday by Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes. John Sexton & Co. were the successful bidders. Several other contracts are awaiting the signature of Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works.

Ask Ouster of Policeman Drunk on Duty Six Times

The discharge of Policeman Olan Wheeler of the Hudson avenue station was recommended yesterday by the civil service trial board after a hearing on the charge that he was intoxicated while on duty. Wheeler has been on the force since 1929. He has been suspended five times previously for the same offense.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S INDUSTRIES FACE WAR TIME LOSS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Aug. 25.—War clouds over Europe foreshadow additional privation for Newfoundland. The daily shipment of 10,000 tons of iron ore from Bell Island to Germany will stop if war occurs. A disturbance in the Mediterranean will practically destroy the country's biggest market for fish, its chief product.

Sir Humphrey Thomas Walwyn, governor of Newfoundland, cut short his holiday aboard the British cruiser Dundee and returned today. The cruiser sailed to an unrevealed destination an hour later. The American destroyer, Anderson, arrived this morning.

War time legislation is ready for promulgation, and a call for volunteers is expected to be answered by hundreds of young men now on relief work and the dole.

DROWNING HELD ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's verdict of accidental drowning was returned yesterday in the death Thursday in the river near Polk street of Joseph Sokoll, 3120 Lexington street, a postoffice clerk. His brother, Michael M. Sokoll, president of the Checker Cab company, testified the victim could have had no reason to take his own life.

City Employe Robbed of Car as He Chats with Girl

While seated with a young woman in his automobile near 5000 Cornell avenue last night Frank Rericha, 27 years old, 8046 Jeffery avenue, was robbed of $1. The bandit took his wallet and his automobile. Later the robber telephoned Rericha's mother, having learned the name from an identification card. The car was found at the Midway and Woodlawn avenue, where the bandit said it would be. Rericha, an employé of the board of health, is a nephew of Judge John J. Lupe of the Superior court.

SOVIETS BACK ITS RUMANIA CLAIM, SAYS BULGARIA

SOFIA, Aug. 25 (AP).—Deputy George Markoff, vice president of the national assembly, said tonight that soviet Russia had signified its full approval of Bulgaria's territorial claims on Rumania.

Markoff reported that Vyacheslav Molotov, soviet premier and foreign minister, told him in an audience in Moscow that soviet Russia's help would be forthcoming because "it is the opinion of Comrade Stalin that Bulgaria should have justice." He said Molotov added that "the soviets find Bulgaria's claims fully justified."

Markoff returned today from Moscow with twenty-one other deputies. His report was the first sign of possible German-Russian coöperation in effecting territorial changes in southeastern Europe. German Nazi leaders have publicly espoused Bulgaria's claims for return of the Dobrudja from Rumania.

Soviet Russia has never renounced its own claims on Bessarabia, which was annexed to Rumania at the end of the world war.

GREAT BRITAIN BANS PICTURES OF TROOPS FROM NEWSPAPERS

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP).—The war office today wrote newspaper proprietors suggesting that pictures of troop movements and tanks be banned from publication.

It also carried attention to its "D" notices of July 11 forbidding pictures of anti-aircraft stations and movements of war material.

The "D" notice is used by the government to ban from newspapers any information it considers against the national interest.

Asks Hitler to Accept Warsaw's Offer.

peal for peace may contribute towards general appeasement which the people of the world so sorely need to return once more to the blessed path of progress and civilization."

There was widespread doubt in Washington that Hitler would reply to the President's peace pleas. The few senators and representatives remaining in Washington were not disposed to be critical of the President's activity in firing what he calls "shots for peace."

Not Likely to Accept F. D. R.

Even those who oppose the President's foreign policy expressed the opinion that in an hour of world crisis the great moral influence of the United States government should be exerted for peace. But they said it was unfortunate that Mr. Roosevelt's previous attitude, and that of his whole administration, had been so unneutral.

The suggestion by the president of Poland that Mr. Roosevelt would be an acceptable conciliator elicited no comment at the White House tonight. Mr. Roosevelt merely said that he was "gratified" by the Polish president's message. White House Secretary Stephen T. Early announced last night, however, that Mr. Roosevelt was not offering himself or any official of this government as a moderator. Of course Mr. Roosevelt would have no opportunity to serve unless Hitler also should accept him, and that possibility is extremely remote.

Awaits Reply from Rome.

Mr. Roosevelt was still waiting for a reply to his peace appeal to the other end of the Rome-Berlin axis. Yesterday he urged King Victor Emmanuel of Italy to formulate proposals for a settlement of the German-Polish crisis along the lines of his appeal to Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy last April.

Earlier tonight Mr. Roosevelt dispatched a note of appreciation to King Leopold III. of Belgium, assuring him that the American people and their government shared the hopes and aspirations for peace which the Belgian monarch expressed in an address to the world on Wednesday.

President Roosevelt said at his press conference today that he had no intention of summoning a special session of congress in the present situation.

The President discussed the European situation with the cabinet members who are in Washington for almost two hours this afternoon. It was the regular cabinet meeting time, however, and was in no sense an emergency session. Presumably the President and Secretary of State Cordell Hull reported the latest advices from Europe. Earlier the President had conferred with Joseph E. Davies, ambassador to Belgium, who is here on a holiday.

Meets Navy Chiefs.

After the cabinet meeting Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Acting Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations. Presumably they discussed plans for evacuating American residents and tourists from danger zones if war should break out.

Mr. Roosevelt declared at his press conference that the nation's preparedness to meet the shock of war in Europe was better than it had ever been. Machinery was ready, he said, to be set in motion by pressing a button. Most of his conferences during the day related to preparedness plans, including the evacuation of American nationals from Europe, he said.

Woman Robbed of $3,000 Gem in Doctor's Office

Mrs. Fanchon Troeger, 4940 East End avenue, reported to police yesterday that a diamond and platinum lavalliere, valued at $3,000, was stolen from her purse while she was being examined in the office of Dr. Seymour J. Cohen, 185 North Wabash avenue. Detectives found the empty purse on the building stairway and a chamois bag which had contained the lavalliere in a washroom. Mrs. Troeger is the wife of Leslie E. Troeger, a public relations counsel. Police said the purse had been placed on a table near a door which opened into the hallway near the stairs.

Mystery Shot Kills Lawyer in His Minneapolis Home

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 25 (AP).—Three bullets fired through a bedroom screen killed David Theodore Melin, 54 years old, civil law attorney, at his home tonight. Melin had gone into a bedroom to listen to the baseball broadcast. A moment later Mrs. Melin heard three "cracks." Mystified, she went to the bedroom and discovered the body slumped in a closet. Melin had been shot in the back. Mrs. Melin could suggest no motive for the shooting. The only clew to the killer were footprints close to a window.

ARMY PRIVATE GETS 30 DAYS AFTER CRASH

John Manikas.

John Manikas, 21 years old, a United States army private assigned to Michigan State college at Lansing, was sentenced to thirty days in the Bridewell by Judge Francis Borrelli in Safety court yesterday for reckless driving. Manikas pleaded in vain that he was due back at his post by Sept. 2.

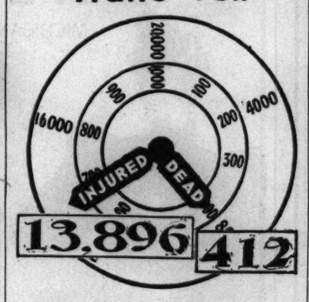
Police and other witnesses testified that Manikas was driving seventy miles an hour Thursday at Madison and Clark streets immediately preceding a collision in which several persons were injured slightly.

Jerry Simons, colored, of 344 East 56th street, was sentenced to ten days in the Bridewell for driving while intoxicated. He was ordered to surrender his driver's license for one year. Three others, Sam Kaplan, 3846 Madison street; Mrs. Agnes Lynn, 821 North La Salle street, and George Croll, 8020 Lincoln avenue, Niles Center, surrendered their drivers' licenses pending trial. Mrs. Lynn was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, the others with reckless driving.

City to Start a Drive Against Gas Shortages

A city-wide drive against gasoline station owners who may be cheating customers will be started Sept. 5, City Sealer James O'Keefe said yesterday. O'Keefe said he would add extra men to his regular force and that thirty-five deputies would inspect pumps and oring charges where defective ones are found.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1939 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

COURTESY SAVES LIVES, THAT'S THE SLOGAN OF WEEK

Road hogs will move into the proper trafic lane. Motorists will take every safety precaution and obey all trafic regulations. Pedestrians will cross with the lights at street intersections.

This will be the trafic scene next week if motorists and pedestrians cooperate with Mayor Kelly's Keep Chicago Safe committee. The mayor proclaimed the week beginning tomorrow as Courtesy week.

City and park police have been instructed to coöperate with more than 2,000 industrial, commercial, civic, service, community and church groups which have arranged special programs for each day of the week. "Courtesy Saves Lives" is the slogan of the week.

POLICE VICTIM OF CRASH WITH SQUAD CAR DIES

Policeman Emmett Laughlin, 37 years old, 5516 Monroe street, died last night in Mother Cabrini hospital of a skull fracture suffered Aug. 19 when an auto struck the squad car in which he was riding.

The collision occurred at Union avenue and 14th street. The driver of the other car is Charles Moore, colored, 3100 Ellis avenue, who is in the county jail on charges of reckless driving, having improper lights, and failure to give right of way to a police car. The squad car's siren was going, witnesses said. The other policemen injured in the crash were Dennis Kehoe, 2312 35th street, and Ambrose Dorsey, 711 West 68th street.

Michael Bakajsa, 53, of 2243 Indianapolis boulevard, Hammond, died last night of injuries suffered Sunday night when he was struck by a car driven by Abe Hyman, 828 Maryland street, Gary.

Richard Prendergast, 60, of 6320 North Oakley avenue, died in the Swedish Covenant hospital from injuries suffered in an auto collision at California and Lincoln avenues on Monday. Prendergast's car collided with one driven by Ted Kaftanski, 6511 South Wolcott street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 527 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 412 were killed in Chicago, where 13,896 were injured in the same period.

Watchman Gets 1-10 Years for Aiding Two Yeggmen

John Brownrigg, an ex-convict, was sentenced yesterday to one to ten years in the Joliet penitentiary by Judge Joseph Sabath in Criminal court for burglary. Brownrigg, a former watchman in the McJunkin building at 4554 Broadway, was accused of aiding William and Benjamin Sweeney, also ex-convicts, in burglarizing safes in the building of $590 last July. The Sweeneys received similar sentences on Monday.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

An unidentified colored man was killed yesterday by a South Shore train at 98th street. Trainmen said he either stumbled or threw himself in front of it.

EX-DIPLOMAT TO WED AGAIN SOON AFTER DIVORCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Frederick F. A. Pearson, wealthy former American diplomat whose first wife recently divorced him at Reno, today announced his engagement to Isabel Mary Galtry, 26 year old English girl. Pearson, 50 years old, reputed to have an income of $400,000 a year from a patent medicine fortune amassed by his grandfather, has been living at Sulby Hall, Rugby, since German anti-Jewish measures forced him to abandon a research laboratory in Vienna, where he formerly was secretary of the American legation.

His former wife, Eleanor Bryant Pearson, charged in her divorce complaint that his habit of tiptoeing nightly through the still corridors of Sulby Hall forced all female guests and some of their sixty-three servants to bolt their bedroom doors for fear of romantic overtures.

M'GARRY FREES ACCUSED THIEF; STATE PROTESTS

2d Bar Association Quiz on Judge Expected.

The Chicago Bar association, for the second time within a week, is expected to investigate the conduct of Judge Eugene L. McGarry, it was announced last night. McGarry had previously been accused of "fixing" a burglary case for an alderman.

In Felony court yesterday, Judge McGarry dismissed a woman larceny defendant "for want of prosecution" after the state and the defense had presented all the testimony. She was accused of luring a married man to a loop hotel room and there stealing $160 and a $1,200 ring. At his own expense, the complaining witness came from Florida to testify.

Crime Board to Act.

"If the facts as reported to me are upheld in our observer's report, as I expect them to be, we will certainly ask the bar association to investigate," Bertram J. Cahn, president of the Chicago Crime commission, said last night. "We will probably call an early meeting of the commission to consider the case."

The defendant yesterday was Mrs. Marian Bryan, 30 years old, 714 Diversey parkway. Detectives John Shine and Arthur Dixon of the central station, who arrested her, said Mrs. Bryan's husband formerly was employed in a gambling casino, reputedly run by William [Billy] Skidmore and William Johnson.

Requests Change in Charge.

When the case was called yesterday, Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor sought unsuccessfully to have the charge of grand larceny changed to petit larceny. In this way, O'Connor argued, the case could be disposed of in the Felony court, and if Mrs. Bryan were found guilty she could be sentenced to the Bridewell.

O'Connor explained later that the state feared it would be impossible to persuade the principal witness, H. W. Tucker, a tomato grower from Ocala, Fla., to remain in or come back to Chicago for a grand jury session and a possible criminal trial.

Tucker is married and the father of two children. His round trip from Ocala cost him more than $60. Since his arrival Sunday night he had been staying at his own expense in a loop hotel. He left for home shortly after the court session yesterday.

Judge Tells His Decision.

"It's either grand larceny or not guilty," said Judge McGarry, in refusing O'Connor's request to change the charge. Usually such requests are granted as a matter of course, the prosecutor said. O'Connor, however, was responsible for Judge McGarry's involvement in the "fix" case.

Tucker testified yesterday that he met Mrs. Bryan in a loop hotel bar on the night of Aug. 8, while returning from a west coast vacation. After a few drinks, Tucker said, he accompanied her to her room in a nearby hotel. There he drank half a glass of beer and lost consciousness, he related. When he recovered, Tucker said, his money and ring were gone.

Questioned by O'Connor, Mrs. Bryan admitted taking Tucker to her hotel room, but insisted that he gave her the ring and $18 as a gift.

Police Tell of Arrest.

Detectives Shine and Dixon then told of her arrest. Tucker had given them a perfect description, the policemen said. Each night, they said, they watched the hotel bar where she had met Tucker. On Aug. 16 she appeared. Mrs. Bryan ran into the alley when she saw them, Dixon said, but they caught her half a block away. After being held for two days, Mrs. Bryan admitted having the ring.

"Just a minute," interposed Judge McGarry. "The court will conduct the rest of this examination." Then, turning to Tucker, he said:

"I think there was cheating on both sides. You've got your property back. That's what you were interested in, isn't it?"

"Of course I'm glad to get my ring back," replied Tucker, "but I don't want to obstruct justice. I'm ashamed of my own conduct."

Judge Dismisses Case.

"Case dismissed for want of prosecution," Judge McGarry announced. O'Connor protested to no avail. He then prepared a report for State's Attorney Courtney.

Emmett Moynihan, acting first assistant state's attorney, said he would not comment until after the judicial committee of the bar association meets Tuesday to consider the "fix" charges.

This case involves Frank Klakowicz, a confessed burglar, who was placed on probation by Judge McGarry. O'Connor subsequently caused his rearrest and indictment. Klakowicz then was sentenced to a year in prison. Moynihan, to whom Judge McGarry complained about O'Connor's action, charged that the judge said he granted the probation at the request of Ald. Joseph Rostenkowski [32d].

NO MORE BONDS TO BE REQUIRED OF ANNENBERG

United States Attorney William J. Campbell said yesterday that Moses L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher, would not be required to post additional bonds on the second and third indictments against him, returned by the federal grand jury this week. Annenberg furnished $100,000 bail recently after he had been indicted for evading income tax.

Campbell indicated that he would be allowed to remain at liberty on his own recognizance in the new cases. The second indictment charges conspiracy to evade income taxes and the third that Annenberg and three others tried to bribe a Philadelphia detective to give perjured testimony before a grand jury. The minor defendants' bonds have been fixed at $10,000 each.

Mrs. Marian Bryan, whose release by Judge Eugene McGarry in larceny case brought a renewal of controversy by state's attorney's staff.

FAKE REPUBLICAN SOLICITOR FOR PICNIC FINED $200

Louis Goldberg, 1641 South Ridgeway avenue, was fined $200 by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in South State street court yesterday for misrepresenting himself as a collector for the Cook county Republican central committee in a telephone fund solicitation.

Attorney Sylvester Quindry, 33 North La Salle street, testified that Goldberg told him that a picnic scheduled tomorrow at Riverview park, under auspices of the National Progressive Republican organization, was endorsed by the county committee and Edward F. Moore, its chairman. Quindry told him to call for a check, then notified Moore who, in turn, notified police.

Moore testified that he had no connection with the picnic which is sponsored by William J. Balmer, south side politician.

Two other men seized at 65 West Maple street after Goldberg's arrest were discharged. They are George Levine, 3712 Pine Grove avenue, and Sidney Horn, 3005 West 19th street.

SLOT MACHINES ALL GONE, STATE AX RAIDERS CLAIM

Report County Cleaned Up, but Drive Will Go On.

After two nights of smashing activity by state highway police Cook county was officially declared free of slot machines yesterday. A similar claim for Lake county was made by Sheriff Thomas E. Kennedy in Waukegan.

T. P. Sullivan, superintendent of the state bureau of investigation, who directed the Cook county raids, said the fifty highway policemen brought from downstate to find and destroy the machines would remain in Cook county, detecting by day and smashing the machines with sledge hammers by night.

Drive to Be Continued.

"This is a definite program," Chief Sullivan said.

"The police will be out tonight and every night, and their district captains have been told they are responsible for keeping machines out of their districts. Chief Walter Williams of the highway force, who led the raids, proposes to see that those orders are obeyed."

Wednesday night the raiders destroyed 110 machines in the northwestern part of Cook county. Thursday night they scoured the southern and southwestern end, visiting more than 300 places, but their total haul was only two machines.

License Attack Planned.

Before he left yesterday for New York, where he will speak at Illinois day today at the world's fair, Attorney General Cassidy directed that slot machine evidence against the places raided be turned over to Arthur S. Smith, chairman of the Illinois liquor control commission.

Cassidy will ask the liquor commission to refuse licenses to any tavern or club on the list that has not already received a reissue. The reissuing period for licenses began July 1. To revoke a license already issued, Smith said, it would be necessary for five citizens of the community in which the offending saloon is situated to file charges with the commission.

In eithe event, the tavern owner will be haled before the commission to defend his license.

It was impossible to determine last night which of the places where machines were smashed have not yet been reissued licenses. Merwin M. Hart, secretary of the liquor commission, said 16,000 licenses in northern Illinois come under jurisdiction of the Chicago office. This includes saloons, distributors, manufacturers, trains, ships, etc. Hart said "several thousand" reissues had been made. He added that it was quite possible that some of the taverns Cassidy will proceed against have not been given new licenses.

Asked yesterday whether he was enforcing the law against slot machines, Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien made his usual answer.

"We are enforcing the law and confiscating slot machines wherever we find them," the sheriff said.

1ST WOMAN ASKS RELEASE FROM SERVICE ON JURY

The first woman to ask to be excused from jury service appeared before Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley in the Criminal court yesterday. She is Miss Margaret L. Gansberg, 26 years old, 4713 Berenice avenue, a stenographer and private secretary. Her name was drawn for criminal jury service for the new term beginning Sept. 4. She told the court her employer would be out of the city at the time, and that she would be in charge of the office. Judge McKinley informed her that he would be succeeded as chief justice by Circuit Judge John Prystalski with the opening of the new term and she would have to obtain her release from him.

BOARDS TO STUDY FREEDOM PLEAS OF 648 CONVICTS

Rapists and Gunmen Seek Release on Parole.

Hearings on the parole applications of 648 rapists, robbers, burglars, and other inmates of Illinois prisons will begin Thursday before subcommittees of the state parole board. W. C. Jones, parole board chairman, said 217 of the hearings will be in Stateville prison, 203 in Pontiac, 156 in Menard, 68 in Joliet, and 4 in the Dwight reformatory for women.

Among notorious convicts seeking parole is Edmund Chuski, 20 years old, who was sent back to prison a year ago after he had violated a previous parole, committed robbery, and attempted to rape a girl 14 years old.

Robs Girl's Escort.

Chuski first was sentenced to Pontiac prison in April, 1935, for one to ten years for grand larceny. He was paroled April 3, 1937. A few months later he assaulted and robbed the girl's companion and dragged her to a vacant house, where he attempted to rape her. Judge Robert C. O'Connell in the Criminal court sentenced him to one to fourteen years in prison on a charge of robbery.

Another prisoner seeking freedom is Julius P. Waitches, who was sentenced in September, 1938, to serve five years for conspiracy to obtain part of the estate of James Thomas Kelly, a flophouse miser, by a forged signature on a will. Kelly, who died in apparent poverty in a West Madison street rooming house, left an estate valued at $140,000. Waitches, a former attorney, also was disbarred for his part in the plot.

Society Bandit Seeks Freedom.

Edward [Toddy] Dillon, Chicago's society bandit, also is seeking a parole. His application was continued from last month. Dillon, the black sheep son of a wealthy St. Louis, Mo., family, once was questioned about the murder of his father, a physician. He subsequently was sentenced to prison in New York for robbery and was released on parole. He came to Chicago, in violation of the parole, and robbed five hotels, using the money to entertain girls whom he met at fraternity dances. He was arrested in 1931 and sentenced to a term of one to twenty years.

Harold Winston, a colored gunman, also is among those whose pleas will be heard. Winston, who violated paroles in 1936 and in 1938, first was sentenced to prison in 1936 for carrying a gun. He was paroled after he had served six months.

Returned as Parole Violator.

In October of 1936 he was returned to prison for violating the parole. He was released again on parole two years later and soon afterward was sentenced to one to fourteen years for attacking a boy.

Another notorious convict seeking parole is Virgil Baker, a robber who took part in a prison break in 1936 in the old penitentiry in Joliet. He was first sentenced to prison in 1933 for one year to life for robbery. He previously had served one year on a charge of burglary in the St. Charles School for Boys. In 1936 he and his brother, Virgil, escaped from the prison quarry in Joliet. They were recaptured. Three other convicts who attempted to escape with them were cowed by prison guards.

MILLINERY STORE ROBBED.

A smartly attired bandit obtained $45 yesterday in the holdup of a millinery store at 3347 Lawrence avenue, Miss Ruth Greenberg, 5043 North Springfield avenue, the clerk, reported to police.

SKIDMORE JURY GLANCES INTO PAPER EVIDENCE

The federal grand jury investigating the income of William R. [Billy] Skidmore, reputed gambling collector, devoted most of yesterday to examining documentary evidence presented by federal agents. Only a few witnesses were heard.

The jurors will resume their inquiry Monday when what are said to be the government's most important witnesses will be called. These witnesses are said to include well known Democratic politicians. It also was reported that several police captains will be called to testify. Capt. Thomas Harrison of the Chicago avenue district was questioned Wednesday and Thursday, supposedly about conditions in his district.

William J. Campbell, United States district attorney, in charge of the investigation, has called scores of handbook operators, apparently in an effort to show that Skidmore's income is much larger than reported to the government. They told, it was reported, of payments to Skidmore for gambling privileges.

ROMANCE IN PORCELAIN (1)

By CALEB

THE ingredients of Romance . . . what are they? Beauty, to begin with. Noble tradition, for another. Artistry, idealism, inspiration—these, too. And if, as our title indicates, the subject under consideration be a product, then certainly one should speak of lovely contours, gracious motifs, excellence of design—not forgetting, as the crowning touch, superlative finish.

And so we capture—in a handful of definitions, as it were—the distinction peculiar to Royal Copenhagen porcelain: its presence in the world's leading art museums; its contributions to famous court collections; its appeal to connoisseur and commoner alike; its continuing charm for all who linger admiringly before it in our second-floor Artwares Section.

Tradition? More than a century and a half ago, the Danish Queen Juliane Marie dreamed of, then demanded, "the world's finest porcelain." Her will, being supreme, was promptly actualized. Artists were gathered—craftsmen-potters, sculptors, specialists in clays, colors and glazes—and suitable commercial facilities provided for carrying out her bidding.

The wares thus produced instantly gratified royal standards; and it was the queen herself who specified the hallmark to appear on each piece: three wavy blue lines, emblematic of the three Danish waterways. Incidentally, patterns of Royal Copenhagen are being produced today in the identical shapes and sizes of 1779.

Let us lift from its place, for a moment, and intently study, a typical Copenhagen figurine—the "Old Lady," originally posed for, and modeled by, Lotte Benter. The posture, the features, the thin-fingered hands tightly folded over her missal—the quaint hood, shawl and gown done in soft mist-brown and white—are life itself! Yet, under the deep, rich glaze, every color tone is a hush: the hush that identifies Age steadfast in serenity.

Equally interesting by contrast is the "Goose Girl" nearby—modeled by Christian Thomsen. Notice the exquisite treatment of this lovely grouping in mellow grays, blues, brown and white; the animated naturalness of attitude, suggesting figures caught in a lustrous spell, and made immortal!

Such are the instinctive impressions of the porcelain-lover seeking a fresh beauty-accent in these wares from Copenhagen. Other fascinations to be discovered here will likewise engage our attention at an early date. . . .

U. S. AUTHORITIES DECLINE TO HAND LEPKE TO DEWEY

Even Balk at Letting His Aids Quiz Racketeer.

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—Federal authorities made it clear today that they would refuse to turn over to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey for prosecution Louis Buchalter, alias Lepke, the nation's most notorious industrial racketeer, who surrendered yesterday.

Dewey has contended he has enough evidence against Lepke to send him to jail for 500 years and that the federal authorities have only lesser charges against him. United States Attorney John T. Cahill asserted today that federal indictments against the racketeer carried penalties of 168 years and $190,000 in fines.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Meanwhile Lepke pleaded innocent today in federal court to ten indictments charging him with dealing in narcotics, bribery, and conspiracy to bribe a federal official. He was ordered held without bail in custody of the federal bureau of investigation.

Dewey's assistants, having failed in all efforts to get custody of Lepke from the federal authorities or even to question him, prepared to ask the grand jury on Monday for an omnibus indictment covering racketeering in the men's and women's clothing, flour, and trucking industries.

Politics in Background.

In the background of the situation is the possibility that Dewey may be the Republican nominee for President next year and the fact that prosecuting Lepke would give Dewey nationwide publicity of the sort he received in the trial of James J. Hines. Hines, Tammany leader and New Deal supporter, was convicted as the political protector of the notorious Dutch Schultz policy racket.

No one in Dewey's office or on Cahill's staff is willing to discuss the political aspects of the case, but politicians say that many New Dealers would be pleased if Dewey were denied an opportunity to prosecute the industrial racketeers. Dewey is now on a vacation in Michigan.

STATE PROBES BEATING OF SIX IN STRIKE RIOT

Lieut. Charles Egan, who heads the labor detail of the state's attorney's police, yesterday began an investigation of the slugging of a truck crew removing equipment from the strikebound plant of the Revere Copper and Brass company Tuesday night. Police stationed at the plant are accused of having failed to protect the truck from strikers.

Paul Stoddard, personnel director of the Landis Award Employers' association, was driving the truck when it left the plant, at 2200 North Natchez avenue, with equipment belonging to a customer of the company. He was one of six men hurt when ten automobile loads of men halted the truck, hurled acid at its occupants, and wielded bricks and iron bars on them.

Walter H. Wright, personnel director of the company, said no more movements of equipment are planned. He also said no conferences with the strikers are scheduled.

INQUIRY ORDERED IN FIRE; 18 TAKEN OFF FIRE ESCAPE

Investigations were started yesterday into the cause of a fire in a fifteen apartment building at 445-457 Barry avenue, where police rescued eighteen persons left stranded on a fire escape early in the day. Division Fire Marshal Joseph J. Graham said the owner of the building would be questioned about the lack of a stairway from the fire escape to the ground.

The fire started in the second floor apartment of D. H. Haider, an attorney, and spread to the flat above. Residents of the west wing of the building fled to the fire escape. Policemen William Hanley and Frank Raia found a ladder in the basement and helped them to safety.

Damage from the fire was estimated at $2,500 by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan.

Brooklyn Prosecutor's Aid Acquitted in Bribery Case

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—After three hours' deliberation, a blue ribbon jury today acquitted Assistant District Attorney Alexander R. Baldwin of Brooklyn of a bribery charge. The trial had lasted six weeks. This was the second major setback for Special Prosecutor John H. Amen, investigating official corruption in Brooklyn. An earlier one was the failure of a prosecution against County Judge George W. Martin on a bribery charge.

Miss Wagner was found in her employer's home, her skull fractured by a piece of lumber. Physicians said she had been criminally attacked. Miss Sosoyeva was killed last February on the Los Angeles City college campus. Police believe the same man attacked and wounded Delia Bogard, film dancer, a few weeks later.

NEW YORK THUGS BEAT 2 OWNERS, 3 AIDS IN SHOP

Attack Is Blamed on Labor Troubles.

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—Six unidentified thugs today entered a flannel robe shop in the Bronx and severely beat its two owners and three of their assistants. The shop has been having labor troubles.

The five victims were so seriously injured that they required hospital treatment. They are Jerry De Persis and Nicholas Lauritano, owners of the shop; Emil Valenti of the Bronx, Louis Bernstein, and Ralph Fiore, both of Brooklyn.

Employés Change Unions.

De Persis declared that the only reason he could advance for the attack was the fact that recently his employés left the International Ladies' Garment Workers union and joined the Amalgamated Clothing Workers union.

David Dubinsky, president of the I. L. G. W. U. has charged that the Amalgamated has been raiding the garment workers' union in retaliation for its action in quitting the C. I. O. "We consider the raid on the bath robe shop a declaration of war by the Amalgamated," Dubinsky said at the time, "and we accept that challenge."

Vice Chairman of C. I. O.

Sidney Hillman, president of Amalgamated, is a vice chairman of the C. I. O. and one of John L. Lewis' closest lieutenants.

De Persis, Lauritano and their employés were at work in the second floor shop today when the thugs entered and set upon them. Surprised, they could do little to defend themselves. The intruders fled before the arrival of police.

Delay Inquest in Killing on South Side Prairie

A coroner's inquest into the death of Charles Stockinger, 48 years old, 819 East 105th street, who was found fatally beaten Thursday in a prairie at 94th street and Escanaba avenue, was continued yesterday until Sept. 8 to give the police time for more investigation. Carl Walberg, a rooming house neighbor of the slain man, testified that Stockinger had between $150 and $200 in his possession last Wednesday when Walberg last saw him. Mrs. Florence Packard of Michigan City, Ind., divorced wife of Stockinger, said she knew of no enemies who might have slain her former husband.

GRANTED DELAY TILL SEPT. 15 ON FRAUD CHARGE

Milton Morris, 24 year old, sought since his indictment for operating a confidence game three weeks ago, was granted a continuance yesterday until Sept. 15. He was released on bond pending his trial. Attorney Edward Aberman, who represents Morris and his mother, Mrs. Kittie Morris, also under indictment, denied that his client was arrested by state's attorney's police while conferring with him in a west side restaurant. Aberman said Morris surrendered in the Criminal court building. The Morrises, who operated the First State Mortgage company, 10 North Clark street, are accused of swindling customers out of $70,000.

TWO YOUNG ROBBERS WIN DELAY.

Two young men who locked a butcher in an icebox Aug. 19 in a robbery attempt will go to trial Sept. 6 on robbery charges in Boys' court. They are Michael Shimenetto, 415 Sullivan street, and John Pantano, 1411 Clybourn avenue, both 17 years old. Their case was continued yesterday.

CHICAGO UNIONS SPONSOR PAROLE FOR BOMB LIFER

Joseph Keenan, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, said yesterday the federation is sponsoring a parole for Matthew A. Schmidt, a former Chicago labor leader who was convicted in Los Angeles, Cal., in 1915 as a labor terrorist.

Schmidt is serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for complicity in the bombing of the Los Angeles Times building in 1910. Twenty-one persons were killed in the blast.

Keenan said labor leaders have always regarded Schmidt as innocent of the charge. He said Schmidt will be given a job as an assistant engineer at $50 a week at the federation's radio station, WCFL. California authorities have indicated Schmidt will be paroled to the federation upon approval of Illinois parole officials.

G. O. P. LEADERS FROM ILLINOIS SIZE UP DEWEY

300 Attend Lawn Party for Him in Michigan.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lakeside, Mich., Aug. 25.—It was Illinois day here today for Thomas E. Dewey on his Michigan vacation. Republican politicians, candidates for office, and committeemen from all parts of Illinois traveled here to meet the racket busting New York district attorney and to size him up as a candidate for the Republican nomination for President.

They got acquainted with Dewey at a lawn party at the summer home of Leonard C. Reid of Chicago, a cousin of Dewey's mother, Mrs. George M. Dewey, on the bluffs overlooking Lake Michigan. More than 300 Republican organization men were present at the party, which started late in the afternoon and lasted well into the night.

Talk of His Candidacy.

Dewey spent the time under the trees talking with everybody, but not of political subjects. The gathering, however, was regarded as the most imporatant political development of his week's holiday in his native state. For one thing, his political callers today all regarded him as a candidate and talked of him as such, although as yet he has made no announcement.

The meeting with Dewey will be followed later with similar meetings arranged for Illinois party men with other Republican presidential candidates. These will include Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, and others.

The photographers were kept busy here. Most of the visitors wanted to have their pictures taken in groups with Dewey.

Hill Blackett, Republican national committeeman for Illinois, explained the lawn party for Dewey as a new technique in the party.

Others to Be Met.

"I urged that organization men should come out and get acquainted with Dewey," he said. Heretofore, after the presidential nomination has been made, party men have been told to ring doorbells and take their coats off for some one whom perhaps they have never had a chance to meet. The idea is if that Taft, Vandenburg, Bricker or any other presidential candidate is within easy distance, the organization men will get a chance to meet him, size him up, maybe have a picture taken with him, and carry back word to the folks at home what sort of a man he is.

"We'll do the same thing for Senator Taft Sept. 5 in Chicago in the Palmer House ballroom," said Blackett. "Senator Bridges will be at Jacksonville Sept. 17. Vandenberg will be in the state. Taft is to speak at Vienna, Ill., Sept. 30. The organization will meet any of the candidates. The party is coming back from the bottom up, not from the top down. Things look good."

Many Leaders Present.

Among those at the Dewey lawn party were Charles S. Deneen, former senator and former governor; Edward F. Moore, Cook county chairman; A. K. Stiles, state chairman; Walter Rosenfield, former state chairman; Wayland Brooks, Richard J. Lyons, and State Senator Earl Searcy of Springfield, three governorship possibilities; Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, candidate for secretary of state; Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton, candidate for attorney general; George Q. Johnson, former United States district attorney; David I. Swanson, one of the house leaders at Springfield; Judge Oscar Nelson, Julius Miner, parent of the Constitution day celebration; Clement A. Nance, Dr. William H. Reed, Mrs. Mabel Krutckoff, head of the women's division of the Cook county organization; Frank Thompson of Mount Vernon, state committeeman, and William H. Weber, former Cook county chairman.

Cook County Represented.

Of the eighty members of the Cook county committee, Chairman Moore said apparently no more than eight or ten were missing. Most of the twenty-five state committeemen were on hand. With them came other organization men from their districts.

From Rockford came the three organizers of the Illinois Dewey for President club. They are Edward M. Fox, Stanley H. Guyer, and Frederick E. Rundquist. Fox said he proposed to organize clubs all over Illinois for Dewey later.

"This is a very good thing," said Chairman Moore, "for the party organization men to meet the candidates like this and get acquainted and find out what kind of human beings they are. Dewey impresses one as a very likeable man of tremendous energy."

2,000 to Fete Col. Scott, Retiring Hospital Chief

More than 2,000 persons are expected to attend a testimonial luncheon in the Stevens hotel today for Col. Hugh Scott, retiring director of the Edward Hines hospital. Most of the guests will be veterans of the World and Spanish-American wars. Col. Scott, who has been head of the hospital for the last 12 years, is retiring because of ill health.

Window Washer Dangles in Air 10 Minutes; Saved

Adolph Zukowski, a window washer, dangled in the air for 10 minutes yesterday when one of the hooks on his safety belt broke while he was washing windows on the third floor of the building at 113 North May street. He was rescued by firemen who heard his cries in their station near by. Zukowski then resumed his work. He lives at 1739 Erie street.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Do you think the loop pigeons should be killed off? If so, why?

Where Answered.

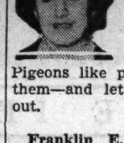
The Answers.

Miss Marion Oliver, 190 East Pearson street, bookshelf supervisor at the library—No, I don't think the loop pigeons should be killed. I think they should be transferred to the parks. Grant park would be a good place to keep them. They certainly are a nuisance. The workmen wash the windows and the pigeons dirty them again.

Max Witt, 3159 Argyle street, secretary—I don't think the pigeons should be killed. I like nature, and the pigeons flying around the loop buildings take me back to the country. Life is fast and furious in the city, and the birds give us the needed country touch. To me the loop would seem empty without them.



Miss Isobel Fleischman, 636 Patterson street, saleswoman—Keep the pigeons, by all means. They don't harm any one, even if they are inclined to be a bit dirty at times. I like them and, besides, when a pigeon crosses my path it always brings me good luck. Pigeons like peanuts. Let them eat them—and let the pedestrians look out.

Franklin E. Coyne, 3303 Carroll avenue, editor—Yes, I think they should be killed. They are a decided nuisance, though I, personally, have never had an unpleasant experience with them. They clutter and dirty up the elevated platforms, the streets, and the loop buildings. The loop would be better off without them.

Mrs. Bernice Cordes, 3824 North Oak Park avenue, housewife—Of course the pigeons are a nuisance in certain ways, but I don't think they should be killed. I like them and I like to see them flying around the loop buildings. They have never caused me any trouble. I think the city should take care of them and feed them.

OFFICES OPENED HERE TO PROBE BUILDING TRADES

Headquarters for the Chicago area have been set up in the government's drive on trade restraints in the building industry, it was disclosed yesterday. Walter R. Hutchinson, special assistant attorney general, has taken offices at 208 South La Salle street to begin the preliminary work in this area.

Richard P. Shanahan, and Leo F. Tierney, also special assistants to Attorney General Frank Murphy, will be associated with Hutchinson. Shanahan is now in Washington conferring with Murphy and Thurman Arnold, assistant in charge of the anti-monopoly division of the department. Tierney was the assistant in charge of the milk and ice cream probe which is now on appeal to the Supreme court.

Shanahan and Tierney will be back next week and, with a number of agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will open work on the preliminary stages of the drive. The next step will be complete investigation by the agents, and then, if called for, presentation of the evidence to a federal grand jury. This stage is believed to be several months away. About 200 agents are now busy in twenty-six cities on the buildings trades investigation.

B. E. WRIGLEY JR., COUSIN OF CUBS' OWNER, DIVORCED

Byron E. Wrigley Jr., cousin of Philip K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, was granted an uncontested divorce yesterday from Mrs. Dorothy T. Wrigley, 32 years old, of Sydney, Australia. Wrigley's bill was filed Thursday by Attorney Denis E. Sullivan Jr. It charged desertion.

Byron E. Wrigley Jr.

Wrigley testified before Judge Robert C. O'Connell that his wife refused to accompany him to Chicago from Australia when the Wrigley company transferred him here from Sydney in 1938. The couple was married in Sydney in 1932 and have one child, Michael, who will remain with Mrs. Wrigley. Wrigley is an official of the foreign department of the Wrigley Chewing Gum company. He lives in the Ambassador East hotel.

Accused Fortune Teller Arrested by Policewoman

Mrs. Pearl Jehlik, 36 years old, 4905 North Mead avenue, was arrested yesterday by Policewoman Bessie McShane as a fortune teller. Mrs. McShane followed Mary Meliski, a domestic in the home of Mrs. Wilbert E. Eastman, 321 South Lincoln avenue, Park Ridge, when Miss Meliski went to the place, gained the confidence of the "clairvoyant," and arrested her after Mrs. Jehlik had told the policewoman's fortune. Mrs. Jehlik will appear Monday morning in Women's court.

U. S. TROOPS NEED MORE TRAINING, GEN. DRUM SAYS

Voices His Conclusions as Maneuvers End.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., Aug. 25.—This nation's most extensive peacetime army maneuvers ended today with a statement that they showed plainly the need for more training of American fighting forces.

Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum.

"While I am gratified with the performance of participating personnel," said Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the 1st army, "the lessons learned make it obvious that without more training and preparedness our cause would be lost in actual modern war.

Ends on Sodden Field.

"The shortage of essential manpower and modern combat equipment has been recognized in all our exercises. While we have executed an army combat exercise and supplied the army, there were many omissions and commissions and, in many cases, a lack of concerted effort and smooth operation so essential to the success of a large force."

The war game was a success, however, because both sides received valuable training, the general said.

The finale of the maneuvers, carried out near Lake Champlain, where colonial troops made history 150 years ago, came on a sodden, rain drenched battlefield with 52,000 participants weary from the strenuous exercises.

Nerves Are On Edge.

The 36,000 National Guardsmen and 16,000 regular troops who had fought each other to a no-decision finish, immediately began breaking camp to return to their home stations and a well earned rest.

Nerves were on edge from the exhausting work, and at least two of the opposing forces again exhibited more enthusiasm than was prescribed for the mythical fighting, charging grimly at each other until umpires intervened.

ADMIRAL WATTS WILL TAKE ELLIS' POST ON MONDAY

Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, commandant of the 9th naval district and commanding officer of the Great Lakes naval training station, will be relieved Monday by Rear Admiral William Carleton Watts, lately in command of the base force of the United States fleet at San Pedro, Cal. Admiral Ellis, who has served at Great Lakes for two and a half years, will assume command of the Atlantic fleet. His flagship will be the U. S. S. New York.

Admiral Watts.

Admiral Watts was born in Philadelphia fifty-nine years ago and was graduated from the United States Naval academy in 1898. He served in the Spanish-American war, was appointed judge advocate general of the navy in 1917, and was in command of the U. S. S. Albany, performing ocean escort service during the world war. He also served as naval attaché at the American embassy in London. He was made a rear admiral in 1931, and has been in command of the Portsmouth, N. H., and Philadelphia, Pa., naval yards.

ASK NEW BOOST AS MILK PRICES GO UP IN N. Y.

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—With milk selling at a cent a quart higher generally in stores here today, a hearing was held on a petition for a further increase in price. Grade A milk was selling at 17 cents and grade B at 14 cents in the stores. Home delivered prices were up three-quarters of a cent to 17¼ cents for grade A and 14¼ cents for grade B. These prices are higher than at any time since May, 1930.

The metropolitan coöperative milk producers bargaining agency has petitioned for an increase in the price paid farmers for fluid milk to $2.82 a hundredweight. The farmers now are getting a base or blended price of $2.15.

Councilman Robert K. Straus, a member of the city's milk committee, estimated that such an increase would result in a boost of 1½ to 2 cents a quart in the retail price of milk. He also said that experience has shown that a price that high would reduce the return to the farmer by cutting consumption.

American Legion Founders to Hold September Reunion

A reunion of the American Legion founders will be held at the September convention of the Legion here, it was announced yesterday. Maj. Stanley R. McNeil, reunion chairman of the convention, said the founders include men who participated in the Paris, France, and St. Louis, Mo., caucuses which preceded the Legion's 1919 charter convention. Among those who will attend are Gen. John J. Pershing, Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, Mayor Kelly, and Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri.

WHILE THE WORLD WAITS.

Apparently there is an idea that the weak spot in Germany's front is Italy. It is only common sense to believe that the Italian people do not want this war. No sensible people would want it, on any terms. The Italian people are ardent, but they are also intelligent and they know they are more vulnerable than the Germans. They could fight Mussolini's wars in Ethiopia and Spain with a minimum of sacrifice and without having their homeland torn up and scarred. They can anticipate the miseries a general war would bring them.

In the circle against Germany there must be some hope that Mussolini may have outreached himself and that the people, headed by the king, desire to remain neutral. Mr. Roosevelt and his closest advisers alone know whether Mr. Chamberlain suggested the appeal direct to King Victor Emmanuel. It did not ignore Mussolini; he was given a copy of the communication and he and his foreign minister, his son-in-law Ciano, made the arrangements by which the American ambassador approached the summer palace.

In April when Mr. Roosevelt sent his letters to Hitler and Mussolini asking for a nonaggression agreement for a breathing spell of at least ten years, the approach was to Mussolini as prime minister. This time it is to the king as the constitutional head of government. It may be the anti-Hitler combination in Europe thinks that constitutional government can be made a living thing again in Italy in the imminence of a great peril. Pro forma that constitutional government still exists. Mussolini theoretically is the servant of the crown and although the chamber of deputies has been reduced to incompetence, the senate preserves the form of parliamentary government.

It may be visionary to put any reliance on the revival of a theory of ministerial responsibility to the people symbolized by the king, represented by what's left of the general assembly. But if the king didn't want this war and if the army was loyal to him, Mussolini might be brought to a strange obedience. Stranger things have happened. This hope would be a mighty frail one.

It might seem no more preposterous than the appeasement of Hitler's Red holy war and his fraternization with Stalin, which, indeed, gives Italy a chance to say that the Nazis have betrayed the anti-communist pact.

Italy is exposed where Germany is not. It is not improbable that the British and French, operating from the Sudan and from British and French Somaliland could take Ethiopia, aided by an uprising of the people and by cutting off Italian supplies. Although that would be of no material damage to Italy in the war, it would be a blow at prestige and if the British and French were able to follow it up with a successful attack on Italian North Africa and capture an army, these military strokes would offset German advances in Poland and leave the Italians to doubt that they were going to fare very well in any protracted war.

Italians may also be considering the possibility of naval reverses in the Mediterranean against combined British and French naval power and reflecting that this is a German war for German gains and that their own rewards will be postponed for a final decisive victory, which may not come. The majority of Italians must view the prospect with anything but delight.

It was to be expected that Mr. Roosevelt would throw himself into the middle of the scene as soon as he could get to Washington from his fishing trip. His friends will say that he should do everything that can be done by a neutral, by the head of a great peaceable power, to prevent this war. Complete American satisfaction with his efforts, however, would require a greater confidence in his peaceful intent. Mr. Roosevelt has not been a neutral. His friendly offices are not offered by a friend. He may obtain courteous treatment from the king of Italy, but heretofore he has had nothing but contemptuous snarls from the head of the Nazi government. When he reminded Herr Hitler that he had not been granted the courtesy of a reply to his letter of April 14, he only revived the memory of the fact that what he got was a tirade, a reminder of America's soft and easy position in the world and a request to mind his own business.

Many Americans must feel it does the position of this country no good in international affairs to be exposed to the scorn of a man who does not intend to use any diplomatic courtesy when he is addressed by the American President. Mr. Roosevelt has said so many uncomplimentary things of Hitler that the German government throws formal courtesy away and seeks only to be indignant and surly. Americans can't complain. Their government approaches Germany in precisely the same spirit. The German government and the American government are already enemies. For several years they have been open enemies.

If congress had given Mr. Roosevelt the power he wished to obtain by amendment to the neutrality act, his attitude toward Germany would be menacing. He would threaten the Nazis with embargoes. He may be expected to say that this war could have been prevented if congress had given him the power to declare that he would take the side of Great Britain and France and supply them with materials.

Inasmuch as this was his avowed purpose, Americans cannot believe that his present maneuvers mean that every reasonable effort will be made to keep the United States out of war. There is much more reason to believe that Mr. Roosevelt from the start will do everything he can to commit this country to the cause of Great Britain and France. To what extremes these steps will lead, the country may learn from month to month, remembering as a guide what happened in the world war.

Mr. Roosevelt already has outdone anything Mr. Wilson did in 1914. In that year, on Aug. 4, when England declared war on Germany, the President proclaimed the neutrality of the United States and asked that it be that in thought as well as deed. The following day he offered the offices of the United States for peace to the warring nations. But he did so as a neutral who had not taken sides. Americans need not be reminded that Mr. Wilson theoretically founded his policy on what later was the Democratic campaign slogan of 1916 for his reelection: He Kept Us Out of War. He didn't, as the next year was to disclose.

Now as Mr. Roosevelt, full of later day Wilson traditions and ambitions for world leadership, continues his participation in the European crisis, he is acting not as a neutral but as one of the leading protagonists. Very likely Mr. Wilson didn't like the kaiser any better than Mr. Roosevelt likes Hitler. Americans didn't like that German war machine and military government much better than they like Hitler and his outfit. But they did have then in Washington a healthier atmosphere, at least a greater pretense for the interests and welfare of this country, than is shown in Washington today.

If Mr. Roosevelt's impulses had no subtle political pattern to guide them he would still be an uncertain figure at this time. Many people view him with justified apprehension. He has tried several master strokes and it is to be feared he has by no means exhausted his efforts. The country would feel safer if he were more composed and less excited. He is shielded by the feeling that it would be a blessing if any intervention could persuade Europe to keep the peace. But he is also influenced by the sentiments along the Atlantic seaboard, where many people subordinate their own country to the interests of others and say that if Britain and France go to war the United States must follow them in.

Upon that heresy to the United States of America Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy has been determined.

SLUGGERS' HOLIDAY.

Throwing acid in a man's face and pounding his head with a crowbar appear to be regarded by the police of Chicago as minor offenses, like peddling peanuts without a license. The police take the position that if you don't approve the conduct of a neighbor you are at liberty to organize your friends in a gang, put them in automobiles and hunt him down. When you catch up with your quarry you are privileged to throw acid in his eyes and beat him on the head with bricks and iron bars. If you are arrested it will be through inadvertence and if you are tried it will be on the assumption that you have committed a mere misdemeanor.

So far as the police are concerned that is all that will happen to the sluggers [or pickets, as they no doubt prefer to call themselves] who in a dozen cars chased a truck for three miles over the streets of Chicago on Tuesday night, beat the crew without mercy, and sprayed them with acid.

The chase started at the plant of the Revere Copper and Brass company where a strike has been in progress for some weeks. The company wished to move a truckload of tools and dies from the plant. Because the so-called pickets had previously indulged in slugging, two squads of police were on guard to see that public order was preserved. The police made no effort to convoy the truck even though it must have been obvious that an attack upon it was in preparation.

The police attempt to excuse their inaction by saying they are not supposed to act as strike-breakers. A lamer excuse could not have been invented. The police are not acting as strike-breakers when they maintain the safety of life and property on the streets of Chicago. The movement of that truck was a wholly lawful proceeding. The effort to stop the truck by means of a brutal assault was wholly lawless and the fact that the victims happened to be transferring goods from a strike-bound plant should have been of no more importance to the police than if the goods had been picked up at a golf club.

When the police refuse to enforce the law equally as against all law-breakers, including labor sluggers, the officers of the law are taking sides in industrial conflicts. The only way the city administration can avoid suspicion of partisanship in labor or any other kind of dispute is to keep the peace against any and all who dare to take the law into their own hands.

The people of Chicago will follow this case closely. The hearing has been set for Sept. 12. The three men who were arrested through the courage of Policeman Hibsch of the Austin station were the first labor sluggers to be caught red-handed in some years. They should be held to the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to kill and the grand jury should require them to tell who their companions were. The prisoners know who organized their activities and who engaged in them. If they won't tell, they are guilty of contempt and can be held in jail until they change their minds.

The present plan of the police to hold these men for a misdemeanor, if it is persisted in, should not be tolerated for a moment by the state's attorney or the court. If crowbar wielders and acid throwers are not to be charged with a felony every potential hoodlum in this town will be encouraged to slug, maim, and kill in pursuit of private advantage.

WELL, WHY NOT BUY 'EM?

[Danville (Ill.) Commercial News.]

Lieut. Gen. Drum says the 1st army he is commanding at the Plattsburg maneuvers has only 23 per cent of its paper strength, and that there exists a shortage of 67 per cent in machine guns, 83 per cent in trucks, and 57 per cent in automatic rifles.

How near to war strength specific units should be maintained is a matter for the experts to decide. What makes us downright mad is this oft repeated statement that there are not enough guns, trucks, etc., for an army of only 200,000 to 300,000 men at most.

If not, why not? For years we have been appropriating hundreds of millions of dollars annually for the army. Even $100,000,000 would surely buy a lot of machine guns, trucks, and rifles. Yet Gen. Drum, like his predecessors, wails about this shortage.

Admitting that weapons change, how is it that years of large and increasing appropriations for the army still find us short of ordinary equipment—not for a great force but for the relatively small, trained field force we require?

The money is available. Somebody has been dreadfully slow about using it effectively.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A GREAT DAY IN PRINTING.

Since this is a world's fair summer, let us recall what happened forty-six years ago today in Machinery hall of the Columbian Exposition in Chicago. A strange looking invention gave a public exhibition in mechanical typesetting; its product was assembled and run through presses; and in the surprisingly short period of sixty-three minutes a four page bulletin of news and comment concerning the occasion, about 3,500 words in length, was published for general circulation as a souvenir. This event marked the debut of the Mergenthaler linotype machine, which revolutionized the art of printing.

Three of the machines were used in this operation, and part of the "copy" came by telegraph and long distance telephone. A telephone message by Chauncey M. Depew, in New York, was dictated to a linotype operator for setting; a greeting from George R. Davis, director general of the fair, was dictated by phonograph. The printing of these souvenir bulletins continued through the day. A glance over one of them, presented to this column by Harwood Frost, persuades us that it is free from typographical errors, in spite of the haste in which it was published.

The little paper contained a program of the day's events in and around Machinery hall, in which we find this rollicking item:

"1:30 p. m.—A water battle between two crews of four men each, placed on a flatboat in the center of the lagoon, each crew having a water nozzle fed from powerful Worthington pumps in the building—water at eighty pounds pressure. These crews are from the boiler and engine rooms of Machinery hall, and will fight against each other for a prize of $20, the crew driving their antagonists off the boat winning the prize."

TUT-ANKH-AMEN'S TRUMPETS.

Across the centuries they blow—
These trumpets of a king.
How musical the notes that flow,
How bravely trumpets ring.

In Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb they sought
These instruments, long laid
In utter silence: these were brought
To radio and played.

Dead music now has risen, lives
In pæan notes of praise:
Not war, but temple music gives
Its blessing to our days.

Across the centuries they blow—
Three trumpets for a king;
Their tomb-bound melodies now flow:
Triumphant trumpets ring!

Big Chief Chicagou Live Many Moons.

The late Judge William N. Gemmill, in his book, "Romantic America," has this to say about the origin of Chicago's name:

"It is, however, pretty well established that the name was derived from a noble old Indian chief who in 1674 accompanied Father Marquette down the east side of Lake Michigan, and camped for a while on the present site of the city. In 1724, the same old chief, Chicagou, accompanied Father Beaubois to France and was decorated by the king. His name appears again in 1736 as the leader of the Indians allied with the French under Jean Vincennes and D'Artaguette." Philardee.

[Note by Linemaster: If he was an old chief in 1674, in 1736 he must have been the world's oldest Indian.]

A Star Fell on Lincoln Park.

We took a walk in Lincoln park and stopped to admire the statue of Schiller, German poet and dramatist. Our startled eyes beheld there, on its pedestal, the six pointed star of David!

Says the wife: "He couldn't have been so hot. They gave him only one star!" B. B. B.

SUMMER'S FLIGHT.

I saw her lying on the hill,
A summer cloud beneath her head,
And in her hair was twined a wreath
Of mallow dripping red.

She quivered in her sleep, then woke
And laughing dried each tear-filled eye;
With a startled look she traced black wings

A New Hobby: Watching Super Trains.

I maintain that I have found a paradise for those who enjoy that most exciting and invigorating of hobbies, watching fast trains. I like to find a straight stretch of track where some streamliner comes catapulting by, while I glory in its beauty, its power, and, most of all, its speed. In this way I have watched the Ann Rutledge, the Abraham Lincoln, the Super-Chief, Chief, the Commodore Vanderbilt, the Twentieth Century, the 400, etc.

But of all places to watch trains, I suggest the town of Sturtevant, Wis., on highway 11, about six miles west of Racine, where one can see not one but four Hiawathas, in the space of twenty minutes. They start at 1:40 [central standard time], and the last goes by at 2:01. Three are northbound and one southbound, and their speed I should estimate at 90 to 100 miles per hour. Furthermore, they are powered by steam, which, to me at least, gives a much greater impression of speed and power than the Diesel-electrics. This is one of the finest places near Chicago for those who retain their childish enthusiasm for watching trains. The Clergyman from Lockport.

Bulletin from a Boner-Spotter.

In the movie "Juarez," Louis Napoleon refers to democracy as "a government of the cattle, by the cattle, and for the cattle," which he evidently intends as a parody on the words of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. However, not five minutes before, he had received a letter about the result of the battle of Gettysburg. He can, therefore, know nothing of Lincoln's speech, which was delivered four months after the battle. Figaro.

IMPETIGO: AN EXTREMELY CONTAGIOUS DISORDER.

IMPETIGO presents one of our most annoying and disfiguring skin afflictions. Probably caused by the staphylococcus, as soon as it is well established the scaly, oozing blemishes may be noted quite some distance from the original site. No one seems to know definitly what acts as a starter. Perhaps a tear in the cuticle occurs, whereupon microbes from soiled fingers are planted therein. On the other hand, there seems to be some evidence to indicate that the secretions from the nose may be blamed or that the organisms circulating in the blood stream may lodge in a tiny capillary and constitute a focus of infection.

Later comes a slightly raised, reddish site and then the typical blister. If fluid from one of these vesicles is brought into contact with normal epidermis the eruption comes on. We may infer, therefore, that some element exists in this material which breaks down the resistance of the surface layers, thus permitting bacteria to flourish. School children, factory employés, and those about the home are easily attacked. So contagious is it that once it manifests itself, scrupulous attention to cleanliness is necessary to forestall its dissemination.

We can understand the sequence of events. As the thin walled sacs rupture, their contents dry into a gummy mass forming yellowish crusts. Despite all warnings, patients [children particularly] will pick at the "sores" in an attempt to remove the scabs. This tendency may be responsible for extending the lesions to other parts of the body or to companions.

As soon as the diagnosis has been made the parts should be covered with dilute ammoniated mercury ointment—at least at the outset. Additional suggestions involve bathing the affected regions with a solution of bichloride of mercury and employing calomel dusting powder. This plan should bring healing. The régime will not injure healthy tissue and the calomel powder has the advantage of absorbing the secretions.

Recently the suggestion has been offered that ammoniated mercury be combined with colloidal kaolin [clay]. This mixture has the property of taking up the exudate, thus forming a firm, antiseptic coating. Numerous trials by Pratt and others testify to its value. Not only is dispersion to other portions of the skin prevented but recuperation is greatly shortened.

In a recent series of 111 cases, more than half got well in less than two weeks. This medication seems to be effective whether the area is large or small. All proceed to recovery at about the same rate. Contrasting this program with the older treatment, it was found that twice as many were relieved in the minimum time—a week or ten days. In fact, these authors conclude that the period is cut in half when compared with those subjects with whom ammoniated mercury only is employed.

When this malady strikes the newborn there may be widespread destruction of skin. Furthermore, some of the victims may be quite ill. In the Cambridge, England, epidemic of a few years ago there were two fatalities. This means that all precautions must be taken to place every infant in sanitary surroundings—especially for the first few weeks of life. The nurse must wear a gauze mask over the mouth and nose, don rubber gloves, and sterilize thoroughly all articles that may touch the babe.

Should a case appear in a nursery, complete and strict isolation is imperative. It may be necessary to remove not only the child to another part of the hospital but the mother as well. Even a complete change in the personnel may be demanded—all in an effort to get rid of the one who is a possible carrier of the disease. Epidemics in hospitals have been traced to visitors [including other children in the family], mothers, and physicians and nurses.

In the kaolin compound we probably have an important healing adjunct chiefly because spread is prevented. Confined to a few spots, toxin absorption is less and the chance of some constitutional manifestation, such as fever, is reduced to a minimum. It is only when a sizable surface becomes involved that we would expect the little patient to be sick. But this is exactly what happens with those who have just come into the world and who are struggling to adjust themselves to life.

SALT MUST BE REPLACED.

O. B. H. writes: I have heard that if salt is added to the drinking water during the dog days heat prostration will be avoided. I was under the impression that we all take too much of this substance with our meals. If this is true, why is it advisable to take an additional quantity?

REPLY.

When one perspires profusely the tissues lose a substantial quantity of salt. This amount only should be replaced. Symptoms of heat prostration are far more likely to appear if the body lacks its normal quota of minerals.

PROBABLY ARTHRITIS.

E. S. S. writes: What causes cramps in fingers and joints that are inclined to enlarge? There is slight pain. I am a vegetarian and drink a quart of milk daily. Would that much calcium cause it?

REPLY.

Probably arthritis. More calcium is needed rather than less. There is probably some upset in metabolism, the exact nature of which we do not know. Heat and massage will be helpful.

MAY BE HEREDITARY.

I. B. writes: One of my breasts is considerably smaller than the other. Is it possible that the glands are not functioning properly?

REPLY.

This may be hereditary or it may be due to some minor circulatory condition. If the endocrine glands were at fault both breasts would react alike. Treatment would be ineffectual.

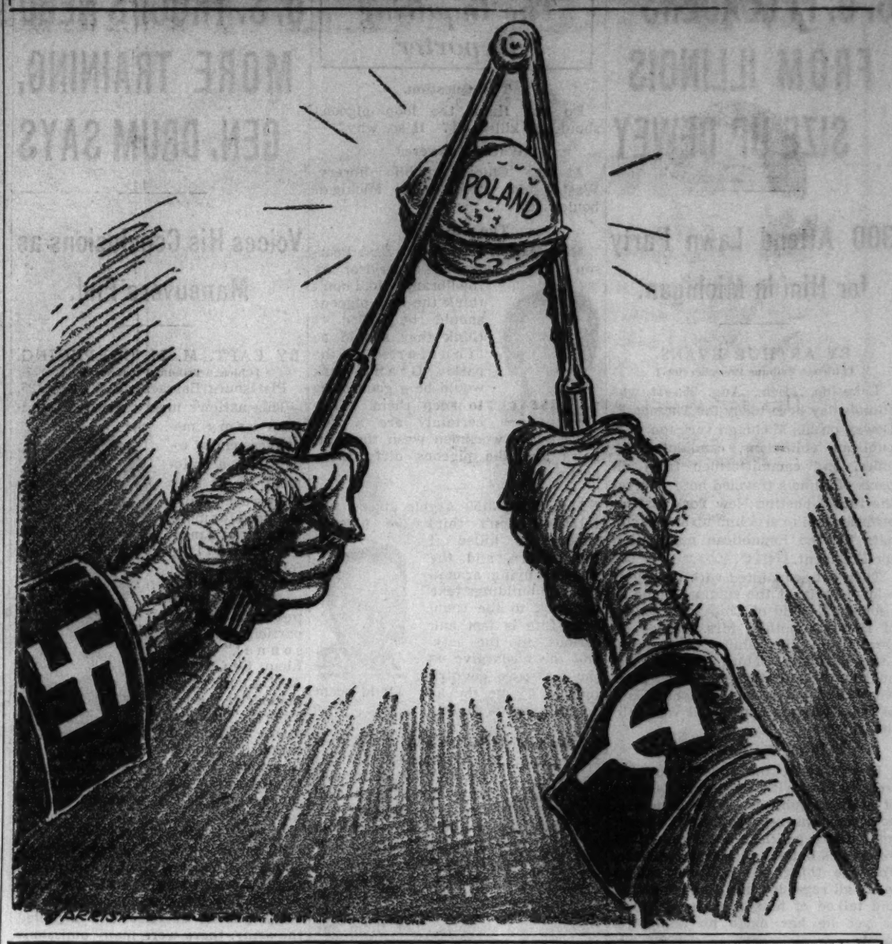
BOILING IS SAFEST.

M. K. G. writes: I am taking my children to the country where the milk is not pasteurized. What precautions should be taken?

REPLY.

If the cows have been tested for tuberculosis and undulant fever—and have been found free—there is little danger. The safest procedure, however, is to boil the milk.

THE SITUATION IN A NUTSHELL



VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

WILL THEY BE PUNISHED?

Chicago, Aug. 23.—I've just read your editorial about the gang of sluggers who attacked the brass company's truck and beat the crew with bricks and iron bars. The editorial should have been on page 1. I was one of the spectators and Officer Hibsch deserves a great deal of credit for grabbing and arresting two of the toughs.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—I'll gamble that the attack by the labor toughs on the Revere company's truck will be repeated again and again. The persons arrested red-handed in this case will probably pay a small fine and be released without further questioning. The racket urge of the population should be purged. You see it in every form—even our laws have some racket at the roots. Can you do anything about it? E. F.

PROUD OF HILLBILLIES.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 23.—So Helen A., writing in THE TRIBUNE, is ashamed of being called a hillbilly?

The people of southern Illinois are largely hillbillies in the broadest sense of the word—living in log cabins, fishing and hunting a little, farming some, etc. The new oil country is full of this kind of people. And there are hills in southern Illinois, too. The foothills of the Ozarks stretch across the lower portion of the state. If there are hills and people who live in hills are called hillbillies, then these folk of southern Illinois are hillbillies. But why should any one be ashamed of that? People who sneer at hillbillies are usually the ones that rave about what fun they have roughing it in the mountains on vacations!

The real hillbilly has a proud heritage—many of them can trace their ancestry back to the time of the revolution.

BORN IN CHICAGO.

WOULD GO EASY ON STALIN.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 22.—You'll have to be more careful in the way you treat Joseph Stalin. You have had some cartoons and comments about him that were not complimentary. For instance, the cartoon about his friends. Don't you know that Stalin has friends in the very highest places in this country?

Don't you know that Stalin is a friend of the "workingman," that he is a "liberal", and a "humanitarian"? Don't you know that his friends in this country support the New Deal and those who oppose the New Deal are "reactionaries," "tories," "labor baiters" and what not? Stalin is a progressive; he initiated "purges," and some of his followers here have tried to do the same, although they haven't tried the blood purges yet; we haven't progressed that far. But the New Deal is very progressive and may get to that yet. J. P. G.

TABLETS FOR DEAD WORKMEN.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Why not memorialize men who lose their lives in subway construction with tablets in the various stations—or go further and erect a life-like statuary group, say, at the Madison-Dearborn station?

Were all who give their lives in construction anywhere so memorialized would it not increase mutual understanding? Such a project might also remind the citizen that ordinary human advancement realized through ordinary human beings can be as dramatic and valorous as war. LINCOLN EDMANDS.

TO GERMAN-AMERICANS.

Muscatine, Ia., Aug. 22.—If the statements made before the Dies committee relative to Nazi un-American activities are correct, the law abiding, patriotic Americans of German descent should take it upon themselves to rid America of the Nazi bunds. MAE F. HAMMER.

LOOKING FOR SNAKES.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—A letter in your column asks if there are water moccasins in the north. There are two places I know of. One is in the state park at Channahon, 13 miles south of Joliet. Another, much farther north, is where U. S. 31 crosses Great Sable river, 25 miles northeast of Ludington, Mich.

I have seen the kids play with the young ones as they do with grass snakes, and if they see a larger one floating they dive at it and slap and stun it.

To meet up with a moccasin on dry land or in a swampy place is different. Then beware. N. N.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—In reply to Mr. Harry H. Dwyer, water moccasins are to be found in both Illinois and Indiana. Of late they have increased in number and may be found in most rivers and lakes in both of these states as well as in Michigan and Wisconsin.

In the last few years I have destroyed two—one in a small lake near La Porte and the other in the Fox river near St. Charles. However, to the best of my knowledge, water moccasins have never been known to bite a person while in water. They will bite on land if teased or stepped on, and are found to be very poisonous. F. J. BUSSONI.

WOULD THE "PROXIES" BE WILLING?

Hampshire, Ill., Aug. 22.—Toward solving unemployment may I suggest that persons found guilty of such crimes as traffic law violations and who are employed, be permitted to have their jail sentences served by persons who may volunteer from the unemployed rolls. The guilty person to pay to the person serving the time as proxy a wage not less than the prevailing wage scale for labor during the entire time prescribed by the sentence. This would provide a direct method of aiding the unemployed and would not interrupt the normal work of the person who has a job, and would open a new field of opportunity to many who have had no real gainful employment for many years.

TRIBUTE TO GAAR WILLIAMS.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 23.—Just a line to express real appreciation for the reprinting of Gaar Williams' cartoons; hope that you will continue the series indefinitly and later publish these cartoons in book form. The re-printing of these cartoons is a fine tribute to a great artist and is genuinely appreciated.

L. J. R.

Churubusco, Ind., Aug. 24.—You probably always hear from your readers when something meets their disapproval, but it occurred to me that I should write this letter of commendation.

We were always interested in the Gaar Williams cartoons and the series of reprints you are now running has pleased us a lot. We have commented on the "timelessness" of those cartoons. So many of them are just as applicable today as when he drew them.

We hope that you can give us these reprints for a long time.

ESTHER EMRICK.

SOLVING A DOG PROBLEM.

Downers Grove, Aug. 23.—We used to have a lot of persons in our town turning out their pets. Now no one does this. The farmers in the south end of Du Page county have orders to destroy any stray dog or cat at their discretion.

Any stray is promptly sent to the village pound; fed and watered for two days. If owner does not show up and claim it, animal is destroyed, buried. Results: No stray dogs; no rabies; no stock loss—would suggest taking of license number. There is a $25 fine for abandonment of pets. G. L. BANTA.

FOR A NEW BRIDEWELL.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Since Mayor Kelly has a "drag" with the New Deal I suggest he ask Washington for some of that "easy money" and use it for a good cause, the real need being a new House of Correction. The old buildings should be demolished.

I hope THE TRIBUNE will expose the old Bridewell and help to make the authorities realize a real need for better conditions even for unfortunates.

MAKING OF WILL.

Chicago, Aug. 19 [Legal Friend of the People].—I am owner of a farm in Wisconsin. I have two grown children, both married, but they do not care to work on the farm. I am ready to make a will.

1. Will it be legal not to give the children anything?
2. Can I make the will in favor of people that are not related to me?
3. Can I name an executor in my will?
4. Is an executor appointed by the court?
5. My insurance policy is signed in favor of my brother. Is that all right?
6. I would like to have everything according to the law of Wisconsin. T. A.

1. Yes, in the sense that a parent has a technical right to disinherit his children, but such a will invites contest and hence it would be wise to employ an attorney to make sure the job is done right.
2. Yes, but your children would be likely to claim undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity.
3. Yes.
4. See 3.
5. Rights in the insurance policy would depend on its wording. We suggest that you take the matter up with the home office of the company.
6. The best way to be sure would be to employ an attorney.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BUILDING REPAIRS.

Chicago, Aug. 17 [Friend of the People].—Please bring the following to the attention of the proper city inspectors: The porch on the side of our house is just about ready to cave in and we are afraid to go out on it. We told the landlord about it, but he does not care. There is only the rear entrance and exit, therefore it is important that this be repaired. Further, is there a fire ordinance requiring a rear and front exit? I am writing this at the request of my grandparents, who are in the seventies and confined inside. M. B.

Owner of the premises mentioned has been ordered to repair and put all porches in good and safe condition, and to provide means of egress for occupants of second floor, as required by ordinance.

Failure to comply with our notice within the time allotted will result in the city proceeding as the law directs.

RICHARD E. SCHMIDT,
Commissioner of Buildings.

WARNS SENIORS AGAINST FLASH IN PAN SUCCESS

510 Awarded Degrees at University of Chicago.

Graduating seniors at the University of Chicago got this parting bit of advice yesterday:

Staying power, as demonstrated by dependable and consistent high performance, and not flashy brilliance or mere good looks, is what it takes today to achieve success.

The speaker, at the August convocation on the Midway, was Prof. John Edward Anderson, director of the Institute for Child Welfare at the University of Minnesota. Following his address Frederic Woodward, vice president of the university, conferred degrees on 510 candidates, bringing the total degrees awarded since last August to 1,714.

Good Work Habits Needed.

Prof. Anderson declared that scientific research demonstrates that consistently good performance is far more important than a few spectacular achievements.

"The ability to repeat again and again at a high level of performance determines an individual's position in his group," he said.

"Even in the case of the very attractive person or persons with highly prized skills, over any significant period their position is determined by dependability and consistency. However great the quality of the individual's mind or his aptitudes they will avail him little in the absence of good work habits."

Tells Marks of an Adult.

Adults must recognize and meet their responsibilities if they wish to behave as adults, Prof. Anderson warned.

"As a person moves toward maturity he remains childlike in some of his thinking and occasionally reverts to childishness in all areas of thought," he said. "One of the marks of an adult is that he knows and capitalizes on his strengths; another is that he recognizes his weaknesses."

DEATH IN TRUCK HELD SUICIDE.

A suicide verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury in the death of Nels A. Johnson, 39 years old, 6648 North Campbell avenue, a contracting mason. He was found in his truck at Lemont and Iona avenues early in the day. A hole had been cut in the exhaust pipe so that carbon monoxide fumes could enter the cab.

RADIO ACTORS ASK REVISIONS OF RELIEF LAW

The American Federation of Radio Actors, holding its second annual convention in the Hotel Sherman, passed resolutions yesterday in support of the national wages and hours act and the restoration of the federal theater project. It also asked elimination of two provisions of the federal relief act. These are the requirement of 130 hours of work a month for all WPA workers, and the rule that all who have been on the rolls for eighteen months must be dropped. The convention sessions will continue today and tomorrow.

NEW FORECASTER IN CITY TO BEGIN WEATHER DUTIES

Gordon E. Dunn of Jacksonville, Fla., arrived in Chicago yesterday to prepare for his duties, beginning Oct. 1, as assistant to Forecaster C. A. Donnel in the United States weather bureau here. He said he will spend September familiarizing himself with the Chicago forecast district. Dunn joined the weather bureau in Providence, R. I., in 1924. For the last five years he has been assistant forecaster in the bureau at Jacksonville. In Chicago he succeeds J. R. Lloyd, who went to Kansas City, Mo., on Aug. 1, to become chief of the bureau there.

ACT IN WISCONSIN TO SECURE WAVE LENGTH OF WMAQ

Madison, Wis., Aug. 25 [Special].—A bill directing the attorney general to seek authority from the federal communications commission to expand the state owned radio station WHA to take over the wave length, power and broadcasting time of station WMAQ, Chicago, was advanced today in the Wisconsin assembly.

The assembly, voting 47 to 35, advanced the measure to third reading.

The bill would appropriate $9,800 to the attorney general for special counsel to conduct the case. The bill also would appropriate $106,500 to equip and enlarge WHA if the FCC grants authority, and $126,000 annually to operate it.

The bill contemplates elimination of WLBL at Stevens Point, Wis., companion station of WHA. At present both are confined to 5,000 watts of daytime power and must sign off at sunset. The power sought is 50,000 watts. Assemblyman William Goldthorpe [R., Cuba City] introduced the bill at the request of WHA management. One of the arguments supporting the bill is that there are three outlets in Chicago for the NBC Red and Blue networks, and only two are necessary.

CLOUDBURST HITS ST. LOUIS; 4 DEAD IN STORM'S WAKE

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25 [Special].—A devastating cloudburst and electrical storm struck St. Louis today following a tornadic storm in the corners of southwest Missouri and northeast Oklahoma which killed three persons last night. A fourth storm victim was killed in Texas.

Many parts of St. Louis were flooded, in some places to a depth of seven feet. The rain measured 3.7 inches between 4 and 7 a. m. A police rowboat was in constant use.

Hail fell here for a brief period but the damage was small compared to that done in Joplin, Mo., and adjacent vicinity by huge hailstones.

A tornado that swept the area of Miami, Okla., took three lives. A boy, 12 years old, was lifted and hurled into a meadow, a young man died in the collapse of his barn, and another man was killed in the destruction of a concession stand. An Oklahoma man was killed by a falling tree at McKinney, Tex.

KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN.

George M. Johnson, 42 years old, 4630 Hohman avenue, Hammond, was killed yesterday when he was struck by an Indiana Harbor Belt line freight train near the Michigan Central station in Hammond.

Supper Party to Open Zoo's New Refectory

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT is seldom that a formal invitation arriving at a household occasions delight among younger as well as older members of the family, but the handsomely engraved ones received yesterday from the president and board of trustees of the Chicago Zoölogical society did just that.

"With members of your family" are the words that bring joy to the hearts of girls and boys who ordinarily are not included in invitations their parents receive to 7 o'clock supper parties. The occasion will be the opening of the new refectory building in the zoölogical park at Brookfield on Friday evening, Sept. 8.

Other words that please young and old alike are those that bid the guests "come early and do some visiting among the animals." And the words that delight all masculine hearts are the ones that advise that "business and afternoon attire will be proper," for all men dislike getting into formal attire in warm weather.

If all goes well there will be two baby elephants making their debuts that evening. They are on their way from the Belgian Congo, and Robert Bean, assistant director and curator of mammals at the park, reported yesterday that he just had heard from Capetown that the jungle belles are alive and thriving. It is expected that they will reach Chicago on Sept. 6 or 7. Traveling with them are three African antelopes, which also will be on view for the first time the night of the supper party.

Mei-Mei Getting to Be a Big Girl.

Mei-Mei, always a favorite, will be receiving that night, of course. Any one who hasn't seen the giant panda in some time will be astonished, perhaps, at her size, for the young lady now weighs about 200 pounds. A yak, two otters, and two tigers are among other young animals new in the zoo. The grotto where the otters are sliding through life is new, too, and so is the den in which the tigers live.

The hosts that evening will be John T. McCutcheon, president; John T. Pirie, John Wentworth, and John P. Kellogg, vice presidents; Graham Aldis, secretary, and Solomon A. Smith, treasurer. Also Herbert E. Bradley, Hayden B. Harris, John R. Magill, Dr. Wilfred Osgood, Francis E. Manierre, Frank Hibbard, James Simpson, Alfred E. Hamill, Clay Judson, James B. McDougal, Dr. Frank R. Lillie, Boardman Conover, George F. Getz Jr., Leon Mandel II., Stanley Field, George B. Dryden, James R. Offield, Charles H. Schweppe, and Commissioners Clayton F. Smith, Daniel Ryan, and Maurice F. Kavanagh, who are the other trustees in addition to the officers.

Plan Parties for Subdeb Visitors.

The Lake Forest subdebutante set will be in a whirl next week with the parties planned for Mary Louanna Jelke and her house guests, Mary and Jane Moller of Middleburg, Va., who are arriving today. They are the twin daughters of Mrs. DeLancey Nicoll of Middleburg, and attend the Greenwood school in Ruxton, Md., with "Lana" Jelke, who is Mary Moller's roommate.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., Miss Jelke's parents, will give an informal dance next Friday night at their farm in Millburn. Mrs. John E. Hughes, who has four attractive young sons of preparatory school and college age, will entertain for the twins at the Onwentsia next Thursday night.

Miss Jelke will leave Sept. 5 for Newport, R. I., to visit her uncle, Frazier Jelke.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Maher are entertaining at dinner tonight at their home in Lake Bluff for Mrs. Ffoulke-Smith Dewey, who arrived yesterday with her sons, Chauncey and Albert III., for a visit with the Mahers and their sons, Philip Jr. and Hilary. Mrs. Merrill Hubbard is giving a luncheon tomorrow at her home in Lake Forest for the Washington visitor.

Mrs. Maher expects her sister, Mrs. John Bittner, of Jacksonville and New York, to arrive the second week of September for a visit.

Plan Reception for E. Alexander Powells.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gale Taylor have cards out for a reception on Saturday, Sept. 9, at their home, Brae Burn farm, in Algonquin, for their son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Gale Taylor III., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Alexander Powell.

Mrs. Powell is the former Florence Taylor. She and her husband—they were married last January—live in Montecito, Cal. They have been traveling in the south and east and will arrive here on Sept. 5 to spend two weeks with the Taylors before going on west.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Johnson are giving a dinner-dance this evening at the South Shore Country club for their debutante godchild, Miss Patsy Blackett, daughter of the Hill Blacketts of Winnetka.

On Sept. 13 Mrs. George Parker will give a luncheon at her home for the bud, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Galloway have planned a barbecue supper for the 17th. This will be in the nature of a farewell party for all the boys and girls who are going back to school.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Crosby.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 25.—It has been just about fourteen years that Bing Crosby has been singing professionally. . . . It was in 1925 that he stepped on the stage of the Clemmer theater, at Spokane, and signaled nervously to the organist to go into the introductory bars of "Red Hot Henry Brown."

The applause of the audience was perfunctory when the 21 year old kid finished and bowed off. . . . They didn't know that they had just attended the professional début of a singer who, through the enlarged focus of radio and the movies, was to become better known than Enrico Caruso. . . . To them he was just a home town kid with tones better than average.

Since that first appearance in a movie house it is impossible to figure out how many songs Bing Crosby has sung. . . . Thousands of 'em. . . . Yet he had no difficulty in telling me the three songs that he'd select as the top tunes of his career. . . . In the order in which he recalled them, they were: "Sweet Leilani," "Home on the Range," and "Pennies from Heaven."

Bing is of the opinion that his singing talent was passed along to him by his father. . . . His dad never was a professional, but in all of the amateur musical productions in Spokane his pappy contributed a robust tenor to "Pinafore" and similar light operettas. . . . From his mother, whose maiden name was Harrigan, Bing believes he got an Irish heritage that has figured importantly in his career.

I asked Crosby to reshuffle the fourteen years of his professional life and select the incident that gave him his greatest thrill. . . . "That's easy," he grinned. . . . "It was in 1927 and Al Ringer and I were doing a song act in vaudeville. Our big ambition was to get a job with some dance band and sing the vocals. We didn't aspire too high. That is, we didn't think we could land with a big band, but we figured that a smaller band could use us. It was in Los Angeles, at the Metropolitan, now the Paramount."

He puffed away at his pipe. . . . "We were backstage when we got a note from Paul Whiteman, whose band was playing in town, that he thought he could use us. First we thought some one on the bill with us was kidding us, because Whiteman was the king of jazz. But the note actually came from him and he signed us. That was the thrill that comes once in a lifetime."

Crosby and Ringer joined Whiteman's crew immediately and continued as a team until a few years later when Harry Barris was added. . . . From then on they were known as the "Rhythm Boys" and it was this trio that panicked Broadway.

I can still see the three of them, working at a baby piano on a night club floor. . . . They were hotter than hot, and their style of singing a song was as distinctive as their informality. . . . It was in the lush era of Broadway, before the stem started slipping.

Bing says that his greatest thrill on Broadway was in 1931. . . . The Friars' club tendered him a banquet. . . . What impressed him most was that the toastmaster was George M. Cohan. . . . To the kid from Spokane Cohan was the crème de crème of the profession and he felt then that finally he had arrived.

In the two years in which I've covered the Hollywood beat I've had plenty of opportunity to observe Crosby. . . . I've played golf with him, and a golf course is a great place in which to size up a guy, because it presents crises that demand immediate reactions. . . . Crosby, I'd say, always was a handy sort of a fellow, the type of kid who played any game well.

In the clutches he'd be the kind of a youngster on a high school baseball team who'd belt a two-bagger down the left field line when it counted most. . . . That is the impression I got from watching him playing golf. . . . He has a lot of natural athletic "savvy" and if he has any nerves he's a great actor in concealing them.

Today he's 35, a year younger than your reporter, and we get along swell. . . . It was not ever thus. . . . Quite innocently, years ago, I penned a line in my column that flicked him on a sensitive topic. . . . Crosby believed I'd written it with malice aforethought and the next day in the mail arrived a torrid letter. . . . I always remembered the tag-line. . . . He suggested that I return to the Port Chester paper on which I'd started some years previously.

It was the kind of a letter that you write when you are blazing. . . . He and I never have referred to that scorching letter in the years that have intervened. . . . The fellow who was to blame for it is still out here on the west coast.

In fourteen years no singer of popular songs has challenged Crosby's position as the No. 1 man in his field. . . . He has a style all his own. . . . His tones, his shading, and his phrasing make him a standout. . . . The radio and sound movies gave him a distribution range that no singer of an earlier generation possessed.

Apart from his singing, his greatest enjoyment comes from his racehorses. . . . The first one he ever owned was Zombie. . . . This fall a son of that first purchase will be sporting the Crosby silks.

The Singer Midgets as the Munchkins

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

[Shh-shh! Be reasonable! You can't expect to have a drama critic reviewing movies for you ALL the time!]

"Dedicated to the young in heart." So reads a line in the foreword. And it is only to such that this nursery extravaganza, adapted from L. Frank Baum's beloved book, will appeal. For the dear, whimsical, jolly, occasionally philosophical old friend in modern dress makes no play for the plaudits of sophisticates. Its only mission is to please the youngsters of today and the children of another day who have refused to grow old.

"The Wizard" will make you think first, of "Babes in Toyland," secondly of "Alice in Wonderland," lastly—of "Snowwhite and the Seven Dwarfs."

It is gorgeous, fantastic, radiant with technicolor. It teems with midgets. It is alive with trick photography, is jeweled with hummable tunes, and features a Kansas tornado that makes you want to live anywhere but in Kansas, I'm telling you.

It's this tornado, which, through the medium of a clout on the head by a window sash gone wild, transports by dream express the heroine, Dorothy, to the weird and wacky "Land of Oz"—far beyond the rainbow and the rains.

Here she meets in strangest fashion individuals she has known, but not as she's known them, and a world of remarkable flora, fauna, and folks. Only she and her small dog Toto retain their status quo, two real entities in a maze of unrealities.

Judy Garland was a perfect choice for Dorothy. She portrays, without a false move, an honest to goodness little girl, genuinely flabbergasted, curious, terrified, game, lonely, ecstatic, as the case may call for. She sings charmingly—and you're just going to love her. The principal supporting rôles are in able hands—as a look at the cast will assure you—and the Singer Midgets as the Munchkins are effective in song and ensemble numbers.

The picture IS too long—no getting away from that—there's padding in the last reels that could easily have been dispensed with. But, as I remember "The Wizard of Oz," this 1939 movie version of book and stage play does the old favorite pretty proud.

See you tomorrow.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We had a great number of interesting and enthusiastic letters from boys and girls who want to see "The Wizard of Oz" next week. The names of the hundred winners will be printed in the Sunday TRIBUNE, so the youngsters who will come with me to the United Artists theater on Thursday, Aug. 31, will know of their good fortune without further delay.

August 26, 1939.

A slow day. Don't try to push ahead, especially if it means lack of coöperation with others. With this combination of numbers, 8-26, and the number of the universal year being 4, and your own year 2, if this is your birthday the prospects are for harmony, but not startling. This would be an excellent year in which to marry if you are in circumstances which permit it. Coöperation is the keynote which will find full force in September. This last period of August would be an excellent time for a short vacation and for doing something a little out of the ordinary.

Miss Mary Lou McKisson has only a few weeks to spend on the golf course of the Sunset Ridge Country club, because she will be leaving next month for the University of Michigan. This pretty elder daughter of the Robert W. McKissons of Winnetka already has spent two years at Connecticut college for women.

Four Weddings of Interest on Calendar Today

It is unusual to find an August Saturday with the number of weddings on the calendar that today has. Three will take place at 4:30 o'clock, the hour that is set for the reception following a fourth, that of Miss Elizabeth Williamson Crawford and Nathaniel Edward Duval.

Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson Crawford have not revealed where the marriage of their daughter and Mr. Duval will be solemnized, for it is to be a quiet service in the presence of the immediate families. The reception at the Glen View club will be a large one, however.

Miss Dorothy Warner, the debutante daughter of the Rawleigh Warners, will be Miss Crawford's only attendant. Joseph Duval Jr., who has come from Philadelphia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duval, will be his brother's best man. Also present at the wedding will be the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Carew, and her daughter, Miss Gladys Carew of Boston.

Mr. Duval and his bride will spend three weeks in the east. They will make their home temporarily in Chicago, then will move to the country.

Other weddings will be those of Miss Dorothy Cameron Young and John Fielding Mercer in Lake Forest; of Mrs. Midgley Beggs and Edward Zuver Lewis Jr. in Evanston, and of Miss Helen McCall and Frederick R. Colvert in Chicago.

Miss Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Young, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell Mercer of Chicago will be married in the Church of the Holy Spirit, the Rev. Thomas Rogers officiating, with a reception following at the Lake Forest home of the bride's parents. Miss Marjorie Mercer will be maid of honor, and Miss Ann Loeber, Miss Louise Blossom, Miss Lily Fleming, and Miss Phyllis Peter will be bridesmaids.

Bernard Gutman Jr. of St. Louis will be best man. Ushering will be a cousin of the bridegroom, Fielding Mercer, and John H. Dingle Jr., S. Parker Johnston Jr., and William Keen of New Haven. Following a wedding trip to Asheville, N. Y., Mr. Mercer and his bride will be at home in Elgin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Midgley Jr. of Worthington, O., will give a reception at the Country Club of Evanston following the marriage of their daughter and Mr. Lewis at the First Methodist church. The Rev. Arthur T. Clark will officiate. Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Davis III., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Midgley III., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cody Jr. of Ripon, Wis., William Adams, and Dr. Clifford Grulee Jr., who will be best man, will attend Mr. Lewis and Mrs. Beggs. Mr. Lewis, son of Edward Z. Lewis of Evanston, and his bride will live in Elgin.

Miss McCall, daughter of Richard McCall of Mount Carroll, Ill., and the son of Mrs. Bertha R. Colvert of Attica, Ind., will be married in the John Timothy Stone chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church, with a reception following at the Drake hotel. The Rev. Allan Zaun will officiate. John Curry Hover of New York will be best man for his Harvard classmate. Burke Williamson, who will take Miss Elise Clow as his bride two weeks from today, will be among the ushers.

Judge and Mrs. Lorin C. Collins have gone to Oxnard, Cal., for the marriage this afternoon of their grandson, George Robb Collins Jr., to Miss Jean Eastwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eastwood of Oxnard. Mr. Collins is the son of George R. Collins of Chicago and of Mrs. Roy F. Wilcox of Montebello, Cal. He and his bride will make their home in Chicago.

Shimer Alumnæ.

The North Shore Alumnæ association of the Frances Shimer Junior college is giving a tea tomorrow at the Georgian hotel in Evanston for those girls who plan to attend the school this year.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The designers of the new fall clothes seem to be working under the pleasant delusion that the feminine waistline is small and the feminine abdomen flat. Hips are quite respectable once again; the clothes almost accent them. But the thick waist is going to be fatal to fashion.

We implore you, if you've lost your girlish waistline to begin now to get it back. You can, by dieting lightly and exercising cleverly, trim it down a bit yourself. But if yours needs more than a little trimming you'd better get started on the remolding program.

If you're shapeless you'll simply have to redistribute your flesh. You can't possibly wear the new clothes unless you do. All the piquant little numbers with bustles and peplums will look pretty awful on you if you're not well proportioned, with special emphasis on the slim waist and the perfectly flat middle.

If you haven't sufficient strength of character to exercise at home do some silhouette shopping. You'll be surprised at how reasonably you can buy a new figure these days. Time was when the body department of the beauty salon was an expensive place in which to trade. Not now. You can find courses and classes to fit your pocketbook, and if you take advantage of the summer prices [always lower than those that hold during the busier winter months] you'll save yourself some money.

Exercise in a salon is usually a pleasant routine and there's an instructor at hand to make you do it as it should be done. The massage that follows will do you good 'oo—and that's something you couldn't very well have at home. Then there are invigorating baths available at the salon. These do wonders to work up your sluggish circulation and increase your sense of well being.

We strongly advise you to do your silhouette shopping now.

Bustle Dresses Please, Amuse London Women

BY RHEA SEEGER.

LONDON [by Mail].—Bustle dresses are causing trafic snarls during the afternoon hours. Even the masculine audience is smilingly aware that the restless fashion followers have found a new excitement.

These very different new silhouettes have a most decided elegance. Object while you dare, because they are here to stay for a while. When you can swish around in moire taffeta and bengaline, all cut with a romantic manner, you'll feel once more a lovely lady of fashion. Such dresses demand a new set of smooth manners, more grace, and a correct walk.

High necklines, a center row of tiny covered buttons, long fitted sleeves, and a basque line to the bodice accent the lovely folds around the lower hipline, and the back folds, soft bows, and rather intricate draping that make the bustle effect at the back. And you'll not be overdoing it at all if you wear fine lace at the wrists, or pin quaint, old-fashioned big brooches on the chest, or attach a huge old-fashioned cameo at the throat.

Because stiff, elegant fabrics are "in," these bustle models are undoubtedly more successful than they could be fashioned in less stiff materials. Daytime costumes are Puritan prim affairs with just a small fold or bow high at the back. The more pretentious and intricately puffed arrangements are to wear after four. They are dresses that need the lovely accent of fine kidskin gloves, worn crushed around the wrists and feminine hats that flatter.

Watch the revival of fine costume accessories—the return of smooth classic footgear and handbags that are the very essence of femininity. Pouches are lined with watered pastel silk. The biggest surprise will be thin wool and taffeta dresses, the wool rustling over the underskirts of taffeta, the taffeta showing because of the decorative knife plaited ruffles.

These bustle dresses will take the place of the simple two piece suit dresses or the smart coat dresses of former seasons.

Exercise Can Aid the Too Slender Girl

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

They are partly true, those charges aimed at us beauty aiders, that our heart and feeling is for the girl with too many pounds, allowing the poor skinny ones to get along as best they may. But perhaps that is because the louder wails emanate from the flesh burdened. Further, no matter how skinny the skinny girl is, she's still envied by the overweight one, and especially around shopping time. She's the lass who slithers in and out of the divinely designed twelves and fourteens which the weighted lass covets with all her might.

However, all this ultraslenderness is not well to bear. It may denote that things are not well within the chic little twelve size number. Anemia may be her lot, or some other constitutional disorder. We do feel strongly that the much underweight miss or woman should consult with her physician, as he is the one in a position to direct her course.

Still, gym directors into whose hands some of the underweights fall report a great improvement in health and outlook of girls by certain nonstrenuous exercise forms. One of these gymnasium directors has inaugurated a system to add weight to the "forgotten girls," as he calls them. He suggests the following:

1. For thin arms, scrawny neck and shoulders: Standing in doorway, feet together, chin in, head erect, hands to side, palms in, raise the arms until back of hands touch the sides of the door frame. Press rigidly and hold position for thirty counts, then back to position. Increase from ten times daily.

2. For calves: Standing erect, feet together, hands on hips, chest out, chin in, rise and stretch on toes back to position. Begin slowly and continue on with increasing speed and action.

3. For thin legs and thighs: Start from same position and do deep knee bending, coming half way up and down again slowly, increasing the number of times gradually from a ten-count start.

Cellist Enjoys Debut Success at Grant Park

BY CECIL SMITH.

Lois Bichl, Chicago's most eminent woman cellist and principal of the cello section of the Woman's Symphony orchestra, appeared as soloist with that orchestra under Jerzy Bojanowski in Grant park last evening. The occasion was Miss Bichl's formal Grant park debut, although she has sometimes played incidental solos there as a member of the orchestra.

The audience found both Boëllmann's fluent "Symphonic Variations" and Miss Bichl's performance greatly to its liking. While Miss Bichl's playing can scarcely be called impassioned, it is tasteful in style, gracious in tone, and deft in execution.

The orchestra did not know the accompaniment well, so that the soloist was allowed only limited freedom. Yet under these none too grateful circumstances she won an artistic and popular success. For her encore she succumbed to a cellist's strongest temptation and played Saint-Saëns' "The Swan."

In Beethoven's First symphony, more familiar ground to the players, the Woman's Symphony orchestra sounded well. How this group has come up in the world since a year ago! Mr. Bojanowski's interpretation was wholly competent, except for some insecurity in matters of tempo and a tendency to change his pace at peculiar moments.

Both Jackson and Lincoln parks will enjoy double feature concert bills tomorrow. Because last Sunday's band concerts were rained out, programs will be played in both parks at 3 and 8 o'clock.

The Housewife

Bed ticking has lots of uses these days. It comes in rather narrow stripes in all the pastel colors and in narrow widths. Use it for curtains for narrow windows; it wears like iron. Use it for slip covers for bedroom chairs, for small decorative pillows [edge with thick white moss edging], for place mats for the dining table, for roller shades. And you'll find it makes delightful small lamp shades for bedroom lamps. This new bed ticking is not expensive.

To the Stars

By Gouverneur Morris

(Copyright: 1939: By Gouverneur Morris.)

SYNOPSIS.

Lee Reynolds, promoter of children's acts in the days before motion pictures, is attracted to the tenement flat of the Lichts by the singing of their little daughter, Josefa. Next day he calls with his wife and persuades the Lichts to let him take Josefa into his home and train her for the stage. Two older children, Lena and Eddie, live with the Reynolds. During a stage show Eddie's voice breaks and Josefa goes to his rescue, saves the act, and becomes famous overnight. Josefa is billed as Sheila Doone. Lena hides her envy and hatred of Sheila by pretended friendship. Backed by Producer Leica, Lena becomes a motion picture actress in the infant industry. With Lena's brief day waning Leica signs up Sheila. Lena loses a coveted rôle to Sheila. Lena forces Harry Larch, a leading man, who falls in love with Sheila, to marry her and she retires from the screen. Her husband is accidentally drowned. Sheila helps Lena financially and depends on Lena for business advice. Lena finds a new attraction in Austin Birch, an actor. And Sheila becomes secretly engaged to Ronny Low, her new leading man. Austin Birch falls in love with Sheila and proposes to her while they are on location. She tells him of her engagement to Ronny. Lena's hopes of marrying Austin are thwarted. Sheila and Ronny are married and buy a ranch, leaving most of the arrangements to Lena.

INSTALMENT XVIII.

GLAD AND SAD EVENTS.

"Of course he will take up your contract," said Sheila with a touch of the tigress getting ready to defend her cubs. "Leica isn't a fool."

"Maybe not, but it's a fool business. Here today and gone tomorrow. Thank the Lord we've got the ranch almost paid for and money in the bank. And after all the first of the year isn't tomorrow."

At dinner they discussed the great lovers of the screen. It began by Lena's remarking that that old standby Antonio Morello was all washed up. The public had suddenly sickened of his melancholy beauty and Latin graces. He had received his walking papers. "And now it's all Valentino. Toss a coin and take your choice. What is the difference?"

"Rudy is a dear," Sheila said, "and so is Tony and it's divine to tango with either one of them, and they both like tennis and swimming and riding horseback better than they like girls."

"So far," said Lena, "we have agreed that they are exactly alike. Then how explain that the public is all fed up with one of them and not with the other."

"It's really a simple thing," said Ronny. "It was explained to me by a writer chap——forget his name. He says Tony is negative and Rudy is positive."

"Are we talking about people or electricity?" asked Sheila.

"People and electricity have a lot in common," declared Ronny. "So listen. When Tony meets the girl for the first time, what does he do? He gives her a long, brooding look of melancholy wonder, then he steps backward, clicks his heels together, bows from the waist, and kisses her hand. In other words he behaves in a negative way.

"What does Rudy do? His dreamy, sleepy face catches fire. His eyes snap. He looks like a predatory eagle, the kind that eats 'em alive, and then instead of stepping backward before he clicks his heels and kisses her hand, he takes a bold step forward. That's positive. And that's the difference in the two schools of screen love."

"I wonder," said Lena, "what will happen to some of the boys and girls when this new talking invention is perfected."

"I know a man who's worked on the thing," said Ronny, "and he says the patents aren't worth the paper they're written on."

"The first phonographs made horrible noises," said Lena, "and the other day I listened to an orchestra over one of those radio things, and it wasn't too bad in spots."

"It would be lots easier to act," said Sheila, "if we had lines to speak and the audience could hear us speak them."

"It would be lots easier," said Lena, "to find good stories if the characters could speak lines."

"This writer chap I was speaking of," said Ronny, "says that in the end every picture will be a one man job."

"And who will be the one man?"

"The story teller."

"I don't quite see the writer getting his way about anything."

"I didn't say the writer, Lena. I said the story teller. Look at Charlie. He isn't a writer, but he's a born story teller. And maybe there are others, not so good, but pretty damned good at that, who'd give us better pictures if they had more to say."

"If they had anything to say," Lena spoke with derision.

"They will have. It's inevitable. Who is the last call of appeal on our lot? Emmanuel P. Leica. What does he know about telling a story?"

"Absolutely nothing," said Lena, "and almost less about everything else."

"Why don't some of the born story tellers get hold of some money," asked Sheila, "and make independent pictures and show how it ought to be done?"

"Even that has happened. And there are some splendid independent pictures cooling their heels in Hollywood vaults. The producers have a strangle hold on the theaters and nobody gets to see the independent pictures. They die aborning."

"How rotten that is!" exclaimed Lena.

"Do you mean to tell me," asked Sheila, with a glow of protest, "that if you and Lena and I made the best picture that has ever been made, we couldn't get it into the theater?"

"Not a hope. And it's a shame."

"It's mostly politics," Lena believed. "It common sense and talent ever get control of a motion picture studio hundreds of stabbing, back biting, little people, who are sitting pretty now will be walking the streets of Hollywood."

That night Ronny did not sleep well. The noncommittal answers which Mr. Leica had given to his questions about the renewal of his contract worried him. "Almost," Ronny thought, "he looked as if he was beginning to hate me. It's a funny thing, when they do get to hate you it's in exact proportion to the money you've made for them. If you've made only a little they don't hate you too much, but if you've made millions they hate you like nobody's business."

Sheila refused to be modern. She admitted all the arguments in favor of women going to hospitals to have their babies, but not even the doctor could induce her to be one of them.

One night after dinner Sheila, Ronny, Lena, and August sat down to a game of bumble-puppy bridge. At 10 o'clock Sheila suddenly gripped the arms of her chair, gave a little cry of dismay, and as the pain passed burst out laughing.

The nurse, already in evidence, was summoned and consulted. Ronny himself telephoned the doctor. The doctor said to let him know when the pains were fifteen minutes apart and he would come over. The bridge game was resumed, but it broke up when Ronny trumped his partner's ace, and revoked at the same time. He didn't know what was the matter with him he said, but he couldn't seem to keep his mind on the cards.

At 5 o'clock the next morning Sheila and her boy were doing well. Sheila had never looked so beautiful in her life. Ronny knelt for a little while by her bed and she stroked his hair. The strong young man had been through hell. And now his relief, humility, and gratitude were pitiable to behold. But when he began to cry the nurse pulled him to his feet and packed him out of the room.

Loving all the world and everybody in it Ronny made his way to the butler's pantry and found a bottle of champagne in the ice box. He shared this with Lena. He was in the mood to give anybody whatever anybody asked for. Before the bottle was finished Lena had told him a hard luck story and touched him for twenty-five hundred dollars. She had been allotted some shares in Mr. Scudder's new Hollywood bank, and it would be a crime not to take up the subscription. Ronny agreed with her. Well chosen bank stocks were the world's best investment, lots better anyway than gold mines and oil. He knew by experience.

Thanks to Ronny's check, which was badly needed, and to the champagne Lena was also in a giving mood. But Ronny was so filled with glad tidings that he didn't even seem to know that she was a woman.

The morning mail which was not delivered till lunch time contained a formal notice from the studio to the effect that when Ronny's contract was terminated it would not be renewed.

GASOLINE ALLEY—FATHERLY ADVICE

Unwise to Make a Left-Handed Child Change

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The subject of speech difficulties, the control of various skills by the brain centers, and just what interferes with them and to how great an extent are subtle matters. Even specialists in these and allied fields disagree in their conclusions. Broadly speaking, however, a child's instinctive preference in handedness should not be interfered with. The following letter should be of general interest:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I have been reading your articles on the left-handed child in a right-handed world.

"That his lot is a 'tough' one I can bear witness. I was the eldest of five left-handed children born of right-handed parents. There were left-handed persons of preceding generations on my father's side of the house. Both my brothers were compelled to use their right hands at school, but I didn't submit so easily to discipline, so they finally gave it up as a bad job and I continued to use my left.

"The brother next to me started to stutter as soon as he started to school, but of course no one connected that fact with his school work. [This was forty years ago!]

"There were no such apparent ill effects in the case of a younger brother, but his extreme nervousness can no doubt be attributed in part to this interference with nature.

"That there is a definite difference in the way the brain governs the hands can be seen in the natural slant and letter formation of sentences written by each. My present style is the one I always wished to use, while my natural right hand slant is the one they tried to teach me."

"There was a time when I felt inferior because I was left-handed. One day I happened into the office of Dr. N. and observed that he, too, was left-handed. I remarked about it and told him how I had come to feel about myself.

"He laughed, and whispered to me, 'Little girl, I have never known a left-handed fool.' Dr. N. is a physician and a nationally known author and poet.

"I have a left-handed son of whom I am proud and you may believe when he entered school and faced the problem of trying to do something nature didn't fit him for I promptly repeated what Dr. N. had said and demanded that he be allowed to develop as God made him.

"Trusting my experience may be of value, I am,

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Kitchens over the city of Chicago must be filled with good, spicy smells of pickles cooking, judging from the number of canning and pickling requests that come to this office.

Mrs. H. F. I. is puzzled over the meaning of the directions which state "process for 5 minutes in a hot water bath."

It's a phrase you'll find at the end of many a canning recipe. Processing in a hot water bath is just another way of cooking the food after, instead of before, it is in the can. To prepare the bath, use any large kettle that has a tight-fitting lid and is deep enough to hold jars with space left over. The old fashioned wash boilers are grand for this. Place a wooden or wire rack in the bottom of the kettle—several thicknesses of cloth will do in a pinch—to keep the jars off the floor of the container. Place the hot, partly sealed jars on the rack, and fill the container with boiling water to at least one inch over the tops of the jars. Cover and simmer the required processing time, counting time from the moment when the water begins to bubble. Remove jars and complete seal, except in case of automatic caps which require no rubber bands. These should be completely sealed before putting into the bath. Partly sealed jars are those which are sealed tight and then given a half turn back to loosen them slightly and permit the escape of steam.

How can she put up unsweetened apple sauce for use as a side dish with meat, Mrs. E. A. wants to know.

Make the apple sauce in the usual way, using about 2 cups water to 3 pounds green apples and cooking until soft, but add no sugar. Mash the apples and pour immediately into hot, sterilized jars. Seal at once. Tart apples will keep best.

Yes, Mrs. E. A., cranberries may be put up in the same way. Use 2 cups water to each quart of berries, and cook for 10 minutes.

Here is the simplest recipe in our files for chili sauce, requested by Mrs. F. V., who wants a "common, everyday" sauce:

Chili Sauce.

5 pounds ripe tomatoes
½ pound peeled white onions
1 or 2 hot red peppers
¼ cup salt
4 sticks cinnamon, 5 inches long, broken
¾ cup whole cloves
3½ cups sugar
3 cups vinegar

Pour boiling water over tomatoes. Let stand one minute, then peel and cut in small pieces. Remove seeds from peppers and put through food chopper with onions. Cook spices in cheesecloth bag and in the vinegar for 5 minutes. Add vegetables, sugar, and salt, and cook down to 3½ pints, or desired thickness. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal immediately.

Making jams, preserves and conserves is an excellent way to take advantage of the large supply of fresh, ripe peaches on the market. You'll find many good recipes using this luscious fruit in "Mary Meade's Best Jams and Jellies." The booklet is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 20 cents, or it will be mailed to you for 23 cents in stamps.

Blouse and Skirt Twosome

WOMAN'S AND MISS' COSTUME.

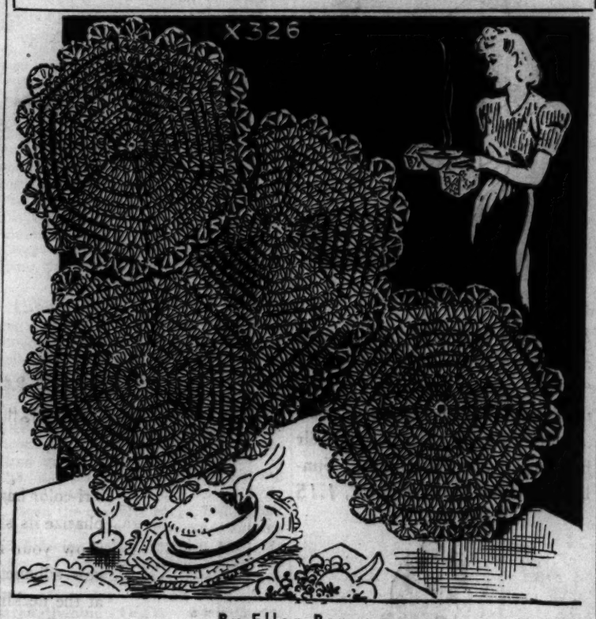
The blouse and skirt idea began many years ago, but it has endured because women refuse to discard it, since it is so practical. So designers every year refurbish the basic scheme and give the costume new details. This version of the mode is one college, school, and business girls should favor for its simplicity. It's easy to make and inexpensive, too.

There is a typical shirtwaist blouse which tucks into the waistband of the skirt. The sleeves of the blouse may be long or short, and there are buttons down the front. The rever collar usually is worn open in a casual way. The skirt is a flared model without plaits. Silk or cotton may be used for the blouse, and woolen, especially tweed, is popular for the skirt.

Style No. 2528 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of patterns and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Crocheted Mats Protect Table



By Ellen Bruce.

Steaming platters and hot dishes leave no marks when polished surfaces are protected with these pretty mats. They are crocheted of heavy cord, using a simple stitch, and are made in sets of three, oblong for platters and smaller mats for vegetable dishes or plates.

For instructions in crocheting the hot dish mats, No. X-326, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

SATURDAY NEWS OF NEW BOOKS

Genial Glimpses of Life in Horse and Buggy Days

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Country Lawyer," by Bellamy Partridge. [Whittlesey House, $2.75.] Published Monday.

Not since Clarence Day's "Life with Father" has there been a book of such genial fun about yesterday's generation. Bellamy Partridge's father, a "country lawyer," at the hands of his son, comes in for some of the same affectionate ribbing that Clarence Day gave his father. However, Mr. Partridge writes more of his hero as a professional man than as a father and by inference more of small town life in the horse and buggy days than he does about anything.

Bellamy Partridge.

Samuel Selden Partridge settled in the little town of Phelps, N. Y., in the late sixties. For fifty years he was lawyer, guide, philosopher, and friend to its 1,500 odd inhabitants. And, as Bellamy Partridge says, in those days the village lawyer was somebody whom practically everybody in town not only knew personally but had to do business with because almost every fence post had a legal paper attached to it coming or going, and when everybody could get his will drawn up for a dollar few died intestate.

More than one case was settled right in kindly Lawyer Partridge's office. Every phase of village life sifted somehow through his files. One of the funniest of the cases which are recorded concerns a laugh-from-the-grave will. Lawyer Partridge regarded it as highly frivolous and tried to dissuade the town's light lady from leaving $2,000 to a dog which had derisively been named for her and the residue of her estate to one of the town's leading citizens who had done everything in his power to ride her out of town on a rail. But she insisted, and from her grave came the designation of the village pillar as "one who had long been a valued friend . . . who, while village president, had treated her with kindness and consideration."

This tale and hundreds of others, funny, sad, tragic, or tragi-comic, are told with a born story teller's simplicity of word and succinct detail. That is Bellamy Partridge's contribution to this delightful volume. His father's contribution, aside from his personality, was a little black book in which he kept notes on cases which especially interested him.

"Country Lawyer" is one of the year's literary pleasures for any adult. Those who remember the horse and buggy as a dashing mode of travel will be filled with nostalgia by it. The younger generation will find its contents deliciously quaint. Every one will find it human.

Epic Tale of Mormonism

"Children of God," by Vardis Fisher. [Harpers, $3.] Published Thursday. Winner of the 1939-'40 Harper prize novel contest.

"For more than sixty years . . . the saints have been a persecuted people, driven from place to place . . . they endured arson, rape, murder, and saw again and again the destruction of all they had built . . ." bitterly cries Moroni, on one of the latter pages of this vast [768 pages], lusty tale of Mormonism.

As this panorama turns before the reader's eyes he sees in vivid detail not only arson, rape, murder, but faith and faithlessness, self-abnegation, and self-seeking, the thunder of actual and of evangelical battles. "Celestial marriage" has a large part in these pages, both as the motivating force of the persecutions which the Mormons suffered and of the dissensions within the church.

Both Joseph Smith and Brigham Young emerge from these pages with a sort of grandeur despite their shortcomings—Joseph Smith passionately preaching nonresistance, believing God will always tell him what to do; Brigham Young, a militant crusader, more confident that God gave him a mind of his own to use.

"Children of God" is an epic tale of American pioneering, and one that, as far as I know, has never been told in panoramic fictional form. Mr. Fisher declares: "In all important matters, this story rests four square upon the most authentic civil and church records. Of all the more incredible episodes, none have been invented, and none I think has been exaggerated." That last sentence might have been—and perhaps was—spoken of another bit of Americana, "Gone with the Wind," whose popularity "Children of God" will inevitably emulate.

Striking Piece of Fantasy

"The Arrogant History of White Ben," by Clemence Dane. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.50.] Published yesterday. September choice of the Literary Guild.

Clemence Dane, who has proved her skill in many forms of fiction and the drama, here essays a literary form new even for her many faceted genius. It is fiction hard to pigeonhole—a sort of symbolical political fantasy of a future dictator, the story of a scarecrow who comes to life and sways England into a revolution.

Many years from now, after the wars have made England almost manless, an old caretaker is complaining about the ravages of the crows who pay no attention to his black scarecrow, and a little girl dresses a new one for him, an arrogant one, all in white, symbolically with a minister's surplice, a soldier-doctor's operating coat, a lover's mackintosh, a hoe for a second leg, and a root of briony from the earth for a heart.

White Ben's mad actions are in the most familiar of the dictator patterns, with the major variation of his being "born" without human feelings. He is, of course, a fanatic about crows, and his followers interpret "crows" to mean whatever people they dislike, and the persecution ensues.

Clemence Dane always writes with deep beauty and subtlety of style. Readers will find here the same pools of lovely prose that make her writings literary refreshment for the reader. Some may find tonic thought in these pages; others may be content to enjoy their literal beauty.

An Amusing Satire

"Authors in Paradise," by Alan Griffiths. [Stokes, $2.50.] Published a week ago Thursday.

Within the framework of a tale of an author who communicated with the spirit of Dean Swift, took his dictation from the "other side" for a sequel to "Gulliver's Travels," published it, and achieved a fantastic success, Alan Griffiths has skilfully and amusingly kidded the business of writing and publishing books. He hasn't missed a chance to stick a clever stiletto between vulnerable ribs. His satire is, indeed, much better than the story which nurtures it. This is an English jape, but not so islanded that American readers won't laugh over it—and not in their sleeves, either.

Two Brilliant Young Writers Record Their Travels in China's War Zone

"Journey to a War," by W. H. Auden and Christopher Isherwood. [Random House, $3.]

With the traditional British phlegm, these two brilliant young writers took their camp beds through China's war zone, having tea with their air raids, dashing off sonnets between visits to the front lines, and then writing about their experiences in a book which lets considerable light in on the true situation in that unhappy land.

Their travels began at Canton, led them northward through Hankow into the Red dominated area in the north, then south and eastward along the battlefront before the fall of Hankow, and at last to Shanghai. Along the way they talked to generals, missionaries, and American and British medical men. They were especially interested in finding out the true relations between the Chiang Kai-shek régime and the communists, and decided that the Chinese leader accepts their help but not their ideas. They also found out that Russia is proving of considerable help to China's armies, and decided that the present cooperative movement to build up a new China in the western provinces is the only weapon that can eventually defeat the Japanese.

Auden writes a number of sonnets inspired by the journey, which are excellent, as might be expected. He also writes a verse commentary that is even more to the point. And to show his versatility, one section of the book is made up of his photographs. Isherwood is the principal author of the prose account, taken from the diaries of both men.

An Italian War Story

"Sardinian Brigade," by Emilio Lussu. [Knopf, $2.50.]

Feeling that Italy, like Germany and other nations, should have a poignant account of the great war in the terms of one regiment and one group of fighting men, Emilio Lussu has undertaken to supply it. And he has done well. Except in the impersonal treatment of death and the horrors of war, the reader will find that "Sardinian Brigade" has little in common with Remarque's "All's Quiet on the Western Front."

There is frequent humor here; much lighter and keener than that of the German book. And this difference is the difference in the two nationalities. Mr. Lussu is concerned with only one year of the war—the terrible contest for the Alpine passes in 1916. The student of history will find little here, but the student of the human race will find much. Mr. Lussu was one of the first Fascists, but he was read out of the party in 1926 and was imprisoned for anti-Fascist activity. He made a spectacular escape to France and is known best to Americans as author of "The Road to Exile."

Two About Guatemala

"Guatemala Profile," by Addison Burbank. [Coward-McCann, $3.50.]

These two books give both the practical and the artistic aspects of travel and life in Guatemala.

The first tells of the history of the various peoples who have lived in or conquered Guatemala, describes the arts and crafts you'll find there today, and goes into detail about the numerous ceremonies and fiestas of the people. In listing more than 200 towns and villages the authors give dates of annual markets and festival days and information about the Indian tribes dwelling there. Even a road map is given, to aid the motorist.

A valuable bibliography and an enumeration of all the means of transportation to and from the United States are at the end of the volume. The book is well illustrated with photographs.

In "Guatemala Profile" the reader sees the land through the sketches as well as the verbal pictures of Addison Burbank. He visited remote hamlets as well as better-known tourist spots, and he observed and sketched the natives at their daily tasks.

"Guatemala Profile" is a charming book, delightful to look at and entertaining to read. The author includes a glossary of many words in common usage, and an amusing series of drawings depicting Guatemala sign language, in case you're stumped for phrases.

Hollywood Success Story

"Remember Valerie March," by Katherine Albert. [Simon & Schuster, $2.]

Now a woman has put Hollywood on paper—one who has played bit parts in the movies, done studio publicity, and scribbled for the fan magazines. Her biting novel might be called a primer for stardom; it actually might be a fictionalized biography of one of the glittering women who dazzle us nightly in our neighborhood theater.

Valerie March was one of those movie-struck girls the directors say are always hanging about the studios in droves. She got to the top, of course, for this is purely a success story, albeit a soaringly ironic one. Stardom and millions, husbands and divorces, art and gin, mink and fan clubs, they are all there and, one supposes, in the proper relation. Miss Albert can write and she must know her Hollywood. Readers of her novel probably would give a lot to learn what part of it is fiction and which of the movie queens are lampooned.

Literary Fare for Armchair Theatergoers

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

"Early Stages," by John Gielgud. [Macmillan, $3.]

"Early Stages" is the autobiography of the English actor, John Gielgud, whose Hamlet was received enthusiastically in New York. Gielgud writes lucidly and informally of the world of the theater and its personalities.

John Gielgud.

He was a great-nephew of Ellen Terry, beloved British actress of a generation ago. He tells some charming anecdotes of her—of her absentmindedness and her occasional habit of forgetting lines of dialog. She and Gielgud's other talented relatives of the theater were profound influences in shaping his career.

Gielgud tells many other behind the scenes stories—of Noel Coward, of Claude Rains, and of the late Leslie Faber.

Gielgud is not sparing in self-criticism. He tells of times when he has overacted and when he has not done his best with a part.

S. N. Behrman Comedy

"No Time for Comedy," by S. N. Behrman. [Random House, $2.]

S. N. Behrman is one of our leading writers of comedies of manners. His technique sometimes parallels that of W. Somerset Maugham, particularly in the latter's brilliant "The Circle." "No Time for Comedy" is now a New York success with Katherine Cornell and Lawrence Olivier. It is the story of a playwright, his actress wife, and the other woman. This third person believes the playwright has a mission to perform; that he should stop turning out sparkling trivialities, which are high in public favor, and should concentrate on the serious drama. How the actress wife circumvents her rival and shows there is time for comedy is wittily told.

Saroyan's One Act Play

"My Heart's in the Highlands," by William Saroyan. [Harcourt-Brace, $2.]

This is just a long one act play which was indifferently received in New York. Saroyan thinks a lot more of it than did the critics. He would have you believe that its vagaries, sometimes poetic, are the foundations of a new theatrical era. It has a limited audience, but should be read.

Drama from Mythology

"The Edda of Asgard," by Ha Rollo. [Putnam, $2.50.]

In a nine act poetic drama the author [who writes under a pseudonym] has gathered the great legends of Norse mythology. The death of Baldur, the machinations of Loki, and the turmoil among the gods make excellent reading, although they might not be successful on the stage. The poetic sweep is somewhat reminiscent of Matthew Arnold.

Dramatized Short Story

"The Devil and Daniel Webster," by Stephen Vincent Benet. [Farrar & Rinehart, $1.50.]

This is a dramatization for operatic accompaniment of Mr. Benet's short story, which is on the way to becoming an American classic. It is the tale of a New Hampshire man who sold his soul to the devil, reincarnated in Mr. Scratch. Like that other Mephistopheles who plagued Faust, Mr. Scratch returns to enforce his contract. But Daniel Webster balks him with floods of oratory and legal cunning.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Knowing your liking for hands in which a player gets away with a psychological coup, I am sending you the inclosed, played last night by my husband in a rubber bridge game. I might say that I was 'kibitzing' him, and on the first trick my eyes almost popped out of my head. Later, he almost bit my head off, claiming that if a defender had been on his toes my gasp would have been a dead giveaway. This was the hand:

"East, dealer.
"North-South vulnerable.
"Rubber bridge.

"The bidding:

East	South	West	North
4 hearts	4 spades	5 clubs	5 spades
6 hearts	6 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

"I thought my husband's [South's] bidding was a shade strong and that he should have doubled six hearts instead of going to a slam in spades. But that is neither here nor there. West opened the five of hearts, East went up with the ace, and my brilliant lord-and-master dropped his heart king without blinking an eye or hesitating a fraction of a second! As I said above, I almost fell out of my chair at this, but managed to restrain myself by a supreme effort. Fortunately for me, East apparently did not notice my break. If he had I probably would have been sent home to mother!

"After winning with the heart ace and scowling at my husband's 'singleton' king, East led back the queen of diamonds. Declarer won with the ace, cashed the spade ace, then took the club finesse. The queen held, and the ace was cashed, South discarding his remaining diamond. A diamond then was ruffed, dummy was reentered with the nine of spades, and a second diamond ruff followed. Another spade to the ten and a third diamond ruff established dummy's fifth diamond and it was all over. Dummy was reëntered once more with the spade king and the established diamond let South discard his deuce of hearts. You should have heard the howl that went up from East and West, especially the latter, when that deuce of hearts appeared! Pretty cute play by friend husband, wasn't it?—Mrs. J. V. S., New York."

Yes, indeed, Mrs. J. V. S. You are to be congratulated on having such an astute spouse.

Obviously, declarer realized that West's opening lead of the heart five was a singleton [the two, three, four were in sight] and that if he [declarer] were to play normally and follow with the deuce, East would know the location of the king and would return a heart for his partner to ruff. Of course, there was a chance that with twelve spades in the North-South hands, the thirteenth might be in East's hand, but this was extremely unlikely. It is unusual enough for a player to have two singletons; that East should hold one heart and no spades was virtually out of the question, especially since his double of six spades was probably predicated on the ability to ruff the second heart.

Enthusiastic approval of declarer's play, however, can in no way lessen one's criticism of East's defense. Granting that he could not know what was going on, there was no earthly reason for a shift of suits. If South had losing diamonds, what could he do with them? East should have continued with the heart queen, not with any hope of taking a second heart trick, but simply because there was no possible disadvantage to that play.

COLLEGE STARS PLAY FINAL PRACTICE GAME TODAY

TEAM IS NEAR PEAK FOR DUEL WITH CHAMPIONS

Layden Lists Players by Positions.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The final practice game for the All-Star football men, now finishing their training for the engagement with the New York Giants in Soldiers' field Wednesday evening, will be held today. The coaches yesterday were not certain whether the scrimmage would be held in the morning or afternoon and there is a possibility that the squad will be transported to a north shore golf club to insure absolute secrecy in the final plans for the game.

Yesterday's double drills were devoted almost entirely to defense for the Giants' attack, although in the last half hour of the afternoon session the collegians went through their own formations with line scrimmage. The secondary was instructed not to attempt to stop the ball carriers.

Layden Picks Lineups.

Head Coach Elmer Layden, after a noon meeting with his staff, announced the changes in personnel of the All-Star teams. He pointed out that these changes were not permanent but were specifically for today's intra-squad game so that the various back field combinations would have opportunity to work with the different lines.

The first team lineup today will include none of the eleven players selected to start Wednesday's game against New York, but this does not mean that these men will not see considerable action. For two weeks the primary aim of the coaches has been to develop as many players as possible for participation in the game and, since these will probably be substituted by units, more than four complete teams may be used. In some positions, however, this may not be feasible.

Some Are Injured.

The All-Star squad of seventy has been listed in the following order but several of these will be unable to participate because of injury:

GIANTS IRON OUT FAULTS REVEALED IN SCRIMMAGE

Mental Lethargy Their Trouble, Coaches Say.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Superior, Wis., Aug. 25.—New York's Giants set out today in quest of the finesse and fire which lifted them to the National Football league championship last fall and qualified them for next Wednesday's sixth annual Chicago All-Star game. Only three days remain to shake off the indifference that marked yesterday's scrimmage against the Chicago Cardinals and the Giants embarked on the quest at top speed in a morning and night drill.

The tenseness that gripped players and coaches after yesterday's disappointing showing was broken only by the annual rookie show, a home talent variety program demanded of new men. The freshmen danced, sang and went in for acrobatics under the direction of Johnny [Bull] Karcis, the Gus Edwards of professional football. Music and lyrics were by Doug Oldershaw, the rookie guard from Santa Barbara State.

Trouble Is Mental.

Coach Steve Owen and his assistants, Bo Molenda and Bill Owen, analyzing yesterday's scrimmage, attributed the dismal exhibition to mental lethargy. Physically the squad is in excellent shape, except for the four cripples who are recovering rapidly. Legs are strong, each man is down to playing weight and at no time in the past week have any of the players complained of or displayed fatigue.

Even the casualty corps, Hank Soar, Ward Cuff, Ox Parry, and Johnny Dell Isola, insist they are ready to play. None has missed a practice session, spending the time running lap after lap around the field, strengthening legs. Assignments have been mastered and all that appears necessary to make the Giants the champions they were last December is the igniting of a spark that will blast an apparent smugness and rekindle the lust for battle. What remains to be done can be accomplished quite easily in the three days remaining before the squad breaks camp on Monday night. But it rests almost entirely with the players themselves.

Mistakes Are Reviewed.

Today's drills were devoted to dummy scrimmage in which yesterday's mistakes were reviewed and corrected. From here on in drills will be designed solely to acquire finesse and rehearse defensive assignments.

Changes in the starting line were indicated today when, for the second consecutive day, Frank Cope and John Mellus were moved into the first line in place of the injured Parry and Ed. Widseth, all-National

TWO PAIRS TIED ENTERING HAGEN GOLF 4TH ROUND

Guldahl-McSpaden and Runyan-Smith Lead.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Ralph Guldahl and Harold [Jug] McSpaden were doing quite nicely last night at the conclusion of the third round of the Walter Hagen anniversary golf tournament being played on the Midlothian Country club course, where Hagen won his first major title twenty-five years ago.

They enter the fourth round this morning with a 5 plus advantage. They will play a team which accumulated enough of an edge yesterday to tie them. That twosome is composed of Paul Runyan and Horton Smith, who lost to Thomas Armour and Jimmy Thomson, 1 minus, in the afternoon, but in the morning's second round they had taken the precaution to win 6 plus from Ernie Harrison and Denny Shute, thus reducing their lead for the tournament, which is conducted on a match play carryover basis, to the 5 plus that is allowing them to meet Guldahl and McSpaden this morning.

Nelson, Metz Are Next.

Byron Nelson, national and western open champion, and Dick Metz are third with a 4 plus average. They accumulated that margin with a 2 plus win over John Revolta and Henry Picard.

Next in line were a pair of 2 plus teams involving three of the old boys' club which is assisting Hagen in celebrating his anniversary and a lad who has been playing golf since he was knee high to a hand mashie. The first were the 37 year old Bill Burke and Ed Dudley, followed by Tommy Armour of the Medinah club and Jimmy Thomson, the lad whose father was a pro. Bill and Ed fired a best ball of 62 against Ernie Harrison and Denny Shute. Armour and Thomson caught Runyan and Smith at a time when they had cooled off and came out of the afternoon with a 2 plus advantage. These two winning pairs probably displayed the greatest teamwork of the tournament yesterday, with Burke and Dudley holding a margin over Armour and Thomson.

Hagen, Sarazen 5 Minus.

Meanwhile Hagen and his partner, Gene Sarazen, after having been tied for second place at the end of the morning round with a 2 plus advantage, wound up with a 5 minus record at the end of the afternoon after meeting Guldahl and McSpaden.

In the meantime Shute and Harrison were encountering, as they did in the Inverness tournament two months ago, a pair of best balls of 62. It took Runyan and Smith with a 33—29—62 to do it in the morning and then, in spite of Harrison's play in the afternoon on the greens, not to mention a near ace on the short twelfth, Burke and Dudley rolled home with a 32—30—62. Burke had a 71 and Dudley a 67.

Tied for Birdie Prize.

Burke and Dudley are working with such teamwork in the search for birdies, which will be rewarded tomorrow night with $200 for the most birdies for the entire 126 holes and seven matches, that they are tied for first with Runyan and Smith at 22 chips at par. The standing as the field enters today's two rounds, starting at 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., follows:

Guldahl-McSpaden, 5 plus; Runyan-Smith, 5 plus; Nelson-Metz, 4 plus; Armour-Thompson, 2 plus; Dudley-Burke, 2 plus; Hagen-Sarazen, 3 minus; Picard-Revolta, 5 minus; Shute-Harrison, 10 minus.

The day's results:

MORNING ROUND.

Hagen-Sarazen [67] defeated Picard and Revolta [69] two up.

AFTERNOON ROUND.

Nelson-Metz [65] defeated Picard-Revolta [67], 2 up.

Guldahl-McSpaden [68] defeated Hagen-Sarazen [71], 5 up.

Dudley-Burke [62] defeated Shute-Harrison [64], 2 up.

Commission Orders Meade to Explain Armstrong 'Plot'

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—The New York Athletic commission today ordered Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, to appear at the board's meeting on Tuesday to explain his statement that his fighter was the victim of a plot in his losing battle against Lou Ambers last Tuesday night. Al Weill, Amber's manager, also was summoned.

KNOTT YIELDS ONLY FIVE HITS IN EIGHT INNINGS

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox yesterday became deeply aroused when Jimmy Foxx knocked his thirty-fourth homer of the season with two out in the eighth inning to give the second place Red Sox a 2-all tie in the second game of the series. Before their anger over the Foxx act subsided seven of Jimmy Dykes' boys had clattered across the plate in their half of the inning. This outbreak gave the White Sox a 9 to 2 victory, their sixth straight over Boston in Comiskey park and their twelfth of the season over the only team that knows how to beat the Yankees.

Jack Knott.

Jack Knott was the winning pitcher, yielding only five hits in the eight innings he worked. He would have had a shutout if he hadn't thrown two home run balls, one to Joe Vosmik in the fifth and that one to Foxx.

They Don't Like Mr. Foxx.

The White Sox became angry at Foxx's homer because they had decided to punish the great slugger for his ruthless behavior the last time the Chicago lads were in Boston, where he beat them single-handed in three games. The plot worked fine in the first game of the series Thursday night, when Jim struck out four straight times for the first time in his life [he says] and then made it five in a row by whiffing the first time up yesterday.

In the fourth inning he lined to Jack Hayes, in the sixth he squelched a Boston rally by hitting into a double play, and Knott got two strikes past him before he knocked his homer.

Distressing as it was at the time, the White Sox were quite willing that Foxx should have his modicum of pleasure with his homer, which served only to take a third defeat off Lefty Grove's ledger.

Here It Comes, Men.

Here's what the White Sox did in that titanic eighth: Emerson Dickman, successor to Grove, walked Larry Rosenthal. Eric McNair knocked his fourth straight single, a shot over Jim Tabor's head after Tabor had come in to play Eric for a bunt. Hank Steinbacher batted for Norm Schlueter and bunted to Dickman, who threw the ball over Tabor's head, trying to force Rosenthal. Rosenthal scored, McNair reached third and Steinbacher second on the error. Johnny Marcum batted for Knott and smacked the first pitch for a single to right, McNair and Steinbacher scoring. Ollie Bejma ran for Marcum.

BABE SIEBERT, MONTREAL ICE STAR, DROWNS

ZURICH, Ont., Aug. 25 (AP).—Albert [Babe] Siebert, 34, defense player of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey league, was drowned late today while swimming in Lake Huron at St. Joseph, Ont. Siebert recently was named coach of the Canadiens for the 1939-'40 season. He made his home here.

Swimming with his two children and a friend, Siebert went after an inflated inner tube which had drifted away from his small daughter. About 150 feet from shore he called for help and disappeared.

Siebert left a brilliant amateur career at Kichener, Ont., in 1925 to join the now defunct Montreal Maroons. After seven years there he was sent to the New York Rangers in 1932. During the 1932-33 season he was traded to Boston. There and later with the Canadiens, he was known as one of the great defense men of hockey.

2 YEAR OLDS RACE TODAY IN $5,000 RAVISLOE STAKES

12 Are Entered; Great Western Draws 12.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Washington Park will bring out its fleetest 2 year olds and its best handicap performers for two stake races this afternoon. Twelve juveniles have been entered in the $5,000 Ravisloe stakes and twelve older horses in the $2,500 Great Western handicap.

Designer and Potranco, speedy Lexbrook stable representatives, which ran one-two in the Prairie State stakes two weeks ago, probably will be the public choices in the Ravisloe. Considerable backing also will go to Dollarville, Inscolad, Sassy Mate, and All Lizzie.

Designer Can Carry Weight.

Since winning the Prairie State, Designer came back to beat a similar field in an allowance event. On that occasion he showed considerable weight carrying ability, withstanding a stretch drive while toting 122 pounds over a muddy track, so today's burden of 120 should be well within his capabilities. All Lizzie, which kept pace with Designer all the way home and lost by only a neck in their last meeting, is picking up an additional nine pounds.

The Valdina farm stable will send a powerful entry into the Great Western, Viscounty and Eagle Pass being nominated to carry the familiar maroon of Emerson F. Woodward. After showing his best form in preparatory races, Viscounty disappointed many of his backers by finishing fifth to Mucho Gusto in the $2,500 Lakeside handicap two weeks ago. The distance of the Lakeside was only a mile whereas today's event is at a mile and an eighth. It is generally believed that the added distance will benefit Viscounty, which likes to come up from well off the early pace.

Her Reigh Entered.

W. E. Maloney's Her Reigh, a stake winner at Lincoln Fields, will be trying again today. He ran well in a tuneup earlier in the week, winning in the closing strides after suffering interference. Mrs. Emil Denemark's Some Count, which gave such a splendid performance against Count d'Or in the Arlington handicap, will also have many followers today.

Many of the betters will be wondering whether Mucho Gusto has another winning effort in his veteran legs. Just when the public thinks the old fellow is about ready to retire to a life of leisure he bobs up and wins another stake. He was a pretty tired horse at the end of the Lakeside and many will be surprised if he's in front after going the mile and a furlong in today's handicap.

Trainer J. J. Flanigan, who has brought the Valdina horses to peak condition during the present meeting, put over another winner yesterday, Valdina Spy beating a field of 2 year olds in a 6 furlong allowance event. Billie Day and Sirocco ran a dead heat for second place, while Valdina Nymph was next across the finish line. Valdina Spy led most of the way, winning by more than a length. The entry was the even money favorite, paying $4, $2.40, and $2.20.

league tackle from Minnesota who was a member of the All-Star squad in 1937. Cope, a rangy, powerful fellow from Santa Clara, has been the outstanding tackle in camp. Mellus' place depends upon Parry's recovery. Both Mellus and Cope are second year men in professional football.

Nello Falaschi of Santa Clara, who was prevented from joining the 1937 All-Star squad because of an operation, worked in Leland Shaffer's full back position in the regular backfield. Soar attempted to take his place in this quarter, but was relieved after a few plays by the veteran Kink Richards.

Tonight's drill under the lights included the inevitable place kicking rehearsal by Cuff, Ken Strong, and Walt Neilsen, the 220 pound rookie full back. Each practice since the Giants assembled here two weeks ago has opened with a field goal session that began on the 135 yard line and gradually moved back to midfield. Strong and Cuff have gone four days now without missing from any distance.

YANKEES CRUSH ST. LOUIS TWICE; PILE UP 19 RUNS

Win First Game, 11-0, and Second, 8-2.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25 (AP).—Two sparkling pitching performances won a double-header for the New York Yankees, 11 to 0 and 8 to 2, over the Browns today and increased the champions' lead in the American league to 10½ games. Steve Sundra yielded only four hits in capturing the first game, his eighth victory without defeat, and Lefty Gomez permitted just three in the second game. Joe Gordon hit two home runs in the first game to bring his total to 23.

AUSTRALIA GETS BREAK AS RAIN HALTS CUP PLAY

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP).—Rain washed out the doubles match today in the Davis cup zone finals between Yugo-Slavia and Australia, but the downpour which at first appeared to be a break for the Europeans later seemed likely to help the Australians more. Ferenc Puncec, the Yugo-Slav star who upset Australia's Jack Bromwich, announced late today that under no circumstances other than injury to a teammate would he play in tomorrow's doubles.

The experts had figured that Puncec would be fresh enough after a day's rest to team with Franjo Kukuljevic in the difilcult task of matching Bromwich and Adrian Quist. Young Drago Mitic will take Puncec's place. With the score now standing 1 to 1 in the battle for the right to challenge the United States, the team that loses the doubles tomorrow must win both the singles matches on Sunday, a job which Jugo-Slavia might find all but impossible.

Tackle Moose Dunstan Rejoins Cardinal Eleven

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 25 (AP).—Moose Dunstan, former tackle at the University of Portland [Ore.], arrived in Duluth today and signed a contract to play with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Professional Football league. He played for the Cardinals in 1938, but retired early in the season with an injured knee.

CUBS LOOK FOR TITLE RAINBOW IN BOSTON RAIN

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 25.—The Cubs had nothing to do today but sit around and figure some more on their possibilities of catching either the pacemaking Reds, the second place Cardinals, or both. They did the lobby sitting, all right, rain having washed away the scheduled work, but from all appearances there was little energy devoted to thoughts of pennant possibilities.

Either the boys are superstitious about talk concerning the number of eggs which might be in their baskets when the season closes, or they just haven't got the pennant fire. If it is superstition, it can be excused. If they really are convinced the Reds are beyond catching, the attitude also can be excused. But if the Cubs can work up a little bit closer to the top, say within about four games when they open at home Labor day, the defeatist complex will be pitched out of the window and there'll be one grand scramble for a slice of world series money, even though it involves risk of life and limb in combat with the Yankees.

Mattick Is the Answer.

The Cubs have been doing fairly well of late and the reason for the improvement is easily found. Business has picked up principally because of the installation of Bob Mattick at short, where there had been nothing but confusion because of the errors of Dick Bartell. Mattick has toned up the infield, his steady fielding has given the pitchers some needed courage and he's done a little hitting. How well he might conduct his chores if the pennant pressure should be turned on is a question. So far he's been as nonchalant as an old campaigner, so the pennant wave, if it arrives, might not disturb him.

Twenty-three games have been played by the Cubs since Manager Gabby Hartnett launched the Mattick experiment. Fifteen of these were victories, a pace far superior to the speed at which the Cubs staggered along prior to Mattick's debut. Only four of the eight defeats in which he has been a participant have been inflicted in the last fifteen games, so, even if you want to say he hasn't helped at shortstop, you must admit he's a good luck charm.

Play Double-Header Today.

Today's washout, the Cubs' first postponement on the road this season, will be hooked on tomorrow's game to make a double-header. Chicago's pitchers probably will be Larry French, who was to have worked today, and Vance Page. The Bees will present a couple of their old men—Lou Fette and Jim Turner—neither of whom, despite their years, can be considered a setup.

After finishing here tomorrow the Cubs move down to Philadelphia where a Sunday double-header awaits them. When they arrive Manager Gabby Hartnett will get a report on the condition of Clay Bryan't working arm. The big fellow has been in Philadelphia for several days taking treatment from a muscle expert.

BERWYN JUNIOR NINE WINS; SEEKS NATIONAL TITLE

Sumter, S. C., Aug. 25 (AP).—The Berwyn, Ill., American Legion junior baseball team defeated Passaic, N. J., 12 to 0, today and won the championship of the eastern region. The Illinois team, which defeated Passaic, 14 to 8, in the three game series opener Tuesday, will play Omaha, Neb., for the national championship.

Ed Goralski pitched five hit ball and his mates gave him perfect support. In only one inning, the sixth, did Goralski yield more than one hit. Then, with men on first and second, he retired the next three batters. Score:

Passaic .....000 000 000— 0 5 4

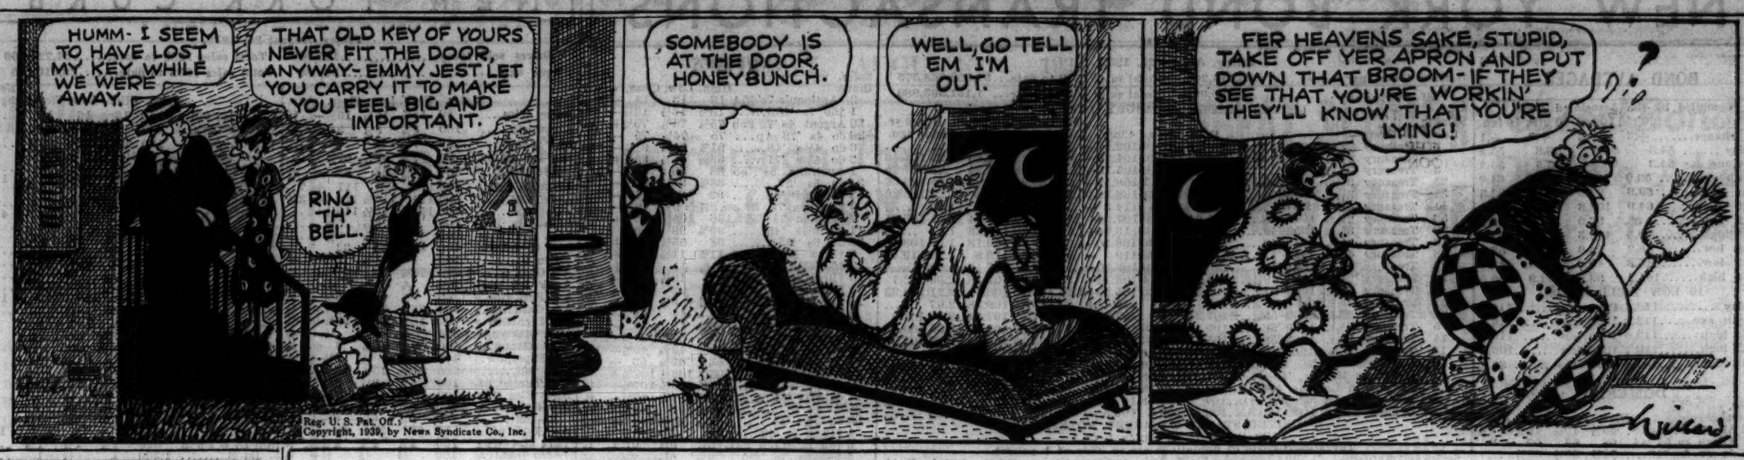
MOON MULLINS—LIE DETECTOR



DICK TRACY—The Find

Sox Score 7 in 8th; Crush Boston, 9 to 2

vich on third, then Gee Walker beat out a bunt on a squeeze play, Kreevich scoring. Appling went to third and Walker to second on a wild pitch, and Rosenthal got his second walk of the inning, filling the bases. McNair socked his fifth straight single, scoring Appling and Walker. Jake Wade replaced Heving and Steinbacher bounced out to Doerr.

Clint Brown made his forty-ninth relief appearance at the start of the ninth. He struck out Cronin, walked Vosmik and made Tabor hit into a double play.

Grove, who gets furious over errors, had a chance to talk curtly to himself in the first Chicago inning. Hayes opened the White Sox offense with a single. Kuhel bounced one right into Lefty's glove, but, in attempting to launch a double play, the talented old gentleman threw the ball over Cronin's head, Hayes reaching second and Kuhel first. The runners moved up on Kreevich's sacrifice. Hayes then scored on Appling's bouncer to Foxx and Kuhel came home on Walker's single to center. Rosenthal flied to Cramer.

The Red Sox were guilty of fuzzy work on the bases in the seventh. With two out Desautels doubled to right. Finney batted for Grove and walked. With the count three balls and two strikes on Doerr, Finney wandered twenty feet off first, where he was trapped on Knott's throw to Kuhel. Desautels reached third, credited with a stolen base, while the rundown on Finney continued, but when he broke for home the rundown on Finney was abandoned and Desautels was out at the plate, Hayes to Schlueter.

RAIN HOLDS UP WIGHTMAN CUP PLAY FOR A DAY

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 25. [Special].—Heavy rains washed out today's opening of the Wightman cup tennis matches just as rival American and English women prepared to take the courts. The first hard showers left the grass unfit for play. The series will begin tomorrow with the same schedule of matches and will conclude on Sunday.

Five singles and two doubles matches will determine temporary ownership of the silver mug that was donated by Mrs. George W. Wightman, nonplaying captain of the home team sixteen years ago.

The singles alone should be sufficient to insure the success of the defenders. Supporting talented Alice Marble in the singles will be Helen Jacobs, former United States and Wimbledon champion, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, second ranking American player.

Two singles and one doubles match are scheduled tomorrow and three singles Sunday. Miss Marble faces Mary Hardwick and Miss Jacobs meets Kay Stammers, England's No. 1 player, in the singles tomorrow. The doubles match will bring together the No. 2 combinations of the two teams, Dorothy May Bundy and Mary Arnold for the United States and Betty Nuthall and Nina Brown for England.

PACKERS BEAT, TIE PIRATES IN DRILL GAMES

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 25 [Special].—The Green Bay Packers and the Pittsburgh Pirates opened the National Football league season here tonight in a double feature under the lights of City stadium. Two games were played before a crowd of 10,237 persons.

Green Bay escaped defeat in the first game by scoring a touchdown in the final minutes of play and kicking the point to tie the score, 7 to 7. The Pirates scored midway through the first quarter. In the second game the Packers scored in the second and fourth quarters and kicked a field goal to win, 17 to 0.

Dietrich, Wilson to Pitch Today in Boston Final

Bill Dietrich will pitch for the White Sox and Jack Wilson for the Red Sox in the final of the series starting at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Comiskey park.

Ted Lyons, whose right ankle was wrenched in a game in Cleveland Aug. 13, insists he'll be able to pitch tomorrow in the opener with the Philadelphia Athletics. Ted still is a bit gimpy, however.

Mike Tresh, victim of a football lunge by Bruce Campbell of the Indians, still has a very sore right shoulder and the date of his return to service is indefinite.

The next night game in Comiskey park will be played Monday against the Athletics.

M'NEILL, COOKE WIN AND BOOST OWN CUP HOPES

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25 (AP).—The Davis cup hopes of Don McNeill of Oklahoma City and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., apparently ruined by their national doubles failures, soared again today when they gained the final singles round of the Newport Casino tennis tournament.

Both were dropped from the international squad last week, but were given assurances that successful Casino campaigns would merit reinstatement. Both have been impressive here all week, and especially in today's semi-finals, in which McNeill eliminated unseeded Dave Freeman of Pasadena, Cal., 7-5, 6-2, 6-3, and Cooke triumphed over Bryan Grant of Atlanta, 6-0, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1, in a match interrupted by rain. Cooke needed but four points for a straight-set victory when the match was interrupted.

Freeman and Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., became doubles finalists by defeating Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta and Frank Guernsey, Orlando, Fla., 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4, but a second shower halted Cooke and Edward Alloo of Berkeley, Cal., as they led Grant and Hal Surface of Kansas City, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4, in the other semi-final. It will be completed tomorrow.

FLANAGAN AND PATNIK RETAIN SWIM TITLES

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 25 (AP).—One American record was equaled and two defending champions retained their titles today in the men's senior National Amateur Athletic union outdoor swimming meet.

The national mark was equaled by the Detroit Athletic club 300 meter medley relay team, composed of Taylor Drysdale, James Skinner, and William Prew. They covered the distance in 3 minutes 22.2 seconds to tie the 1936 mark of the same club.

Ralph Flanagan, Texas university student, won the one mile free style for the fifth consecutive year when he covered the distance in 21:00.7. The other defending champion to repeat was Al Patnik, Ohio State university's great diver, who won the three meter springboard event for the third straight year. Summaries:

MILE FREE STYLE—Won nby Ralph Flanagan, Austin, Tex.; second, James Tanaka, Honolulu; third, Carlos Rivas, Honolulu; fourth, Steve Wozniak, Buffalo, N. Y.; fifth, Henry Paris, San Francisco, Cal.; sixth, Elwood Woodling, Columbus, O. Time, 21:00.7.

220 YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Kiyoshi Nakoma, Maui, Hawaii; second, Takashi Hirose, Maui, Hawaii; third, Robert Pirie, Toronto, Can.; fourth, Otto Jaretz, Chicago; fifth, Paul Herron, Stockton, Cal.; sixth, William Neunsig, Maui, Hawaii. Time, 2:16.3.

300 METER MEDLEY RELAY—Won by Detroit Athletic club [Drysdale, Skinner, and Prew]; second, Medinah club, Chicago; third, Maui, Hawaii; fourth, University of Michigan No. 2; fifth, University of Michigan No. 1; sixth, Yale university. Time, 3:22.2 [equals American record set in 1936 by Detroit Athletic club team composed of Drysdale, Kay, and Gilhula].

Mike Abt Wins Two Mile Class A Bicycle Race

Mike Abt, unattached, won the two mile Class A bicycle event in the weekly C. Y. O. races in the Humboldt park bowl last night. Earl Kelly was second and Marvin Thompson third. The time was 4:39.4.

Dorothy Kirby, Betty Jameson Gain Golf Final

Darien, Conn., Aug. 25 (AP).—Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., sloshed over the Wee Burn club's broad fairways in impressive style today to reach the title round of the 43d national women's golf tournament.

Miss Kirby, practically read out of the meeting when she finished nine holes 3 down to Charlotte Glutting, switched from skirt to slacks at that point, found her game and finally won out on the 18th green, 1 up.

Miss Jameson, wrapped in a rain coat for all of her match, still was able to trim Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Cal., 3 and 1.

Tourney's Youngest Final.

Thus they brought about the youngest final in U. S. G. A. women's golf history. Miss Kirby is 19, Miss Jameson is 20. Tomorrow they will meet over 36 holes.

Both were favorites when they began play today, for Miss Glutting, 28 years old, is considered past her peak, and Miss Hicks, at 18, had reached match play in a national championship for the first time.

But no one ever looked less like a favorite than Miss Kirby for the first four holes. She lost all of them to Miss Glutting's one under par pace, then suddenly recovered. She threw in stymies to save halves on the fifth and seventh; won the sixth when Charlotte took seven shots to get home, and was 3 down at the turn.

Dorothy Comes Back.

She won the tenth, twelfth and fourteenth to Miss Glutting's victories on the eleventh and fifteenth, and was 2 down with three to go. Then came the turning point. At the sixteenth Miss Glutting got home in two.

Miss Kirby, on the other hand, bounced her second shot into the creek, only to have the ball ricochet onto the fringe of the green. Here Charlotte three putted, to be only 1 up with two to go. She lost the seventeenth when it took her three to get home, and then, steering her approach into a trap at the eighteenth, needed two to get out and conceded the hole and the match.

PROBABLE MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHERS IN TODAY'S GAMES

CALIFORNIAN WINS TITLE IN NEGROES' GOLF

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 25 (AP).—Cliff Strickland, Riverside, Cal., won the national Negro open golf championship today with a seventy-two hole score of 296. Strickland added a 75 to a 71—77—73 total and finished 9 strokes in front of Edison Marshall, Indianapolis, who had 225—80, and Erroll Strickland, Riverside, a cousin, who had 229—78 for 305. Other low scorers:

Hugh Smith, Atlanta, Ga., 306; John Roux, New Orleans, 307; Howard Wheeler, Atlanta, 1938 open champion, 308; A. D. Crosby, Columbus, O., 309; and Willie Hase and Pat Ball, Chicago, 310.

G. A. Price, Chicago, won the national Negro amateur championship, lifting the title from the 1938 winner, Dr. Remus Robinson, Detroit, 6 and 4, over the thirty-six hole route.

Houston Poloists Triumph to Gain Tournament Final

Led by Billy Dritt, who scored seven goals, the last of which proved the deciding point, the Huisaches from Houston, Tex., advanced to the finals of the 12 goal inter-circuit polo tournament by defeating the Pegasus club of Rockleigh, N. J., 11 to 10, yesterday at the Oak Brook Polo club.

The victory qualified the Huisaches for a meeting with Oak Brook, central champion, for the intercircuit title. The game will be played on the Oak Brook field at York road and Twenty-second street tomorrow afternoon.

Leading 5 to 1 at the end of the first period on two goals by handicap and three in a row by Dritt, the Huisaches were driven into a tie by Pegasus' brilliant uphill fight that produced a deadlock at 10 to 10 midway in the fifth chukker. Then came the winning goal by Dritt.

C. C. [Budy] Combs Jr. was outstanding for Pegasus, making all eight of his team's goals, the other two being awarded on fouls committed by the Huisaches near their own goal. Although not figuring in the point column, Cyril Harrison, six goal Pegasus player, turned in a sensational performance on defense and in feeding the ball to Combs. Lineups:

HUSIACHES [11].	PEGASUS [10].
Robert Farish .....No. 1.....	Delmar Carroll
William Dritt .....No. 2..	Clarence Combs Jr.
Harry Evinger ...No. 3.....	Cyril Harrison
Wm. Farish Jr. ...Back ..	Capt. Hugo Anson

Goals—Husiaches: Dritt [7], Evinger, W. Farish, by handicap [2]. Pegasus: Combs [8], by No. 1 penalty award [2].

GALENTO'S BOSS LEARNS HE CAN'T PICK A REFEREE

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP).—Tony Galento, New Jersey heavyweight, lost a quick decision today to Pennsylvania's athletic commission in his fight to rule out Arthur Donovan of New York as referee for his bout with Lou Nova Sept. 7.

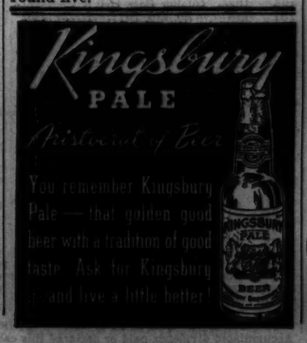
Chairman Leon L. Rains told Galento's manager, Joe Jacobs, the commission would select either Donovan or George Blake, California official, as provided by the contract. Ray Carlen, Nova's manager, had insisted on an outside referee because of Galento's popularity in Philadelphia.

Declaring he and Galento objected to the way Donovan handled and scored the Henry Armstrong-Lou Ambers fight in New York Tuesday night, Jacobs asked Rains "why couldn't we have Blake appointed right now if Ray Carlen agrees?"

"You signed an agreement calling for either Donovan or Blake," Rains told Jacobs, "and the commission is going to stick to that agreement. Donovan's still on the list, although that doesn't mean he's bound to be the man we appoint."

Boy Checker Wizard Is Put Out of National Meet

Flint, Mich., Aug. 25 (AP).—Milton Loew, 15 year old juvenile champion of New York City and a sensation in early rounds of the national checker tournament, was eliminated today as the original field of fifty players dwindled to twelve. Loew lost round four to L. M. Lewis of Kansas City, Kas., and round five to Harold Freyer of New York City. Asa Long, world champion, continued his progress toward the national title, defeating J. L. Bouldin of Keysville, Va., in round four and Eugene Winter of Chicago in round five.



Patsy Perroni Arrives for Wacker Fight

Patsy Perroni, Cleveland, O., heavyweight, arrived yesterday for a 10 round bout with Henry Wacker of Taylorville, Ill., in Marigold Gardens Monday. He was accompanied by Henry Andrews, his manager.

Supporting matches:

Leonard Bennett vs. Tito Taylor [5], welterweights.
Jimmy Denver vs. Al Tibbits [4], middleweights.
Sammy Steras vs. Kid Leva [4], featherweights.
Billy Nolan vs. Ralph Gizzy [4], welterweights.

Joe Triner, vice president of the National Boxing association and a member of the N. B. A. rating committee and the World Boxing federation, yesterday said he did not agree with Edward C. Foster, N. B. A. secretary, that Henry Armstrong lost both his lightweight and welterweight titles when defeated by Lou Ambers in New York Tuesday night.

TOUHY DEMOS WIN.

The Touhy Demos defeated the Witt Hanleys, 7 to 6, at St. Philip stadium last night to win the second half title in the Windy City Softball league. The Touhys will face the Rep. Petrones, who won the first half title, for the league championship.

HEY, SOUTHPAWS! LOOK WHO WINS TRAPSHOOT TITLE

Dwight Ritchie.

Vandalia, O., Aug. 25 (AP).—A left-handed storekeeper who loads his own practice shells today captured the highest honor in trapshooting — the 40th annual grand American handicap championship.

He is Dwight L. Ritchie of Goshen, O., who broke 99 of 100 from the 22-yard line to tie G. A. Wagner, Dayton, O. clerk and then went on to crack 22 of 25 in the shootoff.

With the $1,000 first prize, a diamond medal and some $2,300 in added money hanging in the balance, Ritchie missed the first, eighth and ninth targets of the shootoff. Wagner pumped straight through the first 13, but dropped four of the next five. The two turned in two of the worst shootoff scores in the Grand's 40-year history.

Ex-Champion Falters.

Ritchie succeeds O. W. [Ted] West, Coshocton, O., highway engineer, who dropped almost to the bottom of the all-star list today with 84 hits from the 23-yard line. Ritchie shot from 22 yards, and Wagner from 23.

Mrs. Roy Meadows of Des Moines, Ia., led the feminine contingent with 94, to replace Mrs. Ryba Peters of Springfield, O., as champion.

Ten former champions were in the field of 769 for the Grand National, but the best of them was six targets off the winning pace. No shooter ever has won it twice.

Charley Young of Springfield, Ill., who is near the 80-year mark, and who has been on crutches all week due to an injury, led the former champions with 93 of 100 from 23 yards.

Four Tie for Third.

Four marksmen tied at 98 behind the two leaders. They were Charles Ell of Springfield, O., Stan Meadows, former junior champion from Des Moines; Ray Fienup, 14-year-old sub-junior champion the last two years from St. Louis, and Phil Miller, 1937 national clay target champion, and this year's all-around champion, from French Lick, Ind.

Miller won the all-around championship with 880 of 900, the total including 600 targets at 16 yards, 100 doubles and 200 at handicaps.

Equitable Team Ties for Lead in Softball

Equitable Life's softball team tied the Fireman's Fund for the lead in the Insurance Softball league playoffs by defeating Ocean-Commercial Union, 8 to 2, in Grant park last night.

EARNINGS WITHOUT DIVIDENDS.

I own some 6 per cent $100 par cumulative preferred stock of New York and Richmond Gas company. They have passed all recent dividends, although they are earning them. What is the reason for this? What is the meaning of the word "cumulative"? Can a company ignore the cumulative feature on its stock?—W. F.

Answer: The situation created by a company regularly earning dividends on a cumulative preferred stock, but not paying them, is unusual. This is true of New York and Richmond Gas 6 per cent preferred. Failure to make recent payments, however, may result from a sharp drop in the company's surplus.

This drop may be attributed to the New York Public Service commission, which ordered that an adjustment of plant and other accounts be made. The commission charged that plants were valued too highly. As of Dec. 31, 1938, the company's plant account had accordingly been reduced to $6,136,493 from $6,811,179 a year earlier.

As a result of this write-down of plant and other accounts, it was also necessary to write-down surplus. The surplus at Dec. 31, 1938, was $353,062, against $1,142,220 a year earlier. This substantial reduction may be a major reason for the absence of dividend payments on the preferred.

The fact that the stock is "cumulative" means that dividends not paid accumulate, and must be completely paid off before any declarations can be made on the common stock. While a company cannot ignore this requirement, if accumulated dividends become too large stockholders may be asked to accept some sort of readjustment.

TO RETIRE BONDS.

I have been told that Loew's Theatre and Realty is going to retire its 6 per cent bonds due in 1947. If this is so can you tell me the date and price?—V. S.

Answer: Loew's Theatre and Realty 6s of 1947 are called at 102 on Sept. 15, 1939.

CENTRAL 3½s of '97.

I hold a New York Central and Hudson River 3½ per cent bond due in 1997. Do these bonds enjoy a good rating?—J. N.

Answer: While New York Central has had difficulty in meeting interest requirements over recent years, the Hudson River 3½s of '97, nevertheless, enjoy a good rating. They are assumed obligations of the New York Central, secured by a first mortgage on the main line between Buffalo and New York City. The trackage is highly important to the system.

Fixed charges were not fully earned last year, being earned only 0.59 times.

BRITISH POUND DIPS TO LOWEST LEVEL SINCE '33

Support Withdrawn by Government.

The British exchange equalization fund withdrew its support of the sterling-dollar exchange rate in international money markets yesterday. This was the third step taken by the English government to conserve financial resources in the face of threatened European hostilities.

The fund had kept the pound pegged at $4.68¾ throughout the year. When official support was withdrawn and the unit was permitted to seek its own level, trading came virtually to a halt in the London market. Then the pound dropped to $4.59, and touched $4.38, the lowest level in terms of the dollar since 1933. It closed in London at $4.42.

Consults United States.

Decision of the British government to withdraw its support was taken after consultation with the United States and France. The nations are signatories of the 1936 tripartite currency agreement, which prohibits competitive currency devaluations between the three countries.

Yesterday's move closely followed the doubling of its discount rate by the Bank of England and the establishment of minimum prices by the London stock exchange at which deals may be made in British government and other gilt edged securities.

French currency moved downward with the pound. At Paris, the franc fell in terms of the United States dollar, closing a the equivalent of 2.491 cents. This was 40.15 francs to the dollar and compared with the preceding day's close of 37.755 to the dollar. The French government, however, had not withdrawn its official support of the franc in relation to the American dollar.

Pound Loses 18 Cents.

At New York, the pound closed at $4.49½, down 18⅝ cents from the preceding day's close. At the opening of foreign exchange dealings the British unit had plunged 25¼ cents to $4.43.

The Canadian dollar closed at 99 cents, off ⅜ cent, after opening nominally at 99.50 cents. French francs declined 0.08⅜ cent to 2.58½ cents. Early quotations on the French unit showed a drop of 0.14⅞ cent. Belgian and Swiss currencies gained against the dollar at the finish. The Netherlands guilder was unchanged.

The slump of the pound was immediately reflected in the price of gold at London. Since the United States price for gold is fixed at $35 an ounce, the sudden spurt in the dollar-sterling rate boosted the sterling value of gold to an all-time high.

Because of the confused foreign exchange market, the gold price was fixed on a supply and demand basis. It bore no exact relationship to the dollar-sterling rate. Lowering the pound increased the sterling value of the Bank of England and exchange fund gold reserves. This would permit the Bank of England to increase its note issue as a war emergency measure.

Effect Measured.

Foreign exchange traders in London expressed the view that the fund's withdrawal of support from the pound would not flood world markets with goods in competition with American products. This opinion was supported in New York where experts said the wide drop in sterling would have been considered a grave measure under normal conditions. At present, however, England is geared to heavy armament production and is chiefly concerned with buying rather than selling in world markets, they added.

Withdrawal of support for the pound was described in New York as having been forced by large losses of the British monetary gold reserve. England shipped gold to this country to maintain the price of the pound. One source estimated that England has shipped gold totaling $2,700,000,000 to this country since the Munich crisis of September, 1938.

Likely to Cut Gold Shipments.

Shipments of gold from London to this country may be sharply reduced or terminated in view of yesterday's action, according to international bankers.

European securities markets held to a restricted level of trading yesterday. Dealings in London were through direct negotiation but quotations generally showed a firmer tendency.

Fall in British Money Clouds Dollar's Value

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt's dormant power over the value of the dollar came into the foreground today with British withdrawal of support for the pound sterling.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury John W. Hanes asserted there was no change in the tripartite monetary agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and France as a result of the British action. He said that this government had been notified in advance that it would happen.

Hanes further emphasized that any question of devaluing the dollar to conform with changes in the British currency, which broke upon the withdrawal of official support, had never entered his mind nor come up in official discussions.

Recall Warning to Britain.

However, it was recalled here that the British were threatened with another devaluation in the dollar last December when they secretly planned to let the pound sterling slip and take trade advantages. This threat by the United States is held by treasury officials to have prevented British withdrawal at that time.

The current situation, they say, is different—a temporary or emergency condition—and is not considered in the same light as competitive devaluation, a practice which the tripartite agreement was drawn up to prevent.

However, a steady decline in sterling over a prolonged period of time might call for another cut in the dollar's value to bring it into line with sterling and associated currencies. If the French franc were subjected to the same pressure as sterling and the French equalization fund were needed for other purposes, such as financing warfare, withdrawal of franc support could also be expected.

May End Monetary Pact.

This would definitly end the tripartite agreement and call for defensive action for the dollar.

The President still has the power to reduce the dollar from 59.06 to 50 per cent of its former value—or prior to the 41 per cent devaluation in January, 1934. The dollar is now equal to only 59.06 cents as compared with the old value. The maximum reduction of 15 per cent from the present value allowed the President by law would enable the treasury to take another "profit" through revaluation of its gold holdings. On the more than 16½ billion dollars in gold now held the "profit" would amount to about 2½ billion dollars.

When the dollar was cut in 1934 the treasury chalked up a profit of 2 billion 800 milion dollars. It used 2 billion of this amount to establish the exchange stabilization fund.

Reports received by the treasury indicated that the French had not dropped official support for the franc and were apparently operating in the market. Officials pointed out, however, that the franc has not been under as heavy a pressure as the pound.

BASTIAN BOARD RAISES COMMON STOCK DIVIDEND

Directors of the Bastian-Blessing company yesterday declared a dividend of 60 cents on the common stock, payable Oct. 1 to holders of record Sept. 1. Previous payments this year were 40 cents on July 1, and 25 cents each on April 1 and Jan. 3. In 1938 a total of $1.25 was paid on the common stock.

The company announced that another directors' meeting had been called for Oct. 25, when consideration would be given to a year-end dividend. The firm's fiscal year ends Nov. 30.

Employes of Int. Harvester Deny C. I. O. Labor Charges

A national labor relations board hearing on charges of violation of the labor relations act against the International Harvester company continued yesterday with the examination of fourteen employés of the company's McCormick works. All denied knowledge of illegal independent union activities at the works, as alleged in previous hearings by witnesses for the C. I. O. Locals affiliated with the C. I. O. in six of the company's plants charged early this year that the company fostered independent unions in the plants and discriminated against the C. I. O. unions. The hearing will be resumed today.

Chicago Firms Awarded Addison Street Paving Job

Contracts for paving Addison street between Cicero avenue and Elston avenue, a distance of 1.72 miles, were signed in Springfield yesterday by F. Lynden Smith, director of the state department of public works and buildings. The work, to cost $266,697, will be shared by the Rock Road Construction company and the Standard Paving company, both of Chicago. The project, part of state highway No. 63, calls for an asphalt surfacing forty feet wide.

More Storage Bins Sought in Corn Program

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—The department of agriculture today called for bids on 13,750 steel bins to store corn expected to be turned over to the government by farmers in settlement of their loans. These bins will have a storage capacity of 25 million bushels and will be in addition to the 25,500 bins for which contracts were awarded on Aug. 10, and 320 bins awarded by contract last Tuesday. The latter award went to the Beatrice Steel Tank company of Beatrice, Neb.

It was also announced that specifications are being drawn and bids on several thousand wood bins probably will be asked in the near future.

The awards made to date will provide a total storage capacity of 43,923,480 bushels of shelled corn. The bins are being bought to provide storage at country points for corn delivered in settlement of loans which were made by the Commodity Credit corporation at the rate of 57 cents a bushel.

Extension Offer Made.

The loans covered 257 million bushels of 1937 and 1938 corn and matured on Aug. 1, but the department arranged to extend them for another 12 months and pay 7 cents a bushel for storage if farmers will retain the corn and not deliver it to the government.

Early indications have been, however, that most farmers will release the corn to wipe out their indebtedness. Agricultural officials are making every effort to persuade farmers to renew their loans and retain title to the loan corn, either on their farms or in local elevators, but the order for additional bins is said to indicate that the campaign of the agricultural department is meeting with little success.

The first of the bins are scheduled to be delivered in McLean county, Ill., near Bloomington, and Webster county, Ia., near Fort Dodge, on Aug. 30. The resealing program is now under way in all corn belt states. Advices from McLean county are that farmers there plan to turn over three-fourths of the corn under loan to the government.

Expect Half to Be Turned in.

The government has announced its intention of buying enough bins to store the amount of corn turned in, with officials expressing the belief that not more than half of the corn under loan will be given the government. They hope it will not run more than 100 or 125 million bushels on the basis of last year's resealing program.

The bids requested today specify that delivery shall be made by Oct. 10 of 5,000 bins with capacity of approximately 1,500 bushels each, and 8,750 bins of approximately 2,000 bushel capacity. The bids will be opened on Aug. 30 but officials indicated that awards might not be made until further information is available on the amount of corn to be delivered. A questionnaire has been distributed for this purpose.

First One for Fort Dodge.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 25 [Special].—Three steel government corn bins will be delivered in Iowa next week by the Butler Manufacturing company, Galesburg, Ill., according to an announcement today by H. L. Dieterich of the Iowa Agricultural Conservation committee. The first will be installed Wednesday at Fort Dodge, Ia., in the heart of the state's richest corn producing area. The second will be set up at Newton, Ia., 30 miles east of Des Moines, on Thursday, and the third will be delivered at Cedar Rapids in eastern Iowa on Friday. Dieterich said that between sixty and seventy-five orders had been placed for bins in Iowa.

Jewel Tea Sales Advance 4.35 Per Cent in 4 Weeks

Jewel Tea Company, Inc., yesterday reported an increase of 4.35 per cent over 1938 in sales for the four weeks ended Aug. 12. The total was $1,840,314, compared with $1,763,579 a year earlier. Sales for the first thirty-two weeks of 1939 amounted to $14,881,677, an increase of 2.4 per cent over the $14,532,467 in the corresponding period of 1938.

New York Bank Clearings Fall to Below 3 Billions

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—Bank clearings for the week ended today were $2,754,626,014 against $3,203,526,026 for the week ended Aug. 18, the New York Clearing House reported.

WAR INSURANCE RATE DOUBLED ON GERMAN AND ITALIAN VESSELS

New York, Aug. 25 (AP).—American marine insurance underwriters today doubled war risk rates for shipments by German and Italian vessels to and from Germany and Italy. It was the second drastic increase in rates in two days.

Shipments on German and Italian vessels across the Atlantic to those two countries were raised to 10 per cent of the value of the cargo from 5 per cent. The rate on shipments from those countries, under the same conditions, was raised to 5 per cent from 2 per cent.

The rate on shipments to those countries in the vessels of other nations was set at 2 per cent and from them at 8 per cent. No increase was made on the war risk rates on shipments to and from Great Britain and France.

MIDWEST STORE SALES GAIN 6.8% OVER YEAR AGO

Department store sales in the 7th federal reserve [Chicago] district increased 6.8 per cent over 1938 in the week ended Aug. 19, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Sales for the four weeks ended Aug. 19 were 6.1 per cent larger than in the corresponding 1938 period. Sales of stores in Chicago proper were up 7.4 per cent in the latest week, and scored a gain of 5.5 per cent in the four week period.

Department store sales in all twelve federal reserve districts increased 6 per cent over last year in the week ended last Saturday. All districts except the San Francisco area participated in the increase, Atlanta leading with a gain of 14 per cent. In the four weeks ended Aug. 19, the nation's sales increased 5 per cent over the comparable weeks of 1938.

Within the 7th district, Detroit stores led with an increase of 11.6 per cent in the latest week. Milwaukee sales climbed 7.9 per cent.

BUTTER FUTURES DECLINE AS WAR TENSION EASES

November butter futures declined 0.20 cent a pound yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, closing at 23.55 cents. During the trading session the tension in Europe appeared to be easing somewhat and selling entered the market as a result.

The Dairy Products Marketing association bought 417,820 pounds of cash butter, but many private dealers were unwilling to sell at prices as low as the DPMA paid.

October egg futures sank 0.30 cent a dozen under persistent selling despite the steadiness of cash market values.

Lloyd S. Tenny, business manager of the exchange, announced that trading will begin Sept. 5 in Idaho Russet potatoes for January delivery, and in Round Whites, Green Mountain type from Maine, for November and January delivery.

New Models Boost Week's Output of Automobiles

Automobile output of domestic and Canadian factories progressed this week along an advancing seasonal path, Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., reported yesterday. With production of new models beginning, 17,465 units were assembled this week, compared with 12,955 last week, the low point of the seasonal downturn, and 18,700 last year.

German Wheat Harvest Near Record of Last Year

BERLIN, Aug. 25 [Special].—Germany's wheat harvest this year should approximate last year's record crop on the basis of the early August estimate, according to a semi-official news agency report. Approximately 26,900,000 tons are expected. This harvest, it is said, should be adequate for current needs and allow for additions to the reich's reserves.

Foreign Trade of Nation Dips but Tops 1938

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25 [Special].—United States foreign trade declined in July from the June level, but exceeded the volume of July, 1938, the department of commerce reported today.

American exporters shipped abroad goods valued at $229,628,000 last month, compared with $236,059,000 in June and $227,535,000 in July, 1938. July imports amounted to $168,925,000, against $178,921,000 in the preceding month and $140,809,000 a year ago.

Exports during the first seven months of 1939 totaled $1,645,465,000, exceeding the imports of $1,263,441,000 by $382,024,000. Because imports this year have been larger and exports slightly smaller, the department said, the excess of exports was somewhat more than half the $716,559,000 during the comparable period last year.

Grain Exports Smaller.

The decline in exports during the seven months has been due chiefly to smaller shipments of grain, cotton, and tobacco.

July imports of gold totaled $278,645,000, compared with $63,880,000 last year. Imports of silver aggregated $5,531,000, against $18,326,000. Metal exports included $9,000 of gold and $640,000 of silver.

Wheat exports in July totaled 2,977,000 bushels, and in the seven months totaled 50,990,000 bushels, compared with 10,844,000 and 61,171,000 bushels, respectively, a year ago.

Raw cotton exports totaled 68,841,000 pounds in July and 821,129,000 pounds in the seven months. This compared with 115,883,000 pounds in July, 1938, and 1,372,989,000 pounds in the seven months of 1938.

Less Tobacco Shipped.

Shipments of raw tobacco aggregated 22,612,000 pounds last month and 114,628,000 pounds in the first seven months, against 13,467,000 and 202,076,000 pounds, respectively, a year ago.

Exports of meat products totaled 22,612,000 pounds in July and 114,628,000 pounds in the seven months. This compared with 14,626,000 pounds in July last year and 90,828,00 pounds in the first seven months of 1938.

Exports of corn amounted to 562,000 bushels in July and 17,239,000 bushels in the seven months, compared with 15,631,000 bushels in July, 1938, and 113,245,000 bushels in the first seven months of last year.

Lard shipments aggregated 25,339,000 pounds in July and 166,016,000 pounds in the first seven months of the year. This compared with 12,881,000 pounds in July, 1938, and 118,692,000 pounds in the first seven months last year.

Cotton imports totaled 10,424,000 pounds in July and 58,722,000 pounds in the first seven months of the year. This compared with 14,303,000 in July, 1938, and 65,883,000 in the first seven months last year.

July imports of meat products were 14,599,000 pounds, against 13,779,000 pounds in July, 1938.

TAX COLLECTOR BACK; IT'S SAD VACATION NEWS

The tax collector will come back to work in September, after having practically gone on vacation in August. While the Illinois state retailers' tax, which is collected monthly, was the only tax payment in August, there are three payments in September.

The second instalment of real estate taxes for Cook county and for the state [except Cook county] are both due on Sept. 1. Besides the retailers' occupation tax, the third instalment on the federal income and excess profits tax is due on Sept. 15.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON REVIVAL OF HOPE FOR PEACE

Speculators Unload Holdings Steadily.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yesterday.	Thursday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .68½	$ .69⅞	$ .62¼
Corn	.43¾	.45¼	.52
Oats	.29½	.30	.23⅜
Rye	.40¼	.41⅝	.41⅞
Soy beans	.69¼	.71½	.76¾

Wheat futures, which had climbed precipitately on growing threats of war in Europe, fell back sharply in North American markets yesterday on selling induced by the reported overtures toward peace.

Traders and speculators who had expected wheat to be in heavy demand to feed marching armies sold their holdings steadily when it appeared less likely that these demands would materialize, at least for the present.

Prices fell more than 2 cents a bushel from their high points on the Chicago Board of Trade, and closed with net losses ranging from 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents. In Winnipeg wheat futures were 3⅜ to 3¾ cents below Thursday's final rates.

Liverpool Wheat Prices.

Although Liverpool wheat prices were higher in terms of English money, the advance there did not compensate for the drastic decline in sterling exchange. The close was ⅜ to 2¼ cents lower in terms of United States currency. A lower rate of exchange at Buenos Aires brought net declines of 3⅛ cents in wheat futures in that market.

Trading continued heavy, but brokers said the volume of transactions did not equal that of Thursday, when 66,867,000 bushels of wheat, the largest volume since the Munich crisis of last September, were sold on the Chicago market. The official figure will be available today. Thursday's heavy trading kept clerks of the board of trade clearing house at work until 4:30 a. m. yesterday morning.

Other Grains Decline.

Influenced by the action of wheat, other grains were sold in large volume. Corn closed with losses of 1½ to 1⅝ cents; oats declined ½ to ¾ cent, and soy beans receded 2¼ to 2⅝ cents.

The Canadian wheat board was said to be offering cash wheat on a small scale, but made no commitments in the futures. Previously the board had limited sales to nations of the British empire as a means of conserving supplies in the event of hostilities.

The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, an agency of the United States government, did not offer any wheat abroad yesterday or the day before.

JOBS AND WAGES SAG LESS THAN USUAL IN STATE

Employment and pay rolls in Illinois declined from June to July in a regular seasonal downward trend this year, but the drop was less than normal for the period, Martin P. Durkin, director of the state department of labor, disclosed yesterday.

In the 7th federal reserve district, which includes Iowa and parts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, the July pay roll and employment decreases were larger than usual for this period, however. This was largely due to strike interferences in the automobile industry, according to George J. Schaller, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Reports from 6,849 manufacturing and nonmanufacturing establishments in Illinois, employing 592,225 workers, Durkin said, revealed a drop of one-tenth of 1 per cent in employment and one-half of 1 per cent in pay rolls.

Notice of Redemption

TO THE HOLDERS OF:

Iowa Public Service Company

First Mortgage Gold Bonds 5% Series due 1957;

First Mortgage Gold Bonds 5½% Series due 1959;

N. B. Bondholders may, at their option, surrender any of the Bonds described in the foregoing notice, with all unmatured interest coupons attached, at any time prior to the redemption date, at the place and in the manner above set forth, and receive the full redemption price of such Bonds together with accrued interest to September 11, 1939.

Federal Bonds Decline After Market Closes

New York, Aug. 25 [Special].—United States government bonds, after a nervous day of erratic fluctuations, moved lower in over-the-counter trading after the close of the New York bond market today. Losses of as much as ½ point from closing prices on the exchange were reported in the open market.

Price movements in treasuries were extremely irregular. The market sold off during the morning to new lows for the current decline, rallied strongly on peace rumors in afternoon dealings, and then began to slip again after the exchange closed.

Final prices on the listed market showed gains ranging from ½ to ⅞ of a point, compared with losses of 1-32 to 17-32 point. In the morning some treasuries had fallen as much as 1¾ points from the previous close.

Banks Continue to Sell.

Dealers reported that banks were continuing to liquidate, and that every now and then a little insurance company buying would enter the market. The buyers were extremely wary, however, and showed little disposition to bid up prices.

After the market's close, dealers were wondering how the government intended to conduct its September financing. It is understood that the treasury had intended to raise $500,000,000 in September, but dealers feel that the current state of the bond market may preclude any such issue.

The drop in United States bonds, which has been most pronounced this week, has carried some issues down $20 to $30 a $1,000 par value bond from record levels of a few weeks ago. Governments are still selling at substantial premiums over par, however.

Not All Loss Due to Crisis.

Not all of this loss is attributed by bond market experts to the war scare. Some dealers feel that the government bond market has been "top-heavy" for some time. They think that this week's price readjustment was inevitable, regardless of a war scare.

Much of this week's selling has been in large blocks and has come from banks. New York banks are reported to have liquidated heavily. Dealers say that banks are desirous of taking advantage of any change in money rates likely to develop from war.

In the foreign section Italian and Belgian loans were conspicuous on the afternoon peace rally. Some issues of these countries overcame wide losses to close fractionally to around 1½ points higher. Bonds of Poland and Australia improved slightly, but finished with losses.

The last hour upturn on the exchange changed a substantial number of minus signs to gains before the close in the corporate group. Bonds carrying conversion features were specially strong with an advancing stock market.

TRADERS GROUP NAMES WELCH VICE PRESIDENT

Edward H. Welch of McGuire, Welch & Co., Chicago, was elected secretary of the National Security Traders' association yesterday at the conclusion of the group's sixth annual convention in New York.

Edward D. Jones of St. Louis was elected president to succeed Willis M. Summers. James J. Lynch of Boston and J. Earl Jardine Jr. or Los Angeles were named vice presidents, and Phillip J. Clark of Denver treasurer.

The convention voted to incorporate the association and instructed its municipal committee to work closely with the Investment Bankers' association.

Baltimore & Ohio to Build 180 Large Freight Cars

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad yesterday announced it will build 180 freight cars in its own shops. They will be the largest in operation on the road, and will be equipped with Evans automobile loading devices.

STOCKS RALLY AS EUROPE GETS 'DAY OF GRACE'

But Pace Slackens with Uncertainty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 25.—The stock market staged a sharp rally today as traders took advantage of Europe's "day of grace, brought about by Hitler's failure to send the German war machines rumbling into Poland. Although scattered selling near the close pared the day's best prices, standard issues posted gains ranging from fractions to more than two points, while "blue chips" advanced as much as five points.

Indicating to observers, however, that there still was considerable uncertainty in the financial district was the fact that volume shrank to only 693,374 shares. The volume on Thursday was 1,293,660 shares.

Parley's Revive Peace Hopes.

Contributing to the hope expressed in many quarters that war will be averted were reports of conferences between Hitler and Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, and President Roosevelt's remarks that he did not consider war near enough to summon a special session of congress.

Unconfirmed rumors that Poland and Germany were being urged by Italy and Russia to compose their differences peaceably also served to hearten traders, it was said.

The sharp drop in the British pound sterling after the British government had released its "peg" made for easier tendencies in early dealings. However, after prices had declined quietly to the lowest levels since mid-May, some urgent short covering and new buying brought about an abrupt reversal.

Chrysler Leads Advance.

Chrysler showed the way in the industrial section, jumping 2⅛ points in the most active dealings of the day. United States Steel, Bethlehem, United States Rubber, Goodyears, Texas Corporation, Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, and Phelps Dodge also were other leaders on the up side, showing gains of between 1 and 2 points.

Smaller gains were posted by Republic Steel, General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, and International Nickel.

Allied Chemical, up 2; du Pont, up 3½; American Telephone, up 4, and American Can, up 2¾, were among the best gainers of the day.

Aviation issues turned in an improved performance. Douglas, Sperry corporation, United Aircraft, and Glenn Martin each gained more than a point.

Rail Shares Also Higher.

Chesapeake and Ohio and Union Pacific stood out in the rail section, rising 2⅛ and 1½ points, respectively. New York Central worked fractionally higher on good buying. Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Illinois Central, and Great Northern preferred also contributed fractional advances.

Fractionally higher prices ruled in the utility section, with Columbia Gas and Electric, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Edison, Public Service of New Jersey, and Engineers Public Service showing the way.

Coast Market Marks Time.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 25 (AP).—Confused stock traders halted operations in the late market hours today as more ominous news came from Europe.

Virtually no trading took place on the San Francisco exchange after noon. Bids tended to recede a trifle from their levels at the time the New York market closed, but offers did not follow. Gains, all made in early trading, left Chrysler up nearly $3 and General Motors and General Electric up $1 to around $2.

EUROPEANS BUY BIG SUPPLIES OF WAR MATERIALS

Copper Sales Are Triple Thursday's Total.

Sales of copper yesterday were triple Thursday's total as nations involved in the European crisis made heavy demands upon sellers. Markets were thrown into confusion by the wild fluctuations of the British pound, and sales on a dollar basis ranged from 9.98 cents a pound to 10.70 cents, compared with 10.50 cents Thursday.

Germany was again in the market, taking 1,300 tons of copper from cartel interests. English interests bought 5,600 tons from the cartel to replenish supplies which large German purchases have depleted.

Poland Seeks 3,000 Tons.

Poland sought 3,000 tons of the important war metal in the American market, but it was not known whether a sale was made. Japan reentered the domestic market and bought about 1,500 tons.

Total sales by the foreign cartel amounted to 7,414 tons, against 2,494 tons Thursday. The total domestic market business was not known, but sales to Japan alone were nearly triple the previous day's 549 tons.

Britain's rubber supplies, vitally important in time of war, were estimated to have been reduced another 4,100 tons this week as abnormal demand drained supplies from warehouses. Last week supplies dropped 3,550 tons, leaving Britain with less than enough rubber for six months' normal peace time needs. Until export restrictions were placed on war staples, Germany was making large purchases of rubber in London.

Tin Prices Tumble.

In American markets tin was outstanding with New York futures crashing 0.55 to 1.95 cents a pound. Spot tin slumped 0.55 cent a pound. Copper futures were quiet, closing 0.02 cent a pound higher to 0.01 cent lower. Rubber futures lost 0.03 to 0.20 cent a pound, but spot rubber held unchanged.

Virtually all futures markets were disturbed by the European uncertainties and the movement of sterling. Substantial declines were recorded in cottonseed oil, cocoa, silk, coffee, wool tops, and world sugar contracts.

COTTON

Cotton prices in American markets fluctuated in an aimless manner yesterday and closed at net losses of .06 to .13 cent a pound. The market was dominated by news from abroad. Liverpool prices were sharply lower than expected, an upturn in the actual price being more than offset by a decline in the sterling exchange rate.

Announcement was made that the Liverpool Cotton association did not propose to close the market in event of hostilities unless there is a protracted bank moratorium.

Spot cotton closed .06 cent lower to .20 cent higher with New York, 9.11 cents; New Orleans, 8.96 cents; Galveston, 8.81 cents, and Houston, 8.85 cents a pound. Prices follow:

LIFE BEGINS
WHEN YOU MOVE TO PALOS HEIGHTS

Rated as Suburban Chicago's Most Interesting New Community.
Here you will see Chicagoland's
GREATEST HOME SHOW

Nearly 200 individual designs in every price range from $35 to $55 a month, occupied by high type AMERICAN FAMILIES.

452 HOMESITES SOLD!

The largest number of this price and character sold in any one development in or around Chicago today—WHY? Because careful comparison of values, restrictions, and surroundings have convinced these hundreds of families that nowhere else do they get so much for so little and that NOW is the time to buy land for that future home. The smallest site, 120x120, big as 4 city lots, can be yours for as little as $100 DOWN; $10 A MONTH

200 GARDENS

IN FULL BLOOM RIGHT NOW.
Live where you can SAVE while you PLAY, where your rent money pays for your home. SEE FOR YOURSELF.
Visit the family nearest the site where you would like to live. YOU be the judge. You can't be sure until you SEE PALOS HEIGHTS.
